MR. ROOSEVELT EMPHATIC ON FREIGHT RATES

President Replies to Protest from Railroad Employes.

DREAD LEGISLATION

Trainmen, However, Are Assured They Have Nothing to Fear from Proposed Law.

MAKE CALL AT WHITE HOUSE

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 16, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 14.

Organized railroad employes have lined up on the side of the railroad corporations in opposition to any action on the part of congress for government control of rates. This action was foreshadowed in a dispatch to The Gazette a few days ago, and today it was confirmed when a delegation representing the five great labor organizations among the railroad employes called at the White House.

"Rate regulation means rate reduction and rate reduction means a decrease in the wages of railroad employes and longer hours," was the substance of their argument. In reply President Roosevelt frankly told them that they were proceeding upon a wrong hypothesis. He maintained that rate regulation did not mean rate reduction and declared that there would be no sound reason for a reduction of wages as a result of the enactment of the law proposed.

The action of the railroad employes and the stand they have taken will not swerve the President from the course he has mapped out. His recommendations to congress will be the same as he had intended making before today's conference and he will use every influence he can command to bring about the passage of a rate regulation bill.

No Taint of Partisanship.

The delegation that called on the President today consisted of 45 men representing the Order of Railroad Conductors, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and the Switchmen's union. William Clark of the conductors was chairman and George Huntley, a conductor on the Lake Shore road, acted as spokesman. Mr. Huntley assured the President that no taint of partisanship or political coloring existed in any degree among the members of the delegation, this freedom from political bias forming "one of the fundamental principles in the railroad men's organizations represented." He did not mean, however, to convey the impression that the railroad men did not take a keen interest in all matters affecting the social economics of the country.

"To demonstrate this," he said, "we will recall the campaign of 1896, which presented the issue of the maintenance or rejection of the principle of protection to American labor. Then the railroad men expressed their convictions to such an extent that it was quite generally conceded that Mr. McKinley's election to the Presidency was due to the railroad vote of the country.

Fear Rate Legislation.

"One million and a quarter railway employes have noted with concern the tendency toward federal legislation on railroad rates. As there has appeared no hint that any general increase in the prevailing rates was contemplated we are forced to believe that the other alternative must follow, and a general reduction in the earning power of our railway lines would result."

The speaker declared with emphasis that railroad employes were satisfied that any legislation tending to reduce the earning capacity of railroad lines will, in the same measure, interfere with the prosperity and generally satisfactory conditions of the railroad employes. Mr. Huntley stated that it had come to be the attitude of the administration and of prominent Republicans generally that when a revision of the tariff is made the changes should be by its friends and

MURDER AND ARSON

City Is Pillaged and Set on Fire and Foreigners Flee to Ships.

POLES SHOT DOWN BY TROOPS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]
ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 14.—A state of war has been declared in Vladivostok. Private advices say that the Chinese quarter has been entirely destroyed and that the uprising is now under control.

The upheaval in Russia following the promulgation of the reform manifesto has reached Vladivostok and Yeniseisk and other extreme points of the empire. Confirmation has been obtained from various sources of the reported uprising at Vladivostok, where the condition of affairs is quite critical. Many persons have been killed and the foreigners have taken refuge on the ships in the harbor. Many public buildings, stores and houses have been pillaged and set fire to by the mob.

The American embassy has received from Consul Greener at Vladivostok details of the outbreak which began Sunday afternoon immediately after the departure of the Russian armored cruisers Gromoboi and Rossia. The people who had gathered in great crowds in the streets became excited by inflammatory speeches. Many soldiers and sailors were also in an angry mood, having expected to go home with the squadron.

Murder and Arson Began.

The mob began to break windows and pillage, and in the evening set fire to the theater, the Golden Horn hotel, to several blocks of Chinese buildings in the northern part of the city and to the officers' residences and other buildings in the eastern quarter. The fires burned all night. Seventy buildings were consumed. Troops were summoned to restore order and fired frequent volleys, killing many persons.

Just before the American consul telegraphed today the commandant of the fortress of Vladivostok, assisted by priests and the leaders of the workmen's organizations, addressed the mob, urging them to keep the peace, but the consul said he feared the attempt would be in vain.

Mr. Greener added that 24 merchant vessels in the harbor were now crowded with inhabitants. The consul was on board a steamer when he sent his dispatch, and he expects to remain there.

Creates Wild Excitement.

In spite of the complete embargo placed on all telegrams from Vladivostok, the news of the outbreak there became generally known throughout the city. Few details were available to the general public, and the city was filled with the wildest rumors as to what was occurring in the eastern fortress. One report circulated on the bourse today had the entire garrison and the sailors of all the ships in the harbor in mutiny. This, following on the heels of the mutiny at Cronstadt, contributed to the demoralization on the exchange.

While the information received goes to show that though order was today partly restored, a large part of the garrison stood firm and the crisis has not been passed. Fears are expressed in admiralty and general staff circles that mob violence has flared out again and that this will necessitate a further resort to armed force.

Martial law has been proclaimed and the authorities are confident of their ability to stamp out any disorders.

Peasants Lynch Theives.

WARSAW, Nov. 14.—At Pultusk the peasants organized for the purpose of driving out or lynching the thieves who took advantage of the present disturbances to loot and plunder. The lynchers killed 11 and fearfully mutilated 20 of the thieves. Several newspaper men were arrested in Warsaw this morning by the police, who searched their offices. Protestants against the declaration of martial law gathered at Lublin last night and were fired on by infantry. Nine persons were wounded.

ODESSA, Nov. 14.—Considerable unrest continues to pervade this city. Looting and attacks on individuals are reported to have occurred in various quarters. The

DAY'S PROBING OF INSURANCE BRINGS OUT STARTLING FACTS

H. C. Frick Accused by James Hyde of Ulterior Motives in Equitable.

LAYS SECRETS BARE

TICKLED WITH VAIN PROMISES

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]
NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—James Hazen Hyde, former vice president of the Equitable Life Assurance society, whose resignation followed the sensational disclosures in that company last spring which led to the investigation of insurance company methods by the Armstrong committee of the legislature; the man whose presence as a witness before this committee has been looked forward to in the expectation that it would produce the greatest sensation of the investigation, appeared before the committee today.

Mr. Hyde's manner on the stand was one of composure and deliberation, and his replies to questions from counsel were calm and deliberate and ofttimes studied. He was fortified with statements and data and was very frank in his explanations. Frequently he would become bitter in his reference to some of his associates, and while his entire testimony was of deep interest and cleared up many points that have heretofore remained in the dark, it was not until late in the day that the sensational features of his testimony were developed.

Mr. Frick Got Contributions.

Mr. Hyde was called to the stand shortly after the session opened this morning and he was under examination all day until a few minutes before adjournment was taken. In anticipation of his presence as a witness there was a greater crowd than has attended the sessions of the committee heretofore, and extra police were stationed in the corridors without the court rooms to keep order.

Mr. Hyde cleared up the matter of the $685,000 loan of the Mercantile Trust Company which appeared on the books of the Equitable Life under the caption of the "J. W. Alexander No. 8 account." This account has been under investigation on several previous occasions, but none of the witnesses heretofore examined has been able to explain it.

Mr. Hyde first heard of this account in the fall of 1902, when it was called to his attention by President Alexander, who said that he and Mr. Jordan had incurred the loan to take up stock that was being bid up to fictitious values, to the detriment of the company, to settle suits that were hampering the business of the society, and for campaign contributions. This contribution was the one to the last campaign and was asked by Mr. Frick, who suggested it for the benefit of the society. To procure this money, Mr. Alexander had Mr. Hyde write a letter to the president of the Mercantile Trust Company, and this letter practically placed him in the position of a guarantor.

Later, when the settlement of the loan was forced, Mr. Alexander and Mr. Jordan raised all they could toward it. The stock purchased with part of the loan was sold to Thomas F. Ryan for $212,000, and the balance, $212,500, Mr. Hyde paid personally. He did this because he understood Mr. Alexander was financially embarrassed, and in a bitter tone said:

Paid As Matter of Honor.

"Notwithstanding the strained relations with these two gentlemen (Alexander and Jordan), I felt bound to see that the debt was liquidated by reason of the letter Mr. Alexander extracted from me."

Mr. Hyde said that he first received a salary of $50,000, seven years ago. In 1902, when he became chairman of the finance committee, this was advanced to $75,000, and in 1903 it was advanced to $100,000, at which it remained until he resigned as vice president of the society.

Mr. Hyde presented a statement showing that in the seven years of his connection with the Equitable Life and the allied corporations his average income had been only a little more than $88,000 a year. This was figured as seven years' salary from the Equitable, amounting to $435,000, from which he deducted his loss in syndicate transactions, amounting to $28,615, and the $212,500 paid on the $685,000 loan, which left a balance of $193,884, or an average annual income of $27,697, to which he added the average income from his offices in the trust companies of $10,500. Witness said he presented this statement to show that he had been misrepresented.

He was asked to make an allotment of certain bonds of a syndicate to George H. Squires, trustee, but his curiosity was not aroused. He had since learned, however, that the account was maintained by Alexander and Jordan; that the profits therefrom might be applied to the paying off of the $685,000 loan.

Hyde Lost in Syndicates.

The instructions of Mr. Jordan to A. C. Fields, the "legislative generalissimo," as Mr. Hughes referred to him today, Mr. Hyde knew nothing about. He said he never consulted with Mr. Jordan about legislative matters and that none of the legislative measures affected him or his interests in any way.

The syndicate operations of J. H. Hyde and associates was gone into very thoroughly and it was shown that in 23 syndicates Mr. Hyde sustained personal losses of $28,615. Mr. Hyde ascribed the apportionment of the Equitable's allotment of bonds in syndicates to officers of the Equitable Life to the custom and usages of Wall street.

Of the formation of the J. H. Hyde and associates syndicate Mr. Hyde said Mr. Alexander suggested it for the convenience of bankers. He did not remember that any apportionment of an allotment to this syndicate had ever been made to individuals who were not officers of the Equitable Life. Mr. Alexander decided who should compose this syndicate and his decision was final.

Of the $50,000,000 Union Pacific pool, Mr.

PHILA. CO. DEAL MEANS ADDING MORE WATER

Details of Proposition to Form Holding Company Are Coming Out.

Further details of the proposed plan of forming a holding company to control the Philadelphia Company are coming to light and show that there will be involved the issuance of a large amount of additional securities, all based on the value of the properties owned by the big Pittsburgh public service monopoly.

This new company, according to the present plan, will offer for the common stock of the Philadelphia Company 75 per cent of the stock's par value in 5 per cent collateral trust bonds, the collateral being the Philadelphia Company stock itself. In addition to the bonds there will be offered 40 per cent of the par value of the Philadelphia Company stock in the stock of the new company. For each $50 share of the Philadelphia Company stock this would mean $57.50 par value of bonds and stock of the new company. In addition to this offer the holding company proposes to offer to take off the hands of such holders as desire it, the new stock of the holding company after three years at 90 per cent of its par value.

The plan is being managed by Ladenburg, Thalmann & Co. of New York, and is said to have the co-operation of the individuals and financial concerns of Philadelphia which are large holders of Philadelphia Company stock.

The proposition as advanced now was criticized yesterday among Pittsburg financiers as a distinctly "watering" proposition.

The pushing of this plan just at present is believed also to foreshadow projects inside the Philadelphia Company itself, involving the issuance of a considerable amount of additional stock. That this will be for extensions of the Pittsburgh Railways Company rather than for other parts of the company's properties is considered likely, inasmuch as the electric railway business throughout this section is growing rapidly.

It is claimed here also that the company is in such good shape that it would not need to be tied up in the plan proposed in order to find a market for additional stock for such purposes.

It seems certain that the outcome of the plan will be the removal of the control of the company more or less permanently from Pittsburgh. It is inevitable that the interests which dominate the new holding company will fill the majority of places on the board either by eastern men or by Pittsburghers who will follow the eastern interests' wishes.

This has been true to a limited extent for nearly two years, but the eastern element has not concerned itself with the details of management so closely heretofore.

RUSSIAN WORKMEN AGAIN PROPOSE REVOLUTION

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]
ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 14.—Russia is on the brink of another general strike. The council of workmen's delegates, in accordance with the program of the Social Democrats, announced in these dispatches yesterday, at a meeting tonight resolved to obtain a working day of eight hours, by revolutionary means if necessary. All employers are determined to oppose the demand and the situation is critical.

The universities of Russia will remain closed until January 28 and perhaps longer. At a conference of the rectors and professors of the various colleges and members of the cabinet, held today, it was decided that it would be useless to attempt to resume studies during the present agitation.

FOUR HUNDRED VILLAGERS ROBBED AND MURDERED

TIFLIS, Nov. 14.—It is reported that in the government of Erivan 700 Armenians from a number of villages attacked the Tartar village of Gors, killed 400 of the villagers and plundered and burned all property.

Lieut.-Col. Arthur Tremayne Dead.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—Lieut.-Col. Arthur Tremayne, one of the few remaining survivors of the "Charge of the Light Brigade" at Balaklava in which he was wounded and his horse shot, died at Cornwall today at the age of 78.

Cannot Give Children Away.

MADISON, WIS., Nov. 14.—The Wisconsin supreme court today held that in granting divorces judges cannot award children to outsiders, but must give the children to one parent or the other.

Three Pairs of Twins in One Family.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—Mr. and Mrs. John V. Cover of New Bedford, have just acquired twin boys. This is the third pair of twins in a family of nine children.

ALL BANKING BONDS ARE EXAMINED BY BOARD

Revenue Commissioners Meet and Consider Securities of State Depositories.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]
HARRISBURG, Nov. 14.—The board of revenue commissioners, composed of Secretary of the Commonwealth McAfee, Auditor General Snyder and State Treasurer Mathues, held a meeting at the state treasury tonight for the purpose of examining the bonds given by the state depositories. Attorney General Carson was present by invitation of the board.

After Mr. Mathues became state treasurer a new form of bond was adopted, and all the securities since given by the state depositories have been on this form. Many of the depositories have not changed the form of their bonds since obtaining their original state deposit and the board will take new bonds in place of the old ones, so as to make them uniform.

Members of the board are satisfied that all the bonds are ample to protect the state in case of the failure of any of the state depositories.

REMEMBERS VALLEY FORGE.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14.—(Special.)—Propped up in pillows at the Home for Aged and Infirm Colored Persons at Forty-fourth street and Girard avenue, Mary McDonald, smoking her pipe, celebrated her 134th birthday today. Sightless, toothless and so feeble that she had to be carried from her bed to her chair, she gave thanks to the Creator that she has been spared so long.

She was visited by many friends, many of whose ages ranged from 70 to 80 years, whom she regards as "giddy young things." She remembers distinctly the terrible sufferings of Washington's army at Valley Forge.

Evidently Caused by Hot Words.

BELLEFONTAINE, O., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—State Fire Marshal H. Davis has been called to investigate a mysterious fire which destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Easton last night. Mr. and Mrs. Easton had quarreled, it is said, and both left the house. A few hours later it was discovered in flames. Nothing was saved.

BANQUET THE KING OF GREECE

LONDON, Nov. 14.—A state banquet was given in Windsor castle tonight in honor of King George of Greece. It was attended by 150 distinguished persons, including Whitelaw Reid, the American ambassador, and Mrs. Reid, and other foreign ambassadors and ministers.

The banquet differed little in detail from but equaled in brilliancy former banquets in honor of visiting royalty held for over half a century in the same place. As is usual on these occasions the famous service of gold plate was used.

BURNED HIS BROTHER TO SPITE HIS MOTHER

CHILLICOTHE, O., Nov. 14.—David Gilwater, 13 years old, who was taken into custody today, following the death of his younger brother, who was burned to death, confessed that he had burned his brother to spite his mother. David said he set fire to his brother's clothing.

JUMPS AS HIS AUTO PLUNGES DOWN INTO PANTHER HOLLOW

Dr. George T. Gregg of the East End Has Sensational Ride in Schenley Park—Machine Is Burned by Explosion.

Dr. George T. Gregg, a well-known dentist of the East End, figured in a sensational automobile ride in Schenley park. The gasoline tank exploded and set fire to the carriage, Dr. Gregg jumped out just in time to save his life from a plunge of the machine down the long, steep embankment to the bottom of Panther hollow. The automobile struck a retaining wall 60 feet high at the bottom of the hollow, and there burned up in a few minutes.

The wreck of the once handsome and costly machine was found there yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock by Mounted Policeman Anthony Friess in making his rounds through the park. The policeman was considerably startled by the discovery and made a close examination of the vicinity, expected to find the mangled body of the occupant of the automobile. He reported the find to Superintendent of Parks George W. Burke and returned to the spot later in the day to make a further search.

There he met the owner of the automobile, Dr. Gregg, who explained how the accident had occurred, and requested that the wreckage should not be disturbed until the insurance adjusters had seen it. Dr. Gregg said he was taking a spin through the park Monday night at 8 o'clock, alone in his automobile, and was going along at a lively speed when the gasoline tank, which heats the steam boilers, exploded with a terrifying report. The doctor jumped as an engineer would jump from a locomotive, just as the machine gave a sudden turn and plunged down the hill in a blaze of fire. It struck the stone wall, held there and burned.

Hyde said, Mr. Harriman instituted it and explained it was to be a holding syndicate for five years. It was understood this was for the purpose of controlling the Union Pacific. Mr. Hyde signed the syndicate agreement at Mr. Harriman's suggestion and talked only with Mr. Harriman on the subject. The executive committee was not informed of this operation as Mr. Hyde said that Mr. Alexander did not think it necessary and that Mr. Harriman requested that the committee be not informed of it. He said that Mr. Harriman even refused to give a statement of the purposes of the pool to the superintendent of insurance when he was "clamoring for it" last spring.

Charges Against Odell.

Eclipsing all this sensational testimony, however, were the statements of Mr. Hyde concerning Former Governor Odell and Mr. Harriman relative to the settlement of the Shipbuilding company suit by the Mercantile Trust Company. Mr. Hyde said that Mr. Harriman came to him and advised the settlement of Odell's suit, as he feared that powerful influence at Albany should be invoked in retaliatory measures. Mr. Harriman suggested as one of these measures the revocation of the charter of the Mercantile Trust Company. Mr. Hyde knew of no actual steps that were taken, nor of any bill that was introduced but he was beset with rumors that such steps were about to be taken by legislation. The Equitable Life, he said, was not interested beyond the connection it had with the Mercantile Trust Company.

Mr. Hyde was under the impression that the Mercantile in settlement retained the bonds and paid Mr. Odell about $75,000. The original claim of Odell was about $150,000. The bonds subsequently netted about 50 cents on the dollar. Mr. Hyde said Mr. Harriman suggested the settlement of the suit, and that the counsel and members of the executive committee of the Mercantile Trust advised it and he recommended it.

Frick Wanted Him Away.

Charges of conspiracy to get him out of the country were made by Mr. Hyde against Henry C. Frick and E. H. Harriman, in connection with the reported aspirations of Mr. Hyde to become ambassador to France. He said he never suggested it himself, nor thought of it, though naturally he would have been pleased had he gotten it. Later Mr. Frick suggested the matter again. Mr. Hyde added in a sarcastic manner: "I think their reasons for taking this extraordinary interest in my absence from the country have become very obvious since then." Mr. Hyde was asked what he meant by that and he replied: "I think they thought they would acquit themselves of their friendly duty of stewardship with great profit to themselves." Mr. Hyde though Mr. Harriman would not have looked on it with great regret. Witness also solicited the support of Mr. Schiff last fall. Mr. Schiff promised to try to use his friendly offices. Witness said he went to Washington to the White House alone and that Mr. Harriman used his friendly offices in the matter. Mr. Schiff had some conversation with Mr. Bliss and without thought I wrote a letter to the White House. Senator Depew interested himself in a very general way, but Mr. Frick was the active agent. Again Mr. Hyde waxed bitter in his explanation of the extraordinary interest these gentlemen had in his absence from the country. He said he though their idea was "that they would acquit themselves of their friendly stewardship with great profit to themselves," and added that the nature of their interest had since become very obvious.

Mr. Frick's "Reign of Terror."

Mr. Hyde charged Mr. Frick with breach of faith in leading him to believe that the Frick committee was "friendly" to him and with doing all he could to dissuade witness from selling his stock, "at the same time," as Mr. Hyde said, "doing everything on that committee to knife me and destroy the value of the stock."

Explaining one of the reasons for his belief that the Frick committee was hostile to him, Mr. Hyde said: "Mr. Frick, who was chairman of the committee at the election in February, became a member of the executive committee and endeavored from the beginning to absolutely dominate the entire society and to inaugurate a reign of terror."

Mr. Hyde explained that he used "friendly" in the just sense of the word, and that if there was anything for which he could be criticised he was willing to take whatever criticism came. Mr. Hyde said he did not think the report was at all fair and that the committee posed as his friends while he was being attacked on the other side by Mr. Alexander and his friends under the sham of mutualization. Mr. Harriman, he said, asked him to move the adoption of the Frick report at the meeting of the board, but Mr. Hyde said he absolutely declined, as it was condemnatory of everything that had ever transpired in the society and he was advised by counsel that such a step would throw the Equitable Life into the hands of a receiver.

Mr. Hyde was excused until tomorrow when his examination will be resumed.

Odell Enters no Denial.

Ex-Gov. Benjamin B. Odell, Jr., dined at the Republican club tonight and then went to Newburgh. At the close he was asked about the statements made on the stand by James Hazen Hyde that he had been paid by the Mercantile Trust Company $75,000 to make up his shipbuilding losses.

Mr. Odell said he did not care to give any formal statement until he could prepare it carefully. When the reporters repeated to him Mr. Hyde's assertion that he received $75,000 because he might take away the charter of the Mercantile Trust Company, Mr. Odell replied:

"Well, they paid Kavanaugh, didn't they, and Mrs. Wood, and other shipbuilding bondholders? They paid me just like they paid others."

"Is it true, as Mr. Hyde testifies, that Mr. Harriman went to him and represented that you were a very powerful person and 'that the money ought to be paid to you for fear of retaliatory measures?'"

"Well, Mr. Harriman will answer that on the stand," said the former governor, and then he added, "But it's not true—they came to me, I did not go to them. I had sold my bonds long before this settlement, and, what is more, I sold them at 28, and you can figure out for yourself what I got for them. They cost me originally $100,000, and, to give you the exact sum that they brought me, I got $18,000 for them. That was long before I was paid this $75,000.

"I'm ready at any time to go on the stand and testify, and I'm ready now. I'll give the entire history of the transactions."

JUDGES MAY HOLD MEETING TODAY

Board of Assessment and Revision of Taxes Will Probably Be Named This Morning.

COOK TALKS WITH GOVERNOR

Some of the applicants for appointment on the board of assessment and revision of taxes expect the nine common pleas court judges to meet this morning and pick the three men. Judge Robert Fraser is still ill and the meeting will not be held if he is unable to go to the court house today.

The executive committee of the Allegheny Republican city committee will meet this afternoon to discuss candidates for the vacancy from the Second district in the house of representatives caused by the resignation of John Francies. Friends of Robert K. Cochrane are urging him to announce his candidacy, but he has not reached a decision.

Senator John M. Goehring of Allegheny, who is a strong advocate of annexation, is of the opinion the new Greater Pittsburgh legislation should not become effective until after the expiration of the terms of the mayors to be elected in Pittsburgh and Allegheny in February. This would prevent consolidation for three years. Mr. Gochring believes such a plan would remove all taint of politics from the proposition.

Representative L. B. Cook went to Harrisburg yesterday on legal business. He expects to confer with Gov. Pennypacker and secure his views on the annexation legislation. Mr. Cook fathered the bill which passed the last legislature and failed in the supreme court. He says great care should be exercised this time in the preparation of the measure.

A patent for the Citizens party name in Pittsburgh has been taken out for the February election. The signers of the affidavit are Mayor Hays, Director Clark, Senator Woods, H. A. Snively, John R. Brooks and Joseph I. McDonough.

John N. Dersam, a Republican select councilman in McKeesport, has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for mayor in that city. He has served eight terms in councils.

The returning board completed the count of the vote in all the cities of the county yesterday, and took up the boroughs. No totals were made and none will be made until the end of the count is reached. Only one election board, one from McKeesport, was sent for to separate the party vote of the candidates on more than one ticket. When the board adjourned yesterday the count of the votes of Brackenridge had been finished.

The Ingram Civic league last night discussed the Greater Pittsburgh question. There was a lack of definite knowledge on the points touching directly on the borough's interest, and Ira Gribben, M. J. McMahon and C. B. Redmond were appointed a committee to secure statistics. When this committee is ready to report a public meeting will be called by the league.

The present conditions in Ingram were discussed by the league. During the past year the population has increased by 500. All the principal streets have been paved, a complete sewer system has been built anad many of the narrow streets have been widened. Through the influence of the league most of the old fences have been removed, greatly adding to the appearance of the borough, and through prizes given by the organization for the best kept lawn and best display of flowers, a keen rivalry in these fields has grown up, to the great benefit of the borough.

COUNT WITTE IN A WORSE TANGLE

(Copyright, 1905, by New York Herald Co.)

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 14.—Count Witte's position has grown worse, owing to his bureaucratic nominations and delays. An ominous protest of that powerful league, the Union of Unions, against the ferocity of the ultimatum to the Poles is a significant feature today.

The Journals Russ and Birschewya have also made a fierce attack on the ukase concerning Poland. As the latter is supposed to be Count Witte's organ, this is regarded as shoving the probability that the action regarding Poland was taken over his head.

Wild rumors are flying about as to the reason for all this, it being known that a few days ago autonomy was as good as agreed upon. One of the rumors is to the effect that the kaiser has undertaken to pacify Poland forcibly on condition that Germany is allowed to occupy it for 10 years.

One hundred and fifty sailors, ringleaders in the recent mutiny, will be shot. Famine is raging in 23 provinces.

Organizing Bands of Thieves.

There has been little improvement in the agrarian situation in the central provinces. The peasants in many cases are fighting among themselves and organized bands are attacking villages of considerable size for the purpose of plundering them. Lieut.-Gen. Sakharoff, former minister of war, and Vice Admiral Doubasoff, chairman of the technical board of the admiralty, who have been appointed the emperor's representatives to restore order in the provinces of Saratoff and Chernigoff, started for their posts today.

M. Menshikoff says: "If Russia and Poland are not manly and wise enough to avert the calamity it is my deep conviction that we are on the eve of the most dreadful insurrection in Poland's history, and one which will be characterized by the most violent reprisals."

Can Initiate Legislation.

According to the project for the reorganization of the council of the empire that body will have the right to initiate legislation as well as to pass upon measures of the douma, the emperor to decide in case of a disagreement between the two legislative bodies. In addition to the elective representation of land owners, orthodox, non-conformist and non-Christian clergy and bourse committees already decided upon, the academy of science will be represented by two members and each university by a professor to be elected by the professorial council.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Daily Telegraph sends an interesting picture of Count Witte attending a council for many hours on Monday till long after midnight, his physician meanwhile waiting in an adjoining room to see him. Then, being afflicted with a severe headache and unable to sleep, the premier devoted the whole night to arrears of official work.

"My private opinion," says the correspondent, "is that unless the conditions change, Count Witte's marvelous staying powers will be subjected to a very dangerous strain."

SAYS 43 VILLAGES SUFFERED MASSACRE

Oscar Strauss Informs Local Jews That Tens of Thousands Were Outraged in Russia.

During a meeting of the local relief committee to aid the sufferers from the Jewish massacres in Russia, which was held in the home of Dr. Henry Finkelpearl in Fifth avenue last night, a communication was read which was received from Oscar Strauss of New York, president of the National Civic Federation, and chairman of the national relief committee. The letter told of horrible sufferings among the Jews in Russia, and is as follows:

In reply to your inquiries, I hasten to say we have reliable information that thus far there have been massacres of Jewish men, women and children in 41 cities, towns and villages. There are distant parts of Russia we have not heard from. It is impossible to form an estimate as to how many tens of thousands have been put to death, wounded, or have been despoiled of their all and are without shelter and food. The diabolical catastrophe is so great that no amount of money that can be collected in Europe and here can do more than give partial relief. The only aid we can give is in our effort to relieve the pressing necessities of the wounded and the scores of hunted and despoiled survivors.

We shall do our utmost to raise at least $1,000,000 in this country, and it is being transferred as fast as collected. The money is applied immediately with the help of the British consular officials, with the approval, and under the direction of the great philanthropist of Russia, Baron Horace Gunsburg.

By all means take immediate action—not for protest—that time is past and will not avail, but to collect funds for prompt relief. Pray, impress upon your community to be generous in this time of incomparable disaster, apparently the greatest and certainly the most diabolical that has fallen upon our people since the fall of Jerusalem.

A committee of 20 Hebrews was named to solicit funds. The committee follows: The Rev. Dr. J. Leonard Levy, Rabbis Michael Fried, M. S. Sivitz, A. A. Ashinski; A. C. Stein, Charles Sachs, M. L. Avner, Dr. Henry Finkelpearl, Henry Jackson, Abraham Lipman, B. White, Benjamin Finkelhorn, M. J. Gelb, Samuel Saul, I. Silverberg, J. Weisberg, Simon Rosenfeld, L. Frank and I. Davis.

At Caplan's baker shop in the hill district the workmen have contributed one day's wages to the fund. Sixty men are employed and the sum raised amounted to nearly $150. Hebrew landlords in the hill district have promised the committee that they will contribute 10 per cent of the rentals for November. Lodges have commenced making contributions. During luncheon at a downtown hotel yesterday $196 was raised at one table.

Tonight the Hebrew residents of Penn avenue will hold a meeting in Arnfeld hall for the purpose of increasing the fund. Several prominent speakers will be in attendance.

FIST DEBATE BY TWO COUNCILMEN

MEMBER TAKES UP CHALLENGE

The question of whether the new Municipal building should have one or two stories caused a personal encounter between two councilmen of Millvale borough last night during the proceedings of council. A fist fight was averted by the interference of other members in the midst of a sensational uproar.

The participants in the quarrel were E. B. W. Pfischner and John Steuler. The men were seated at opposite ends of a long table, when Steuler said something in an undertone about Pfischner, who had just finished a speech. Pfischner declared he had been called a vile name and started around the table for Steuler, inviting Steuler to step out that he might take satisfaction for the alleged insult with his fists. Steuler jumped to his feet to accept the challenge, when the other members rushed in and separated the belligerents. Chairman T. H. McCutcheon restored order by forbidding further discussion of the Municipal building question.

The proposed new Municipal building, which is to replace the old and unsanitary fire engine house and borough lockup, cannot now be built until a new council is elected in February. The entire borough is interested in the building, and this question will be an issue in the coming election, when an almost entirely new council will be elected, as eight of the nine councilmen lose their seats at the end of the year.

The council a month ago approved plans for a one-story building. Later a movement was started for a two-story building, but the opposition is so strong as to prevent the adoption of a resolution for the advertising for bids for the erection of the building.

Has New Roomer Arrested.

Charles Valentine of 2527 Penn avenue was fined $25 and costs or 30 days in the workhouse yesterday morning on a charge of being a suspicious person. Mrs. A. C. Sprague of 2518 Penn avenue alleges he rented a room from her and was discovered walking out shortly after with a parcel under his arm. She says she took it away from him and found it contained clothing belonging to other roomers.

HEARST'S WAR ON TAMMANY OPENS

MUST MAKE FIGURES AGREE

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Nov. 14.

Hostilities in the contest over the election of Mayor McClellan were begun in earnest this afternoon. The opening gun was fired when Austen G. Fox, representing William R. Hearst, obtained from Judge Amend, of the supreme court, an order requiring the board of canvassers of Manhattan to inspect the tally sheets of all the election districts and to make the official returns correspond with them.

Application in court was made by Mr. Fox only after he had asked the chairman of the canvassing board to compare the tally sheets and the official returns, and had been told that this would not be done except by order of court. An appeal was also made to the county clerk to surrender the tally sheets to the board of canvassers, and he asserted that he would decline to do so unless ordered by the court.

Coincident with Mr. Fox's in court, an order was issued by Judge Dickey in Brooklyn requiring the board of canvassers in Queens to show cause why it should not compare the tally sheets with the official returns. This order is returnable at noon tomorrow.

Lawyers in charge of the criminal branch of the crusade against the alleged ballot frauds declared tonight that they were on the trail of the so-called "man higher up" and expected soon to bring about his arrest.

In granting his order Judge Dickey made a significant utterance. After he had listened to arguments by Herbert R. Limburger, counsel for Mr. Hearst, he signed the papers and said:

"The court will grant any reasonable request in order to give your clients an opportunity to recover the offices if they really were stolen from them. This court happens to know something about election proceedings in Queens."

It was Judge Dickey who, two years ago, directed the ballot box in the Twentieth election district in the first assembly district in Long Island City to be opened after affidavits had been made by 20 men that they voted the straight Republican ticket, notwithstanding that the count showed only six Republican votes. Referring to that case, Judge Dickey said:

"The court hopes that the count this year will prove more correct than that of two years ago."

Reports from 21 districts in Queens were canvassed today. The net result showed a gain of one vote for Mr. Ivins and ten for Mr. Hearst. Surprise was caused in Queens when the envelope supposed to contain the returns from the 52nd election district of the first assembly district was found unsealed and empty.

new prefect up to the present time has not taken any drastic measures, and consequently the people fear to leave their homes after nightfall. The theaters are open, but deserted. The university opened today. A number of policemen have resigned, and it is openly asserted that they secured sufficient plunder during the disturbances to make them independent.

News has reached here of fresh disorders in the small town of Krivorog, in the government of Ekaterinoslav, in which over 100 persons were killed, and the town was sacked and half burned. Three influential Jews left Odessa for St. Petersburg today to present to the council of ministers a full account of the outbreak at Odessa, supported by documentary evidence.

To Provide Refuge for Jews.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—A conference, attended by prominent Jews of England, Paris, Berlin and St. Petersburg, which was held here today under the presidency of Lord Rothschilds, resolved to send an influential traveling commission to Russia to visit all places where Jews were reported to have suffered during the disturbances. This commission will report to the central bureau established at Berlin, where all the statistics will be collected. The moneys needed will be forwarded from the banking house of the Messrs. Rothschilds.

The archbishop of Canterbury and the bishop of Southwark have written to Chief Rabbi Adler expressing their horror at the outrages on the Jews in Russia and offering their sympathy. The archbishop of Canterbury says he has been in correspondence with Antonius, the metropolitan of St. Petersburg, in the hope that he and the metropolitan would be able to co-operate on some means for the prevention of such outrages and for the relief of the sufferers. At a mass meeting of the Jews of the Whitechapel, held tonight, there was a repetition of the scenes witnessed at other like meetings in various parts of London. Sir Robert Threshie Reid, former attorney general, who presided, expressed the sympathy of all Christians with the persecuted Jews in Russia and said:

"If I had one drop of Jewish blood in my veins I would not rest until I founded a city of refuge in which the men and women of your race could find shelter from destruction."

Israel Zangwill, who made an impassioned speech, introduced a resolution which was passed unanimously, expressing indignation and horror at the outrages. The resolution declared that the establishment of an autonomous Jewish colony for the gradual reception of oppressed Jews was the only solution of the Russo-Jewish question. A letter was read from Joseph Chamberlain approving the scheme for the establishment of Jewish colonies under the British flag.

Another Appeal to President.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—A petition asking President Roosevelt to use his influence to stop the atrocities in Russia, even though there is no diplomatic precedent for his interference, was adopted today by the New York board of aldermen. It reads:

"Whereas, For many weeks past daily reports have been received of appalling atrocities inflicted on the Hebrews in many parts of Russia, by which thousands of all ages have been and are being murdered, tortured, robbed of their all, innocent victims of an ignorant and superstitious peasantry whose crimes are condoned and even encouraged by the authorities who should preserve order; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That his board of aldermen desires to express its detestation of the medieval savageries; and, be it further

"Resolved, That a copy of the resolutions be transmitted to the President of the United States, so pre-eminently distinguished as a successful apostle of peace, praying him to exert his wonderful influence, even though unwarranted by diplomatic precedent, in every possible way, to cause a cessation of those abominable atrocities which are a shock to humanity and civilization."

A cablegram from Kishineff describing the misery in that section of Russia was received today by the State bank here. It read:

"Colossal distress. Outside of Kishineff hundreds of village Jews ruined. In the town of Kolarassoh, with large commercial interests near Kishineff, 500 houses burned down, 809 families reduced to poverty, 8,000 roubles loss. Help absolutely necessary."

The telegram was sent by Parinuttier & Klugman, Kishineff bankers, and was a reply to an inquiry about conditions in Russia sent by Arnold Kahn, vice president of the State bank.

LEMBERG, AUSTRIA, Nov. 14.—A report that Germany, in the event of a revolution in Russian Poland, intended to assist Russia to suppress it, led to serious street riots tonight, in which several students and policemen were wounded. A thousand Polish students, after holding a meeting of protest, proceeded with flags and torches to make a demonstration against the German and Russian consulates. The police attempted to prevent the students carrying out their program and this led to vigorous fighting, the demonstrators stoning and using their revolvers on the police. The rioters, however, were finally overpowered by force of arms. The consulates are strongly guarded, as the students threaten to renew the demonstration. Count Potocki, the governor of Galicia, late tonight visited the two consulates and expressed his regret at the incident.

CHERNIGOFF, RUSSIA, Nov. 14.—While peasants were engaged in burning the farm buildings of a Cossack land owner near the village of Ledneff today, they were surprised by mounted infantry who fired on them, killing or wounding many. There have been a number of minor combats, attended by fatalities, between marauders who came from a distance, and the peasants in this neighborhood.

ROOSEVELT EMPHATIC

not by its enemies. "We suggest," said Mr. Huntley, "that a similar course be followed in railway rate legislation."

He argued that there had been a steady decrease in railway freight rates for many years, and that in spite of this reduction the consumers of the country were paying more for their bread and meat now than when the rate was twice as much per ton as at present. He wound up by expressing the hope that there would be no national legislation that would interfere with or interrupt the prosperous condition of the railroads and of their employes.

President Roosevelt listened intently to what Mr. Huntley had to say and promised to give it consideration. But his reply, though brief and courteous, was quite emphatic and showed the visitors that he was fully convinced that the administration is proceeding on the right lines and that the employes of the railroads have nothing to fear from the legislation which it is proposed to enact. He impressed upon them that there was no intention of taking any radical action which would affect the earning powers of the railroads and give them the slightest excuse for making a reduction in wages.

The aggregate membership of the five orders represented in the delegation is more than 1,250,000 men. It is understood that these organizations have taken the stand they occupy on the rate question without any suggestion from the corporations employing them and that they fear the passage of a bill will do them injury. After calling at the White House today they issued a statement embodying their attitude towards the rate proposition as outlined above. Before leaving the city they will call on Senator Elkins, Speaker Cannon and other leaders in congress.

Fellow Roomers Took Things.

James Crowley and James Fitzgerald, who say they have no homes, were given a hearing yesterday by Alderman Frank J. Schellman on charges of larceny preferred by Charles Lynk of 3017 Laurel street, Allegheny. Lynk testified that the defendants slept in the same room with him Saturday night and the next morning went away before he awoke, taking with them his suit case, rain coat, a lot of shirts, a suit of clothes and a gold ring. All but the ring have been recovered.

Want to Know the Cost.

The borough engineers of Wilkinsburg will be in the council chambers November 23 and 24, and property owners have been notified to submit damages which they will claim for changes in grade crossings through the construction of subways and overhead crossings by the Pennsylvania railroad. Council at its next meeting will decide what part of the expense the borough should meet.

Will Vote on Bond Issue.

An ordinance authorizing an election Saturday, December 16, on the question of a $50,000 bond issue for a new school house was acted upon favorably by a special committee of the Swissvale council last night. It is proposed to erect the building at Milton and Charles streets on ground donated to the school board when Wilkins place was laid out.

CUBAN FLAG FURLED IN THE ISLE OF PINES

HAVANA, Nov. 14.—Residents of the Isle of Pines have issued a declaration of their independence from Cuba and organized a new government as a United States territory. A delegate to congress will be sent to Washington in order to have the questions affecting the future of the island discussed before the house of representatives, ignoring Cuban authority.

Mass meetings were held under the name of territorial conventions and officials were appointed to fill all positions except those that must be named by the President under the Constitution of the United States. The first officers of the new territory are: T. B. Anderson, secretary of state; James M. Steere, treasurer; Ed C. Ryan, delegate to congress; A. T. Friese, chief justice; David B. Wall, sheriff.

The convention divided the island into five districts and ordered elections to be held today to select members of the legislature, which is to convene next week, tax assessors and collectors. One ticket was named in each district, the only political question being to keep the island under the Stars and Stripes. The election is proceeding in an orderly manner under the forms of law, the men on the different tickets announcing that they will take office immediately without regard to those serving under the Cuban government.

VALLEY TO BE MERGED.

Proposition to Consolidate the Buffalo Route With the Pennsylvania Company.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14.—Confirmation was given today by officials of the Pennsylvania railroad to the report that a tentative offer has been made to the holders of the Allegheny Valley preferred stock to exchange two shares of it for one and one-eighth shares of Pennsylvania stock with a view to merging that company with the Pennsylvania; if 90 per cent of the Allegheny Valley preferred stockholders agree to this by December 1. It was learned that the larger of the Allegheny Valley holders who live principally in this city and in Pittsburgh have already assented to the proposition and that its success is already assured.

Foreigners Cause a Riot Call.

A general fight at 2005 Mary street, South Side, between a crowd of foreigners assumed such proportions last night that Officer James Boyle sent in a riot call. Capt. H. J. Alt and Lieutenant C. McAfee, with a squad of officers, made a fast run on the patrol wagon to the scene of the conflict. They arested 12 of the participants, all Poles, who were locked up to await hearings this morning.

WABASH TO PASS THE INTEREST ON BONDS

Earnings Show Healthy Increase While Gross Receipts May Have Fallen Off.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—It was stated today by one of the interests identified with the Gould roads that when the Wabash directors meet, as customary, in the last week in December to consider the question of payments on the debenture A and B bonds, they will undoubtedly pass the interest on both issues. He added that the road's earnings and finances justified this action, pointing out that, had such payments been authorized last July and January, the road would have probably found itself in the hands of a receiver.

Earnings of the Gould roads, nevertheless, are expected to make a better showing this year than last. It is expected that gross receipts will show a falling off, owing to comparisons with the receipts from the passenger business to the St. Louis fair.

But while gross earnings may decrease, it is expected that there will be a much better showing in the net. Operating expenses so far have been much reduced.

BOY DIES OF BURNS.

Six-Year-Old Morris Abrams' Clothes Catch Fire—Man Falls Three Stories.

Morris Abrams, aged 6, was standing before an open gate at his home, 53 Roberts street, yesterday. The boy's clothes caught fire and he was badly burned, dying at the Passavant hospital shortly afterward.

Peter S. O'Malley, who was injured on Monday by falling from the third floor of the Pittsburgh Terminal warehouse on the South Side, died yesterday. O'Malley was a bricklayer, a widower, and lived at Southern and Center avenues, Carrick.

Hattie McIntyre, a negress, was held by the coroner's jury on the charge of murdering Abraham H. Fisher. Testimony showed the woman went into the Fisher home, 1231 Clark street, at 5 a. m. on October 29. Fisher and his wife, both 81 years old, had already arisen. The woman demanded money from the old man, and when he declined to give her any she rushed at him and knocked him down. Mrs. Fisher was at the inquest yesterday. She said her husband was so badly injured that he died five days later.

Andrew McDonough died early yesterday morning at the Mercy hospital of a gunshot wound, inflicted by his friend William Moore. On last Saturday the two boys, each 19 years old, were at Moore's home in Carnegie. Moore was handling a flobert rifle, which was accidentally discharged, the bullet entering McDonough's head.

J. J. Powers, 23 years old, a Pennsylvania railroad brakeman, was struck by a train at Walls station at 10:30 last night and instantly killed.

Clinic for Funeral Directors.

The Allegheny County Funeral Directors' association met last night at the morgue, and beside a business discussion, had a demonstration on embalming, the subject being a body borrowed from one of the cases. The session lasted two hours and was in charge of F. C. Beinhauer, president of the association. There were 50 members present, many of them from the suburban towns.

CONSERVATIVES FAVOR A REFORM OF FISCAL SYSTEM

Resolution to This Effect Is Passed at Meeting Held at Newcastle, England—Views of Other Meetings Are Affirmed.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEWCASTLE, ENGLAND, Nov. 14.—The National Union of Conservative associations today adopted with only two dissenting votes a resolution in favor of fiscal reform based on the preferential treatment of trade between the motherland and the colonies.

The resolution, which was introduced by Henry Chaplin, former president of the local government board, reads in part as follows:

"This conference of the National Union of Conservative and Constitutional associations in England and Wales, emphatically affirms the views expressed in resolutions, adopted either unanimously or by great majorities at its annual meetings, urging the reform of our present fiscal system, a system, in the words of the prime minister, addressed to the delegates in the Albert hall, on June 2, 1905: 'No longer adequate or fitted to our needs,' and with two exceptions recommending a system of preferential trade throughout the empire. Heartily indorsing that opinion, this meeting cordially welcomes his further and reported declaration on that and other occasions:

"First, that the object before the Unionist party in the future should be to regain its freedom of action and 'power to negotiate effectively' in all commercial relations with foreign countries; and, secondly, that the problems of 'that other great branch of fiscal reform'—viz.: 'Closer union with the colonies—is 'the greatest, the most important and, for reasons based mainly on colonial settlement, the most urgent of all the great constructive problems which we have to deal with,' and 'the one which most pressingly requires the immediate consideration of every part and element of the empire.'

"And this conference declares its conviction that these national and imperial objects, so vital to trade and to the full employment of the industrial classes throughout his majesty's dominions, can and should be obtained by a readjustment of taxation which, without increasing the cost of their food to the poorer classes of this country will tend to secure fairer treatment of British manufacturers by foreign nations; will prevent the practice of dumping, and will largely increase reciprocal and preferential trade between the different parts of the British empire."

To Offer Personal Invitations.

One hundred young men, members of Christian churches in this vicinity, will make a canvass of the larger business houses in the city during the next few days to extend personal invitation to the employes to attend the union revival services to be held in the Nixon theater next Sunday afternoon in connection with the evangelistic revival now being conducted by that denomination. Twenty young ministers from Bethany college will also engage in this work.

Rohman Is Still Suing.

Informations were made yesterday against ex-Police Superintendent Wallace and Policeman Edward Dunn, alleging conspiracy. The suit was brought before Alderman Oyer by George H. Rohman. The case is the outcome of some trouble which Rohman had with Wallace and Dunn at the public safety building on the day after election. Rohman says he was shoved out of the building, and that Dunn shot at him while he was running away.

WALLACE IS OUT; MOORE TRIUMPHS

LONG-LASTING FRICTION ENDS

The friction between Harry Moore, director of the department of public safety, and Superintendent of Police Wallace ended yesterday when Wallace resigned. It had come to a question whether Moore or Wallace should remain, and the city administration chose to dispose of Wallace rather than have Moore carry out his threat that he would quit the public service unless Wallace did.

Mayor Hays and his cabinet are considering the advisability of transferring Thomas A. McQuaide from the superintendency of detectives to the head of the police bureau. Citizens leaders believe this would be a wise political move. They say McQuaide's ability has never been questioned and his selection would to a certain degree, at least, disarm the critics of the police force.

If the change is made it will occur on December 1. The plan is to allow McQuaide much latitude in the reorganization of the bureau. The scheme is to make an effort toward giving efficient service in the belief that such action will tend to bring more votes to the Citizens candidate in February than the Wallace policy of "rough housing" the polls.

May Go to Rice.

Another report in circulation last night was that Detective Cecil G. Rice can have the superintendency of police. Rice refused to discuss the subject.

"All I will say is the time to talk about it is when the place has been offered to me."

These are the facts in the case, as learned from various sources. Yesterday two friends of the mayor, men prominent in administration councils, met Rice and asked him a pointed question. They said the mayor had suggested Rice would be a good man for the police superintendency, as he had experience in police work and is a man of education and ability to handle the place. They asked the detective if he would accept the place if it were tendered to him.

The proposition seemed to come as a surprise to Rice and he fenced awhile with the mayor's emissaries, not exactly realizing that the place was almost actually tendered to him. Whether he said that he would accept is not definitely known, but the men who came with the proposal went away fully believing the detective would not refuse the mayor's appointment if formally offered.

Hays Thinks Well of Rice.

Rice's name came up at a conference of Citizens' leaders in Mayor Hays' office yesterday and after going over several names the mayor suggested Rice, and two of those present are the ones who afterward spoke to Rice about the matter. They explained they were not authorized to offer the place, but said the mayor would like Rice to have it. Later in the day other members of the Citizens party spoke to the detective about the matter. It was even discussed on the streets last night, so it appears that no secret was made about the offer. Rice says he is not an applicant for appointment. He has been in the detective bureau about 15 months, for eight months serving as the superintendent's clerk and for a year as a detective.

It may be the intention of the mayor to offer Rice the superintendency of detectives, if he decides to put McQuaide in charge of the police. Director Moore would not indicate who would be appointed. He favors the consolidation of the two bureaus, a plan which does not receive the approval of the mayor.

"My views on that matter are well known," said the director. "I have always favored making one bureau out of the police and detective bureaus, but, as was published at the time, Mayor Hays did not have the same opinion. Since then I have not spoken with him on the subject, and certainly I would not try to bring about the change against the mayor's wishes. I have no reason to believe he has changed his mind. At any rate, that subject has no bearing at present on the question of selecting a superintendent of police. Assistant Superintendent Kennelly is acting superintendent."

Another Ordinance Necessary.

The division of the old police bureau into two bureaus was made some years ago by ordinance, and, of course, an ordinance would have to be passed by councils to make the bureaus one again. If this should be done, the superintendent of the detective bureau, Thomas A. McQuaide, would no doubt be made superintendent of the new bureau, as he has conducted the detective bureau as smoothly and efficiently as seems to be possible under the present city administration.

Mayor Hays referred all inquirers about Wallace's resignation to Director Moore. It is well known Moore delivered his ultimatum to the mayor, Director Bigelow and Murry A. Verner on Monday, at a conference, and Wallace was then told by the mayor, his personal friend, that it was up to him to deliver the mayor from an embarrassing situation, as if Moore resigned the Citizens party would be damaged seriously. Wallace took the hint readily, thanked the mayor for the friendship he had shown and said he would resign.

The final outcome was thus told by Director Moore yesterday:

"When I reached the public safety building this morning, Supt. Wallace met me in the corridor. We greeted each other good morning and the superintendent walked with me toward the police court room.

Announced His Resignation.

"'I am going to hand in my resignation this morning, director,' he said, 'and I would like to see you up in your office after awhile.' About half-past 9 o'clock he came to my office and handed the letter resigning his place.

"I wish to say that Mr. Wallace and I never had any hard words, as has been said. It is true I did not like some things he did and some things which he left undone, but I ascribed his actions to lack of experience in the police business. When I called his attention to things I wanted done and things which I did not want done, he always took my orders in good part, and there was not a time when we were not on amicable personal terms. Mr. Wallace is honest, and his word can be absolutely relied upon."

"Did he obey your orders?" the director was asked.

"How else should I have this?" replied the director holding up Wallace's resignation.

Harry Moore, Esq., Director Department Public Safety.

Dear Sir:—I herewith tender my resignation as superintendent of the bureau of police, same to take effect at once.

Trusting this will receive your immediate consideration, I remain, very truly yours,

ALEXANDER WALLACE.

Wallace Is Not Decided.

Wallace was seen after leaving the director's office.

"Yes, I have resigned," he said. "I have not asked for any other appointment in the municipal business service. I'll clean out my desk today and take my things away. Then I am going away for a week, and on my return I shall decide what to do."

"It is said you are going into business."

"What kind of business?" asked the ex-superintendent. "I haven't the money to go into any very big business."

It is a fact that Wallace can have from Mayor Hays any other appointment within reason in the city service. If he cared for a chief clerkship he could no doubt have it, and his friends say he could fill it competently, too, as he has had a very fair education. It is not believed, however, that he wants a place of that kind. He has been in the saloon business in Pittsburgh and Canton, O., but he gave no indication yesterday that he intends to apply for a license or a license transfer here.

Wallace's Meteoric Career.

Wallace's career in the police business was meteoric in advancement. After closing out his saloon business in Canton, O., the day after Mayor Hays was elected, he returned to Pittsburgh, and before being a resident of the state six months he was appointed on the detective force. Controller Larkin held up his warrants, Wallace thus losing three months' pay, but it is currently reported that Mayor Hays made up the amount to him. While Wallace was in the detective bureau John F. McTigue, the superintendent of police, was discharged by the mayor. For a while Police Inspector McStay was acting superintendent and was then replaced by Wallace as acting superintendent. It was well understood that Wallace would be made police superintendent, and presently this was done. In a few months the friction between Moore and Wallace began and continued, resulting finally in Wallace's resignation. He had been appointed superintendent on September 25, 1904.

Much interest was displayed yesterday in the question whether the embargo on the disorderly houses in the First ward, begun by Wallace and made complete by Alderman Poole's constable, "Rudsey" Joyce, would be raised. Director Moore was asked if there would be any change in the police bureau's policy with regard to the disorderly houses in the First ward, and he said he was not aware that there was any particular policy.

Houses May Stay Closed.

It is believed, however, that if it is true that Wallace closed up certain houses because men were supported by the women living in them, there will be no change of "policy," for it is known that Director Moore has supreme contempt for men who thus make their living, and that he may not interfere even if Joyce sticks to his threat to keep the other houses in the First ward closed until the ones closed by Wallace are permitted by the police to open again.

The case of Richard Wiseman is now in the hands of Director Moore. Wiseman is the man who so seriously injured the policeman who arrested him, Stonerod, that he is still confined to his home. Wiseman was released by Wallace on a $50 forfeit, which later, it is said, was returned to Wiseman.

"I have sent word to Stonerod that if he wishes to make an information against Wiseman I will stand by him. No, I have not ordered him to make an information. Ordinarily I would not leave it to an officer's discretion in matters of this kind, but Stonerod is the man who was injured, and is therefore, the person vitally interested," Director Moore said.

It is believed that if Stonerod does not prosecute Wiseman, Director Moore will wish to be thoroughly convinced that it was not threats which caused Stonerod to fail to bring suit.

The plain clothes policemen, attached to the office of the superintendent of police, presented the retiring superintendent with a box of handsome chrysanthemums last night. Wallace went into his former office about 9 o'clock and when the gift was tendered the expression of their esteem was too much for him and he gave way to his feelings. The card attached to the flowers was inscribed: "To Superintendent Wallace, with regrets, from Special Officers."

SUSPECT DRUG IS GIVEN.

Walter Martin Is Found in Bad Condition and His Three Companions Are Arrested.

On suspicion of having administered knockout drops to Walter Martin, three men were arrested by Policeman John Morgan. They are Thomas Saylor, H. T. Force and W. R. McKee. Last night Policeman Morgan was called into a saloon at Second avenue and Grant street, and there he found Martin lying on the floor. Martin was taken to Central station and from there to the Homeopathic hospital. He seemed to be in bad condition from some drug.

Morgan says that he had seen Martin, whom he did not know, walking about the streets earlier in the evening with the other three men, whom Morgan knows very well. The policeman recognized the man lying in the saloon as the stranger he had seen and so he hunted up Force, Saylor and McKee and arrested them. Martin is 22 years old and is from Steubenville, O. Morgan says Martin identified one of the prisoners as a man whom he had seen passing his hand surreptitiously over the glass of beer which Martin was drinking. Martin also says $27 was stolen from him.

PROBLEM IN LOW FINANCE.

Case of Mende vs. Burkhart, Involving $11 or 17 Cents, Will Be Heard Today.

A curious problem in low finance will be faced by Magistrate Kirby when the hearings at Central station open this morning. He will be called upon to decide the case of Mende vs. Burkhart.

Mende, whose first name is "Cal," and who gives the Hotel Boyer as his residence, started the litigation and the charge against him is drunkenness. James Burkhart of 508 Wylie avenue is charged with being a suspicious person. His charge is based on Mende's allegation that Burkhart robbed him of $11. When searched at the station Mende had $12, while Burkhart had only 25 cents. Mende then reduced his claim to 17 cents.

PROUD OF HIS RECORD AS WORKHOUSE PRISONER

With an unbroken record of having been arrested 21 times in McKees Rocks and not paying a fine, John McGinley appeared before Burgess Zinkham yesterday, and after being fined $10 and costs, effected a compromise and paid a fine of $5. McGinley has served 58 terms in the workhouse. He was picked up Monday night in McKees Rocks. McGinley proudly claimed the distinction of having served more time in the workhouse than any other living man. He served 52 terms before January this year.

Howard Released on Bail.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—Oscar L. Howard, who has been held in jail without bail since his attempt to murder Mrs. William J. Douglass, was released on $1,000 bail this afternoon by Judge Porter. A bullet entered Mrs. Douglass' back and was imbedded near the kidneys. She is thought to be out of danger.

Epilepsy

can be cured. The discovery that it is purely a nervous disorder has led to the application of the great nerve restorer, with the happy result that thousands have been completely cured, and others are being cured every day.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine

"In the year '92 I was stricken with epilepsy. Doctors treated me for several years, but I grew worse. I would have such awful fits. I cannot tell my awful sufferings. A druggist recommended Dr. Miles' Nervine, and I bought a bottle, and found it helped me, and I took three more and am cured. I had only one light spell after I commenced taking it. I do hope the time will come when everybody will know that your medicine cures these awful fits."

Various Items of Interest Bearing on Today

Herewith is some good reading that will have interest for women and for men, especially that portion that relates to cold weather requisites:

Women's Overcoats for Street and for Auto.ng.

It has always been the cry that fur-lined coats were too heavy. When we selected the cloth for these garments we looked out for this complaint, and now you will be treated to lightweight broadcloth which is lined with fine squirrel locks or blended brook mink. Some of these coats can be had in high colors, such as bridal gray, or begonia, as well as black, green and brown.

Collars vary, some of black lynx, others of blended or natural squirrel brook mink and Persian. These coats come in various lengths from 42 to 52 inches.

$25.00, $45.00, $68.00, $75.00 and up to $125.00.

Women's Cloth Coats—

Not heavy, cumbersome coats, but materials used which protect one from the chilly winds. These coats just as full of style as you would court.

Tweed coats, in pretty plaids and stripes, made without a lining. Many styles, full loose back, half-fitted back, and box front.

Solid Color Wool Challis.

Solid color challis has many uses—it is always correct for dress frocks and party frocks for little girls. It is much liked for house gowns of the finer sort.

Usually we ask 50c a yard for all-wool challis, but we have just received a shipment from a mill in America, and as there is no duty to pay, the price will be 35c a Yard.

Printed Piques for Fancy Work—

About this time every year we have call for fancy printed pique, which means that women are starting to make fancy articles of a gift nature.

We are now ready with a handsome showing of this popular material—the right kind of designs for fancy work—45c a yard.

$1.25 Black Voile, 50c a Yard.

Will any woman have the temerity to say that to dress becomingly costs a lot of money when such values are offered for such prices in our black goods section?

This is a 45-inch imported French Grenadine Twine Voile in a bright jet black. It is manufactured from pure mohair. Good as it is, and worthy as it is of its rightful price, $1.25, yet we say for it a half-dollar a yard.

We have a beautiful black Broadcloth Chiffon in medium weight, sponged and ready for the needle, 52 to 56 inches wide, something very fine, in several grades, at $2.00 a yard and up to $4.00.

Colored Dress Woolens—

Black and white Shepherd Checks, a firm, serviceable material, comes in two of the most correct sizes, specially priced at 35c a yard.
All-Wool Crepe Albatross, a charming material for house gowns, complete range of all the most wanted colors, for party dresses and housewear, 38c a yard.
52-inch all-wool Tailor Suitings, both in London tweeds and fine English worsted effects, grays, neat broken checks, hairline tailor stripes, plain granite weaves, $1.25 a yard.

Warm Automobile and Driving Rugs.

Now is the time when a warm carriage or automobile robe is thoroughly appreciated. We have a full line, in the Men's Store, First Floor, East.

Cloth Robes, plush lined, $6.00, $8.50, $10.00.
Cloth Robes, Chinchilla lined, $8.00.
Kersey Robes, lined with silk plush, $12.00 to $20.00.
Plush Robes, double, $12.00.
Beaver and Corduroy Robes, $6.00.
Mohair Plush Robes, imported, $25.00.
Leather Robes, warmly lined, $6.50 to $30.00.
Covert Rubber Robes, light weight, $2.00.

which we first announced on Saturday is of especial importance to music teachers, students and others who have in mind an economical piano purchase.

The reason for such a sale at this time is briefly told in the statement that the number of pianos of really good condition which have come to us this fall as part payment on new Mason & Hamlin, A. B. Chase, Fischer, Vose and Hamil-Tone Pianos, as well as the famous Angelus Self-Playing Piano, has been so great that the large rooms ordinarily devoted to the display of used pianos, are totally inadequate for the instruments that have rolled in on us. As we cannot spare the additional space required because of the arrival of our holiday stock, we have determined upon this forced sale to relieve the situation.

No better opportunity has ever been offered to save money legitimately in the purchase price of a piano.

The list below gives a meager idea of the stock of nearly one hundred upright, grand and square pianos, and piano players that are included in this sale.

The opening of the deer season in Pennsylvania today finds game more plentiful than in many years, a condition which is ascribed to the protection afforded by the new game law. This prohibits the running of the game with dogs, and it is to be enforced rigidly this season. Ambitious hunters will be out in force today and a little more care on their part would minimize the danger to human life in the vicinity of the happy hunting grounds.

As a result of a meeting held in London yesterday, an influential traveling commission will be sent to Russia to visit the many places where the Jews have suffered, distribute such relief as may be available and gather facts concerning the recent horrible massacres. It is reported that to date 25,000 Jews have been slain and 100,000 wounded. The whole story of this frightful butchery may never be known, but the London commission will let in a little more light on darkest Russia.

The most serious boycott of American goods in the far east is that instituted by Chinese merchants at Singapore, which has lately assumed unpleasant proportions. The situation is complicated by the existence of the boycott in a British dependency, with which the state department cannot deal directly. If the Chinese government should see fit to use moral suasion upon its subjects in Singapore who are perniciously active in their opposition to American goods, some good might result.

The decision of Gov. Pennypacker to issue no supplemental call for the extra session of the legislature in January is inspired by his opinion that the legislature will have sufficient subjects for its consideration in the program outlined by his proclamation of last Saturday. He has been overwhelmed with suggestions, many of them admirable, for proposed legislation, but feels that the original program is comprehensive enough for one session. Gratifying assurances of support continue to be received.

This is the time of year when the occult correspondent looks into the future and reads off the President's message to congress. Sometimes in the past the guesses have been fairly accurate as to the general trend of the chief executive's thoughts. With President Roosevelt, and the "open door" to his aims and objects through his public addresses, it will not be so hard to anticipate what he will say to congress. There may be a few details of interest, and they will be the only factors that will give spice to the usual recital of views of an administrative character.

The representatives of railroad employes' organizations who called at the White House yesterday to state that "rate regulation means rate reduction, and rate reduction means a decrease in wages and longer hours," were told by the President that they were proceeding upon the wrong hypothesis. Rate regulation, according to President Roosevelt's plan, as outlined by Senator Knox in his Pittsburgh speech, does not imply wholesale rate reduction. As President Roosevelt told his callers, there is no sound reason for fearing a reduction of wages as the result of proposed congressional action.

According to Consul Horton of Athens, that city is trying a new dust layer on the streets. The substance used is called akonia, which dissolved in water prevents the dust from rising. He fails, however, to furnish the chemical constituents of the substance. One ton of akonia dissolved in 800 gallons of water will sprinkle a street for one-third of a mile. The street need not be treated again for 15 days. The action of akonia is to form a coating over the street. This is all well enough, but what we want most in Pittsburgh is a discovery that will dissolve the smoke before it blurs the atmosphere. Dust in Pittsburgh is only an incidental worriment.

Favorable critics of President E. Benjamin Andrews' assertion that football "breeds kindness and restraint, alertness, courage, and motor efficiency," overlook the fact that these benefits, supposing them to be real, are enjoyed by a very limited proportion of the students at any of our colleges. Of the thousands of young men at Harvard, Yale or Princeton, certainly less than 100 ever touch a football. The activity of the vast majority, so far as football is concerned, is confined to cheering the contestants. Excellent exercise, this, for the lungs, but hardly conducive to "restraint" and "courage." The game needs more players and fewer shouters.

The Passing of Wallace.

The resignation of Pittsburgh's superintendent of police was the only act in his official career which can be said to have given general satisfaction to the community. It would be difficult to conceive of a man more unfit for the responsible office in which he was placed by an unscrupulous political administration. The same forces that for political reasons established him in the position, have caused his retirement in obedience to aroused public sentiment. Wallace was but a symptom of the disease. The disease itself must be rooted out at the February election. The deposing of Wallace but serves to emphasize the duty of the people to place in similar retirement those who were responsible for his holding office.

Wallace was typical of Pittsburgh's present government. His term of public office will remain a blot upon the city's record. When the municipal housecleaning takes place in February there will be a clean sweep of those who have inflicted many other evils, besides Wallace, upon the community.

When a Man's Married.

The statement of a distinguished advocate of "woman's rights" that "American husbands are rapidly learning their place and promise soon to set an example of docility to their brethren of other nations" finds ample confirmation from several quarters in the news of the day. At the coming banquet of the Pilgrim Mothers at the Waldorf-Astoria, New York, the old proverb referring to the propriety of serving the same sauce for the gander as for the goose is to receive striking illustration. When the president of the Mothers was asked if the fathers would be invited to sit at table, she replied: "Indeed not. We'll put them just where they put us—up in the gallery. There have been three magnificent dinners during the last week, and the men sat downstairs and ate, and the women sat up in the gallery and looked pretty. Well, we'll sit downstairs and eat, and the men can sit up in the gallery and look pretty."

This is but one incident of the deepest significance. Here is another. One of the numerous mothers' clubs of the metropolis, which is said actually to have one or two mothers among its membership, has established on West Seventy-second street "The Husband's Preparatory Housekeeping Institution," where cooking, mending, the care of babies and other exhilarating occupations are taught by experts. The average husband's total ignorance of the simplest domestic duties has long been the cause of deep chagrin to American wives. Some of our leading railroad presidents, bankers and college professors can't bake a batch of bread that's fit to eat. The New York school is designed to supply these deficiencies in early education. As Susan B. Anthony says: "Our young men who will some day be the heads of households fritter away their time at Latin and Greek and football when they ought to be learning to keep house."

A third incident illustrative of approaching feminine supremacy is found in the demand of the president of the Kansas State Federation of Woman's clubs for a woman member of the president's cabinet. The prospect opened up by this contingency may render necessary the holding of the suggested convention of the fathers of America. Who will be the first, in these perilous times, to strike boldly for "man's rights?"

Ohio River Improvements.

The meeting of the Ohio River Improvement association at Cairo is one of the most important in its history. In some sections the influence of this association may be held lightly, but so far it has gained some points in river and harbor legislation that are anything but trivial. While it is true that its functions are largely sentimental, it represents a strength in congress that cannot be ignored. From the confluence of the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers at Pittsburgh, uniting to form the mighty Ohio, down to its junction with the Mississippi there is a sweep of territory on either side of its banks that is the veritable garden and workshop of the United States. The importance of the trade, commerce, agricultural and manufacturing interests of the Ohio valley is second to no other like area in the United States. Congressional parties have traveled the Ohio from its source to its mouth, and not one has gainsayed these statements. Many were prejudiced before they came, saw and were conquered, but at the beck of their constituents far from the river's placid flow were either compelled to vote against reasonable appropriations for the betterment of the navigation of the Ohio, or opposed the river and harbor bill on lines equally arbitrary to their inward consciousness of the commercial value of the enterprises now under construction and the benefits that will accrue to the nation on their completion in adding to its wealth.

It is such prejudices as these that the Ohio River Improvement association has been fighting and still has to war against. The far eastern and western states are the hardest fighters against the expenditure of money for the further improvement of the Ohio river, and it is to overcome this unreasonable animosity that the association has reason for its existence and its activity. With the assured construction of the Panama canal the necessity for the canalization of the Ohio river is mandatory. On its bosom now floats a commerce that outrivals the coastwise trade. With a deeper channel by the completion of the dams now under construction and those in contemplation, the figures of its annual tonnage would be eloquent in vindicating the judgment of those who now so earnestly and honestly advocate these improvements, and, at the same time, confounding those who are skeptical through ignorance. The pushing of these works is of the highest importance to Pittsburgh, commercially and industrially, and it is to be hoped that the present meeting of the association at Cairo will devise some vigorous measures that will lead to more rapid progress on them than is now being made.

Pittsburgh's National Banks.

In response to the call of the comptroller of the currency, issued yesterday, the national banks are making reports showing their condition at the close of business on the 9th inst. A large majority of the statements of the banks of this community appear in The Gazette this morning. A comparative statement of loans and discounts shows an increase of a little more than $500,000 as compared with the last previous reports as of August 25. Within the same period total deposits have decreased a little more than $1,100,000. If the same relative changes are shown in the reports of banks of other cities outside New York, a further explanation will be furnished to account for the stringency prevailing in the east. Within the same period the deposits of the associated banks of New York have decreased more than $152,000,000, and to meet this drain the New York banks have contracted loans to the extent of more than $100,000,000. The rest of the country, like Pittsburgh, has evidently drawn upon its balances in New York for the purpose of meeting the demands of home customers, whose business is larger than ever before.

The decrease in deposits in the national banks of Pittsburgh is insignificant when compared with the total, and may easily be accounted for by the fact that with labor more generally employed than ever before, with a corresponding increase in the cash required to meet pay rolls, the wage earner is carrying a larger amount of cash in his pocket than he could afford to do when employment was not so good. The loans and discounts of the national banks of this city foot up the largest total in their history. The same is true of bank exchanges. All of which is proof of the unprecedentedly large volume of business in general.

Prince Louis is determined not to let his country be outdone. "Oh, I have seen men much worse hurt at football games in England," he says. This should spur Yale and Princeton to increased efforts next Saturday.

A Des Moines, Iowa, paper which reported a leading citizen as suffering from "general deviltry," when the item was written "general debility," is finding how difficult it is sometimes to get explanations accepted.

Players in last Saturday's games who are still in the hospital should be permitted to sit up in bed and read President Andrews' statement that football makes one kind and patient and loving.

The New York husbands who will have to sit in the gallery and look on while their wives are participating in a banquet below, with real food, are the latest victims of a boomerang policy.

The opening of the deer season is causing some anxiety among the "intimate friends" of enthusiastic hunters. It is always the intimate friend who gets mistaken for the deer.

That King George of Greece buys his wife a new frock every day is an item which the married men of the nation are injudiciously permitting to go the rounds of the press.

Those who have not been run down by automobiles, shot by mistake for deer or crippled for life at football, will prepare for a joyous celebration of Thanksgiving.

The mikado has gone to a shrine to tell his ancestral spirits all about the late war. And Russia will not get a chance to present her side of the affair.

Columbia and Berlin have arranged to exchange professors annually. Now what kind-hearted foreign university will agree to swap with Chicago?

All the British officers with Prince Louis wear monocles. And New York won't let them depart without an additional glass or two.

The Chicago clairvoyant who has had a vision of the President's message should go down to Washington and join the correspondents.

The indications are that Prince Louis will return home with an enlarged idea of American hospitality and a case of chronic indigestion.

After apologizing for Wallace daily for months, it is amusing to observe the Leader's quick change of front.

Ivins' Final Orders.

Even Mrs. Ivins seems to have taken Ivins' canvass for mayor of New York as a joke. She is said to have called at the downtown hotel where he had been staying for several days before the election, and inquired for "a man named Ivins, who is running for an office of some sort." And she ordered him to report at home mighty soon, and he did!—Columbus Dispatch.

A Pertinent Inquiry.

The more or less prominent clergymen who have rushed into print on the subject, seem to be pretty well agreed that there are no female angels in heaven. Are we Christians, then, much better than the Mohammedans in our conception of women in the hereafter?—Atlanta Constitution.

Not an American Accomplishment.

Loafing as a fine art is an accomplishment that America's men of great or even moderate wealth have not acquired. Those who have want more, and those who have not are toiling through the day and through the night, to get.—Albany (N. Y.) Times.

QUIET OBSERVATIONS ON WAYS OF WORLD

Working Girls May, or May Not, Make the Right Kind of Wives.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

"Would you advise a young man to choose a working girl for a wife? Is their experience in stores, shops, offices, schools and other business places likely to make them better wives?"

These are bedrock questions, but hardly susceptible of direct answer, since that which is good for one may not be good for another.

As you can readily understand, it would be unjust to say that a working girl will not make a good wife simply because one has, or even several have, turned out badly.

And it would be equally unjust to say that they are, as a class, safe investments for men who are seeking wives who will be helpmates, because some, or even many, have proven to be first-class helpers.

Has it ever occurred to you that too many of our young women are depending upon being helped by marriage without themselves being helpful?

One-sided marriages are apt to prove unsatisfactory to both parties, for neither ever feels that it is getting what is coming to it. This leads to discontent, and disloyalty is sure to follow.

The man or woman who marries as a business venture is not marrying as God intended; therefore, we conclude that such matches are not made in heaven.

It has come to this in these latter days that no attention, or very little, is given to fitting men and women for marriage. While it is talked about more than any other subject, it is rarely discussed seriously—usually in a light and joking way. And that in face of the fact that it is no joke, but rather the most serious matter that young people have to consider, being one of the things most certain to either make or break them.

* * *

It is a question whether employment in shops, offices and stores tends to fit a woman for married life, and a most important question, too, since so many of our girls are seeking to become thus employed.

While some are thus employed, they also keep their hands in as housekeepers, but as a rule they leave household duties to their mothers, or sisters, or servants.

Naturally one would conclude that such a course would tend to unfit rather than to fit them for housekeeping, so that when called from a place of business to take charge of a home they find it rather awkward, to say the least, and more or less uncongenial.

Not a few of those who leave home to take up office or shop work do so because they have no taste for housework. And, no doubt, the longer they work at their trades the less love they have for it, and the less interest they take in domestic affairs.

It is hardly thinkable that marriage will change their feelings and inclinations concerning their duties and employment.

* * *

The school teacher is in a class by herself, in that she has a part of each year to devote to domestic affairs, if she is so inclined.

Some are so inclined and some are not, while a few are compelled by necessity or sense of duty to employ their spare time in keeping house or other domestic work.

Thus it doth appear that a school teacher is better fitted for marrying and taking charge of a home than is the shop girl.

However, the natural fitness of the shop girl may render her equally efficient as a home maker, and keeper, so that the seeker for a helpmeet must take into account the native taste and talent, as well as the environment and training of the one whom he would take to wife.

And then, women are so versatile that they can change from one thing that they do quite well to something else, and do it quite well.

* * *

Mr. Quiet Observer—A man who wants a wife that knows the value of money, and can save what he spends on tobacco and clubs, should choose a girl who is herself self-supporting.

A teacher, an office girl, a clerk, has probably a home back of her that she is beautifying by her hard-earned wages, or a mother or sister dependent upon her help; but whether so or not, she is a courageous woman who appreciates the value of things, and will not waste more than her husband earns.

A man too often makes a mistake in choosing an uneducated girl, thinking he can mould her to suit his fancy.

It has been my observation that the more a woman knows of books or of any profession or business, the better wife she will make. Intelligence counts every time. It enlightens, warms and consecrates the affections; it judges a character (that of her husband) in the whole, and not by some minor fault.

Intelligence, education, even of the very highest order (I am sorry to differ here with our wise Quiet Observer), cannot fail to help a woman manage her home wisely in all of its details. Else what is education for? No business requires a greater variety of talent than the well-ordered home.

So, young man, choose the girl who is educated, and, if possible, who has been reared in a loving home, and who loves it well enough to work for it and to sacrifice her interest for those she loves.

EXPERIENCED.

Wants Time to Fly.

Russia will next year shorten its old-fashioned year by cutting out 13 days. The government is anxious to have next year go by as fast as possible.—Cleveland Leader.

WHAT NEXT?

My grandmother, a lady who was held in high esteem,
Was wont full oft to marvel at our complex social scheme.
As changing times and manners dawned on her observant eyes
When they put an elevator in our principal hotel,
And when the cable cars went down our thoroughfares pell mell,
She gathered up her silken skirts and hurried home perplexed,
And said, with mild resentment, "Well! What will they get up next!"

We used to smile and vow that she was just a little slow
The money that was spent on vain and frivolous display
Did not in our opinion justify her sad dismay.
The schemes for money-making, such as lotteries and fairs—
She called them traps for catching the incautious unawares;
And e'en her patient nature was a little pained and vexed,
She'd take her glasses off and sigh, "What will they get up next?"

But time as it progresses greatly shifts the point of view,
I half suspect the dear old lady knew a thing or two
The curious fancies Fashion seeks when it would dance or dine
In moments of depression sometimes tempt me to repine.
And the way they pay the fiddler—when you hear it all explained—
One feels that there's no telling how great wealth may be obtained
I read of stock transactions and my soul grows sorely vexed.
I say, as she said long ago, "What will they get up next!"

—Washington Star.

TARS OF TWO NATIONS CELEBRATE TOGETHER

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—British and American tars are today strewn all over Greater New York in various stages of jollity and inebriety. From the breezy sands of Coney to the wilds of Harlem—from Astoria to the mosquito-bitten hills of Staten—it's "jackies, jackies everywhere." Walking in the variable winds of Park row and the Bowery, squads of H. M. S.'s and U. S. S.'s mingle like the maneuvering of a fleet of yachts on a pleasant summer Sunday.

The sailors' banquet at Coney Island goes down in the history of the two navies as one of the greatest events that ever happened. From the sailors' standpoint it was a success from start to finish. The Americans especially are justly proud of the success of their first venture as international hosts. To the men of the American fleet belongs all the honor of the big jollification. They planned it and they paid for it. Six dollars per head it cost them, and not one of them begrudges his contribution. Every one feels that he got his money's worth in individual enjoyment and in good fellowship. When the day dawned Coney island presented an amazing sight. Nothing could be seen in any direction but sailors, and every sailor was full to the brim with good cheer.

The British tars were singing the American sailors' song, "Home, Boys, Home," and in equal feeling of fraternity the Americans insisted on singing the British song, "Weighing Anchor." These songs represent the same state of feeling that inspires the landsman's song, "We Won't Go Home Till Morning."

Two Cooks Spoil Broth.

Signor Caruso has gone to housekeeping. The trouble between the singer and the Hotel York was the cook. In the kitchen the man who caused the move is known as he chef, and he is French. For several years the singer has occupied a suite on the seventh floor of the hotel and has been happy and unhappy by turns. The cooking was good, even fine—the signor admitted that. Nowhere in Paris could he obtain better, "but in Milan, in Florence, the difference," said he. This season Caruso decided he would bring his cook with him. Two cooks under the same roof could not last. So the Caruso household has moved.

Oh, Philadelphia's Not So Slow!

Mrs. Joseph Widener, the pretty Philadelphia society woman, with whom Prince Louis of Battenberg shook hands at the horse show last night, and who, in consequence, became the first lady of the show, is today envied of the New York smart set. The episode, which took place just as the prince was making his triumphal entry to the tune of "God Save the King," created quite a little sensation among the fashionable spectators. Owing to the crush the prince and his party had to pause at the Twenty-sixth street entrance to the garden, and, as luck would have it, stopped just before box No. 19. The prince a moment later stepped out of line and extended his hand to Mrs. Widener. Then his serene highness passed on.

Gotham's First Real Shiver.

New York woke up up today shivering. There was reason, for the coldest day since last winter had arrived with a flurry of snow and a drop of 22 degrees above zero at 6 o'clock this morning. This was the unexpected tumble the mercury had been taking since 5 o'clock last night. Just as the theater crowds were coming out a sudden flurry of snow for a time powdered everything a chilly white. The flakes were lusty young fry, but they didn't last very long on the still warm pavements. All last night the wind and cold increased in the clear blue moonlight, until this morning New York poked its nose out and then went back to hustle on heavy togs.

Hungarians Honor G. Washington.

The residents of New York of Hungarian birth and descent have organized an association under the name of "The New York Committee of the George Washington Monument at Budapest," the object of which is to erect a monument in honor of George Washington at the capital of Hungary. The movement originated two years ago at the time of the unveiling of the Louis Kossuth monument at Cleveland, O. About $5,000 has already been subscribed. The site for the statue has been designated by the city council at Budapest and the actual work upon the monument has been commenced.

Bird Lovers Now in Gotham.

The American Ornithologists' union began its 23rd annual congress this morning at the American Museum of Natural History, Seventy-seventh street and Central park west. The sessions, which will be open to the public, will continue through Thursday, on which day the place of meeting will be transferred to the museum of the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences. This evening the members gave a dinner at the Hotel Endicott, and after the dinner held a reception at the American museum, where there was an exhibition of a new projection apparatus.

New Spectacle for Hippodrome.

Thompson and Lundy, managers of the Hippodrome, have arranged to put on a new spectacle on December 11 called "A Society Circus." Mr. Thompson is the author of the new production, Maurice Klein has arranged the music, and Sydney Rosenfeld has furnished several lyrics. "A Society Circus" will run through three acts, with five scenes. The cost of the new production is estimated at $200,000.

SOME GOOD STORIES OF PITH AND MOMENT

A well-known newspaper man, who formerly edited a journal published in San Francisco, says that there once appeared in the paper in question an advertisement reading as follows:

"The man who found a pocketbook containing a large sum of money, in California street, is requested to return it to the address of the undersigned, the loser, as he was recognized."

In a few days the reply was inserted: "The recognized man who picked up a pocketbook containing a large sum of money, in California street, requests that the loser call at his house."—Los Angeles Times.

The Teacher's Mistake.

"Which of you children can tell me who was the meekest man?" asked a Sunday school teacher of her class.

None of them raised a hand. Finally, little Johnny Fizzletop raised his hand above his curly head.

"There!" said the teacher, "you ought all to be ashamed of yourselves. You great, big boys have been coming to Sunday school for months and months, and here is little Johnny Fizzletop, poor little fellow, he never has had any advantages, and has only been coming to Sunday school for the past two weeks, and yet he knows more about the Bible than all the rest of you. I become perfectly discouraged when I think of it. I come here every Sunday and toil for you, and yet you can't answer so simple a question as what is the name of the meekest man in the Mible. Just look at little Johnny there, holding up his hand, while you hang your heads. You're a good little boy, Johnny, and your teacher is proud of you. Now speak up good and loud and tell these great, big boys who was the meekest man. Speak up, Johnny."

"Please, ma'am, may I go out?"—Manchester Times.

The Quicker the Higher.

Dr. W. W. Keen, the noted surgeon of Philadelphia, was praising speed in surgical operations. The best surgeons, he declared, were always the swiftest. Speed was one of the greate essentials of fine operations, since the briefer the period passed by the patient under the knife, the greater the chance for his complete recovery.

"On this head," Dr. Keen continued, smiling, "there is a story of a distinguished surgeon.

"He performed successfully a difficult and delicate operation on a millionaire banker's wife, and, naturally, the bill that he rendered for this operation was a large one. It was not exorbitant, but it was enough—a reasonable and just bill.

"The banker, though, thought otherwise. With an imprecation, he declared the bill to be an outrage.

"'Why,' he cried, 'the operation only took you 10 minutes.'

"The surgeon laughed.

"'Oh, he said, 'if that is your only objection, the next time any of your family needs an operation, I'll keep them two or three hours under the knife.'"—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Russell Sage and the Lawyer.

Russell Sage has a horror of lawsuits. A clerk of Mr. Sage's said the other day:

"'You remember, sir,' I said, 'my complaint against my wife's uncle?'

"'Yes,' he answered.

"'Well,' I said, 'the man is obdurate, and I think of bringing suit against him. What do you advise?'

"Mr. Sage was silent a moment, frowning thoughtfully. Then he said:

"'Listen. When I was a clerk in Troy I had a case against a man that seemed quite as good as yours. I visited a prominent lawyer and I laid the whole matter before him in detail. When I was through he told me that he would be delighted to take the case—that it was a case that couldn't lose.

"'It can't lose?' said I.

"'It can't lose,' he repeated.

"'I rose and took up my hat. I thanked the lawyer and told him that I wouldn't bring suit, after all. And then I explained that it was my opponent's side, and not my own, which I had laid before him.'"—New York Tribune.

Amusing Blunders of Foreigners.

A writer recalls some amusing blunders foreigners make in using English. A Hungarian journalist, lending up to an account of an earthquake, told how merrily the evening had passed. Just before the crash came the ladies had retired to their rooms, whereas "we men were remaining in the coffee." A French dressmaker advertised her work as "grand, elegant and swell." A polite and sympathetic Japanese wrote: "I'm rather sorry you have been so ill," and a Parisian lady asked to be recommended as a teacher of French, and added, with exquisite naivete: "I am not obliged to earn my life, but I want to have two strings to my arc." An excited Italian, when he had sent a manuscript with a page missing, wrote: "If anything like this happens again, notify me suddenly." These infelicities recall also the Mexican diplomat at Washington who affably remarked: "Your climate in Buffalo is wat you call deelicooli—eh?"—Boston Transcript.

Why He Knew.

In a Kansas City court recently a negro, on the witness stand, was being questioned about a sick horse by a lawyer.

"He was ailin'," replied the witness.

"Yes, I know," said the questioner, "but what was the matter?"

"He was jes' ailin'."

"But what was wrong? With what disease was he suffering?"

"Jes' ailin'" persisted the negro. The lawyer was quiet a moment. Then he had a bright idea. He would try to get at the horse's symptoms.

"Well, how do you know he was ailing?" he asked.

World Worships Success.

What the world loves is success. Failure is the only unpardonable sin. For the man struggling as best he can, now rising, now sinking, in the current of the world's activity, the feeling is one of indifference. This attitude, of which we speak, is the attitude of the majority. There are some kind-hearted souls who love the strugglers, who love everybody, in fact, and these are the salt of the earth, but they are comparatively few in number.—Denver Republican.

STORIES FOUND IN THE LOBBIES

Interesting Happenings Concerning the People Who Are Traveling.

If one could have gone to the hotel lobbies last evening without exposing himself to the cool weather, he could have told from the very appearance of the lobbies themselves that a touch of winter was in the atmosphere. The traveling men were gathered about the lobbies, chatting about business and "swappin' yarns" in the good old manner of winter. The lobby chairs were used more than for many months. Perhaps the well-filled hotels had something to do with the more than ordinarily crowded lobbies, but the assemblage of the traveling men could be noticed because of the cold weather. In some of the hotels, for instance in the Seventh Avenue, before the open grate fire, the evening was very happily passed by groups of the men. The hotels were almost completely filled again. A large number of reservations had been made in advance for visiting Scottish Rite Masons, or the hotel clerks would have found themselves facing an unusual rush for choice rooms.

There was a good amount of travel on all of the trains out of and into Pittsburgh. The Union and Baltimore & Ohio stations presented almost as busy an appearance as on a summer excursion night for Atlantic City travel.

Dentists Enjoy Good Address.

A large number of the Pittsburgh district dentists, members of the Delta Sigma Delta fraternity, enjoyed a banquet at the Hotel Anderson last evening. The principal speaker was Dr. Frederick Peso of the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Peso is one of the best authorities on bridge and crown work in the country's dental circles. His address was technical in part, but dealt also with the social side of the dentist's vocation.

Prince's Guest Is Lonesome.

When a lonesome man in a strange city sits in a strange hotel and watches the merriment of a wedding party and knows at the same time that he might be enjoying a reception on one of the world's finest warships, it can be appreciated how A. G. Parsons, a guest at the Hotel Schenley, felt last night. Mr. Parsons is a Philadelphian and was honored by receiving an invitation to partake of the festivities on the flagship of the British squadron in New York last night. Unhappily business intervened and Mr. Parsons was obliged to spend the evening in the Hotel Schenley while a wedding party quite unostentatiously occupied the biggest part of the lobby. More than once Mr. Parsons wished that he had been able to run down to New York, but he couldn't. He just listened to the music and imagined that he was on the quarter deck of the warship.

Old College Students Meet.

The alumni of Mt. St. Mary's college, Emmittsburg, Md., formed a permanent Pittsburgh organization at the Union club last night. Forty-six former students of the institution were present and enjoyed an informal dinner. The following officers were elected: President, A. V. D. Watterson; vice president, W. S. Hill; secretary, the Rev. D. O'Shea. Mr. Watterson was the toastmaster and life in the old Maryland college town was lived all over again. The committee in charge of the arrangements consisted of Thomas J. Maloney, Paul C. Dunlevy, William H. Wymard, O. J. Vilsack, Edward J. McKenna and A. V. D. Watterson.

NOT A CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR

Attorney General Carson Declares He Does Not Want the Nomination.

EXTRA SESSION IS LIMITED

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
HARRISBURG, PA., Nov. 14.

Attorney General Hampton L. Carson makes the positive declaration that under no circumstances will he be a Republican candidate for governor. For some time a number of his friends in public and private life have been endeavoring to induce him to seek the nomination.

During the last week there has been a good deal of discussion of the probability of Mr. Carson becoming a candidate. Tonight he killed his own boom by this statement:

"Under no circumstances will I be a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor. I have not given the matter the remotest thought and would not consent to the use of my name. My devotion is to the law."

It can be stated on the best of authority that Gov. Pennypacker has decided to issue no supplemental call for the extra session of the Pennsylvania legislature in January. The governor has been overwhelmed with verbal and written suggestions for all manner of legislation for consideration in the extra session.

HAMPTON L. CARSON,
Attorney General.

No Supplemental Call.

He feels that if he were to accede to any of these suggestions there would be no limit to the additional work that would be demanded of the legislature. The governor, therefore, has decided the work of the session shall be confined to the seven subjects outlined by him in his proclamation of last Saturday summoning the legislature to meet in January.

Many prominent citizens and good Republicans have informed the governor they favor the adoption of a uniform primary election law, but while he is not out of sympathy with this idea he believes the subject is altogether too important to make hasty action advisable, and it would be better to permit the people to consider this subject in the election of members of the new legislature next fall, and if they want a change in the primary election system they can send a majority of members to that legislature pledged to the enactment of a uniform primary law.

Old Committees Stand.

Frank S. Judd of Beaver county, chief clerk of the senate, was in Harrisburg today. He says he is entirely in accord with Gov. Pennypacker's program for the extra session, and believes it will go through without opposition.

One of Gov. Pennypacker's callers today was Representative Josiah Howard of Cameron county. "The governor is right," he said. "I shall vote for all the reform subjects he has mentioned in his call for the extra session."

Mr. Howard called on the governor to ask him to appoint George J. Laabar of Emporium, an associate judge of Cameron county, to fill the vacancy created by the death of George J. Walker. The governor promised to make the appointment.

Herman Miller, senate librarian, yesterday settled the disputed point about the standing committees of the legislature in the extra session. He says the committees appointed at the opening of the session of 1905 will be continued in service. President Protempore Woods of the senate had asked Mr. Miller to decide this point.

Must Renew All Bonds.

Prior to the action of the legislature for the protection of public funds on deposit in the banks and trust companies of the state, the revenue commission is taking active steps to do what it can in that direction. The commission held an important meeting here tonight. It decided to have all bonds protecting state deposits renewed and brought up to date.

Many of these bonds were signed when the banks received their original deposit. They are virtually all as good as ever, but the board feels it would be more business-like to have them renewed, except those of comparatively recent date.

Auditor General Snyder said tonight that he was in favor of using the money in the sinking fund to redeem the outstanding state bonds and that the board of sinking fund commissioners had just bought 17,000 worth of state bonds from Ferran & Company, Philadelphia, at $103 and interest.

The report of the sinking fund commission shows the more than $4,000,000 surplus in this fund is sufficient to liquidate the state's bonded indebtedness without touching the $10,000,000 surplus in the general fund.

QUARTET UNDER ARREST.

UNIONTOWN, PA., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—After watching at the Edenborn mine for more than four hours County Detective McBeth and Sheriff Kiefer today arrested "Blu Charley" Burnett, Jackson Reed, Charles Stewart and Thomas Evans, who are alleged to have robbed and shot Charles McCann near Masontown, Saturday evening. McCann was on his way to Edenborn when he was held up and robbed of a gold watch and $45.

Before the quartet succeeded in robbing him they fired several shots, one of the bullets going through his hat, one through the arm and another severing one finger. McCann identified all four men.

TRUSTEES WILL LAY CORNERSTONE TOMORROW

CANTON, O., Nov. 14.—Promptly at 1 o'clock Thursday the cornerstone of the McKinley monument will be laid by Justice William R. Day, president of the McKinley National Memorial association. The trustees of the association, including Vice President Fairbanks, Postmaster General Cortelyou, Hon. Charles G. Dawes and others, are to be in attendance. For Mrs. McKinley, the trustees and noted guests a platform has been erected.

SPEAKER CANNON PREPARES FOR WORK OF COMING SESSION

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Joseph G. Cannon, speaker of the house of representatives, arrived here today to open his house and get ready for the approaching session of congress. He will see the President tomorrow and will then get down to the drudgery of the beginning of each new congress in making up the committees of the house. A number of important changes in committees will be made by reason of changes in the membership of the house, but the most interesting one is that of chairman of the committee on appropriations. Mr. Hemenway of Indiana, the former chairman has succeeded Mr. Fairbanks in the senate and all summer there has been speculation as to who would succeed to the chairmanship.

T. E. Burton of Ohio, John Dalzell of Pennsylvania, J. A. Tawney and James T. McCleary of Minnesota, have been most prominently mentioned. Speaker Cannon has not yet indicated who he has in mind for the place, which is the most important chairmanship in the house next to ways and means, but the best guess at present seems to be Mr. Tawney. Gen. H. H. Bingham of Philadelphia is the ranking member of the committee, but his poor health would scarcely stand the strain devolving upon the chairman.

Mr. Burton, who is now chairman of the committee on rivers and harbors, is handicapped principally by the fact that he is not always in accord with the leaders of congress. He is opposed to the large naval expenditures which are championed by the administration and on the tariff he is not altogether orthodox. Mr. Dalzell's name has long since been scratched off the list for various reasons, principally because of his other important committee assignments. Mr. McCleary, too, has been guilty of heresy, especially on the tariff, and if his colleague from Minnesota is given the chairmanship, he will likely succeed to Mr. Tawney's place on the ways and means committee.

There are a number of other knotty questions with which the speaker must wrestle and solve before the committees are made up. A. G. Dayton of West Virginia, who resigned his seat in the house to go on the federal bench, was the ranking member of the committee on naval affairs and was recognized as one of its strongest members. Officials of the navy department are deeply interested in the question of who will succeed him.

SCOTTISH RITE WORK ON.

Class of About 150 Is Receiving Degrees at Fifty-third Reunion of the Local Bodies.

A class of about 150 presented themselves yesterday to receive the degrees administered at the 53d annual reunion of the bodies of the Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite sitting in the valley of Pittsburgh. The work was under the supervision of James I. Buchanan, deputy for Pennsylvania.

The first session started at 10 a. m., and the work in the Lodge of Perfection was not concluded until about 10 p. m. James Little of Gourgas lodge, was in charge, Pennsylvania council, Princess of Jerusalem, will convene this morning, and this afternoon Pittsburgh Chapter of Rose Croix will be in session. The consistory work will start this evening and will continue all day tomorrow and Friday forenoon and afternoon.

There were many visitors present, among the number being a distinguished group from Canada.

BURGLARS LOOT STATION.

BUTLER, PA., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—The station of the Pittsburgh, Bessemer & Lake Erie railroad at Claytons was burglarized last night and a book containing 10 blank express money orders which can be converted into $300 cash, was secured. Railroad tickets were also taken, but as these were unstamped they are useless.

F. D. Hornbeck, the station agent who happened to be awake in his house near the station, heard the burglars and tried to surprise them, but they were too quick for him and escaped. Hornbeck fired three shots.

Has Not Paid Hotel Bill.

J. W. Thorn, alias F. C. Hogle, charged by Edward Terry of the Seventh Avenue hotel with leaving the house with his effects without first settling his bill of $13.75, was committed to jail yesterday by Alderman Groetzinger for a hearing on Friday.

DETAILS ENMESH THE FEDERATION

Great Labor Body Has Not Yet Reached the Serious Business of Convention.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL REPORTS

From a mass of details—resolutions, motions, reports and little things—the American Federation of Labor, in twenty-fifth annual session in Old City hall, expects to emerge by this evening and tomorrow get down to serious business. All of yesterday was spent in hearing the report of the executive council and receiving resolutions. Shortly after 2 o'clock in the afternoon the convention ran out of business, and to prolong the session reports of fraternal delegates to the British Trades Union congress in Hanley, England, last year, and the Canadian Trades and Labor congress, were read.

The principal business of the day was the report of the executive council, made during the morning. President Gompers relinquished the chair to President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers. James F. Duncan read the report. It dealt with the disputes between bodies affiliated with the federation and action taken by the council. A recommendation was made that a legislative committee be appointed to look after legislation. The Western Federation of Miners was scored for alleged attempt to disrupt the American body. Another recommendation was to discountenance disputes between different unions.

Arbitration Is Suggested.

The old dispute among the brewery workers was touched on in this connection. The San Francisco convention ordered certain unions to withdraw their members from breweries where there have been strikes. This was not obeyed, and it was suggested that the offending unions be debarred from participating in the deliberations of the Federation of Labor for two years. The council did not agree with this, and suggests that the matter be submitted to arbitration and then, if this fails, that the offenders be punished.

The difference between the Amalgamated Woodworkers and the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners is up to this convention for settlement. The decision of Umpire Downer was not accepted by the brotherhood, and the council did not exercise its power to suspend it. Efforts are still being made to settle the trouble, and the unions are working amicably, but the dispute is left to the convention to decide. The council denied the request of the International Association of Steam, Hot Water and Power Pipe Fitters for a charter, and advised union with the United Association of Plumbers, Gasfitters, Steamfitters and Helpers. This dispute will also be settled in this convention.

Million Immigrants a Year.

Immigration was also touched on by the executive council. Attention was called to the fact that 1,000,000 immigrants arrived yearly, and stricter laws were demanded.

The report of the auditing committee complimented the system of bookkeeping in use in the national offices at Washington and found the books in good condition. The credentials committee had little trouble completing its work, as the few contests that had been filed were settled before reaching the committee. The committee on rules fixed the hours for the convention from 9 o'clock in the morning to noon and 2 o'clock until 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Cigars, tobies and pipes were out at the opening of the afternoon session, when President Gompers announced that the Netz Sisters quartet, which has been singing at the revivals in progress in the city, would sing. The delegates gave the ladies a warm welcome. They were compelled to respond to an encore after singing "Cast Thy Bread Upon the Waters." Singing will be a feature during the remaining sessions of the convention. Today Mrs. Princess Long will render several selections.

Conditions in English Unions.

John Moffatt, delegate to Great Britain last year, dealt with conditions of the labor unions in England. The convention last year was the first for years in which delegates were present from the Locomotive Engineers. Frank Feeney, who was on the original ticket for sheriff of Philadelphia county, and who with the balance of the ticket was withdrawn, reported on the Canadian convention. He told of laws beneficial to labor which had been passed by parliament, among them being one aimed, as he claimed, at strike breakers, which makes it a misdemeanor to misrepresent conditions of labor in Canada in other countries for the purpose of securing labor. The question of Japanese labor is worrying the Canadians, he said. He brought an invitation for the convention next year to meet on Canadian soil. This will cause a fight later in the convention. An invitation was received during the afternoon for the convention to meet next at Niagara Falls. It was extended by the mayor and commercial bodies of the city. Montreal and Toronto are also spoken of. It is possible Niagara Falls will be accepted as a compromise.

Nearly All Delegates Present.

The delegates have practically all arrived. One to get in during the afternoon was Max Morris of Denver, international secretary-treasurer of the Retail Clerks. Morris has socialistic tendencies and generally manages to cause some interesting discussion at every convention on the question. The national heads of practically every body affiliated with the federation are delegates, in addition to men high in the councils of the federation otherwise. From Illinois are Secretary Ryan of the United Mine Workers and Thomas Ross of the bureau of labor statistics.

A number of social affairs have been arranged for the delegates. Last night the McKeesport Trades council gave a ball, and tonight Local 211 of the Carpenters and Joiners will give a smoker at Kenyon hall, Federal street, Allegheny, for delegates of the carpenters. Among the speakers will be W. D. Huber, national president; Frank Duffy, national secretary, and Delegates John Zearing, Los Angeles; Samuel Yarnell, Douglass, Ariz.; William McFarland, Buffalo; James Grimes, Houston, Tex., and A. M. Schwartz of this city.

Greetings were received yesterday from a number of labor unions, and a message of congratulation sent to Mayor Eugene Schmitz of San Francisco on his re-election.

PORT VUE MEN FREQUENTLY VISIT THE LADY BARBER

Port Vue men have become scrupulously careful about their appearance. There is a fierce demand for hot towels, shampoos, facial massage, hair cuts and tonics. Some citizens get shaved in the morning, drop around during the afternoon for scalp treatment and in the evening have their necks shaved. A "lady barber" has come to town.

Will Entertain State Delegates.

Preparations are being made by the Fifth Avenue Baptist church B. Y. P. U. of McKeesport for the entertainment of the state delegates to the meeting on December 11. The meeting will be in charge of the Rev. D. Percy French, secretary of the southwestern district. At the close of business there will be a banquet for the visitors, and in the evening there will be a public meeting when addresses are to be delivered by Mr. French and others.

SILENT ON CITY LIGHT CONTRACT

Callery Does Not Claim the City Will Save Money by Four-Year Extension.

MUNICIPAL PLANT ADVOCATED

James D. Callery, president of the Allegheny County Light Company, does not claim that his company will reduce the price of light to the city if the street lighting contract is extended by councils from one to four years, as proposed in Director Bigelow's ordinance which was introduced in councils Monday night. In fact, President Callery refuses to talk on the subject at all. He was asked the following question last night:

"Will your company lower the price of light to the city as an inducement to give you the contract for four years?"

"I have nothing to say about that. I am not talking just now," said Mr. Callery.

The contract will be let some time in December and goes into effect the first of January. The Duquesne Light Company officials say they will not be able to bid for the contract this year, although they secured a franchise over a year ago to build a plant and operate in the city. The Duquesne company will not be ready to do business for some time. It has practically settled upon a site for its power plant and claims to have the plans prepared and will soon invite bids for the construction of the plants.

Bigelow to Meet Callery.

Director Bigelow talks vaguely about the light contract. Although the ordinance which he prepared specifically states that the contract shall be for four years, when Mr. Bigelow was asked the question yesterday: "Will the contract be let for four years?" he replied: "I do not know." It is stated that some preliminaries remain to be arranged with the light company and the officials of the Philadelphia Company.

The director expects to have an important conference with President Callery and other prominent officials of the Philadelphia Company in a few days, both in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia. He left last night for New York and will stop today in Philadelphia.

The director yesterday attempted to create the impression that the Duquesne Light Company might be a competitor for the city contract against the Allegheny County Light Company, although the director knows that the Duquesne company has not yet built a plant. He made the same statement a year ago when he advertised for a four-year contract, claiming then also until the last minute that the Duquesne company would be a bidder, although its plans were then only as far advanced as they are now.

When Director Bigelow then continued to claim there would be competition, members of councils secured specific denials from President Robert C. Hall of the Duquesne company, and were ready to present written statements on the floor of councils when Mr. Bigelow withdrew from the fight for a four-year contract and accepted a contract limited to one year only.

Municipal Plant Advocated.

Pittsburgh is paying $95 per arc light a year, which amounts to a little over 26 cents an arc light a night. The proposition to extend the contract to four years in the absence of competition is reviving sentiment in favor of the city establishing a light plant of its own. It is figured that if the city owned its own light plant it would save at least $250,000 a year. The city now pays the Allegheny County Light Company $400,000 a year to light its streets, at the rate of $95 an arc light.

It is estimated by an expert that the city would save $35 on each arc light by owning its own plant, making the net cost to the city $60 for each light. The city of Allegheny has its own light plant and the superintendent, Alexander Gray, claims that a plant could be constructed to supply the two cities and Greater Pittsburgh at a cost of $2,355,000. It is estimated that a plant to supply the city of Pittsburgh alone would cost less than $2,000,000.

"I am strongly in favor of the city having its own light plant instead of paying $400,000 a year to a corporation, which means a big profit to it," said Assistant Controller E. S. Morrow yesterday. "It would require a bond issue, no doubt, but it would pay the city well. Now is a good time to meet the question, and I hope that something will be done."

Want to Manufacture a New Coupler.

The McKerahen Automatic Car Coupling Company of Wilmerding has applied for a charter to manufacture a coupling invented by Charles A. McKerahen, a molder in the brass foundry of the Westinghouse Airbrake Company. The new device is said to be superior to any of the couplings now in use.

Will Build Big Electric Plant.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—The London county council this evening decided to introduce a bill in parliament under which the council will construct a plant to supply all the electric energy for London and the suburbs at a cost estimated at $40,000,000.

WHO IS THERE AMONG THE READERS OF THIS PAPER THAT WOULD NOT SPEND A 2 CENT STAMP TO KNOW OF A certain, speedy cure for catarrh and deafness? We take it that there are none, especially those who want to be cured. If you'll send a 2-cent stamp to Pretzinger Bros., Chemists, Dayton, O., they will forward you a free sample of Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm. Experience demonstrates that this is the only remedy that positively cures every form of catarrhal deafness and catarrh. The first application gives relief. It is curing hundreds—Read what grateful people say about this remedy:

"I found the sample which you sent me to be the best remedy for catarrh I ever tried. It gave me immediate relief and stopped the awful roaring in my ears. I bought two jars of the balm, which cured me, although I had been bothered for 10 years. I have since recommended your balm to four other people who bought it from their druggists, and they all say that it is simply 'Out of sight' for catarrh." P. E. Helfman, 527 Washington St., Defiance, O.

JOE PATCHEN'S HALF BROTHER IS SHOT IN PRIDE STREET

Joe Patchen's half-brother was shot in Pride street last night and was unceremoniously turned over to the fallmaster. Today his carcass will be ground up for fertilizer. Next spring it will assist the corn crop—somewhere. This is the pathetic ending of an obscure relative of the horse that swept around the Lexington track in the record-breaking time of 1:55¾.

In the equine sense such is fame. On the docket at the Oakland police station is the mere entry that "Officer James Porter today was called to shoot a horse belonging to M. R. Carmichaels, at 22 Pride street." While there is no record to show that the officer fulfilled his duty, the report of Sergt. Calvin Barcley will show that poor old Jim was shot. Jim broke his leg and there was no other remedy. Six years ago he was brought from Tennessee and was a coach horse for three years. Then he lost his station because he ran off one day, after scaring at a trolley car. He was sold and started on the downward path. Finally he was bought by Carmichaels and was forced to do menial labor. His end was sudden and pathetic. Of course, Jim never saw his distinguished brother, who was reared on one of the big stock farms of Tennessee.

The Death Roll

Riccardo Ricci.

Word has been received of the death of Prof. Riccardo Ricci, well known in musical circles in the city, at Albuquerque, N. M., last Sunday. Prof. Ricci first appeared in this section of the country in 1882, when he opened a studio in Wheeling. Later he organized musical classes in Pittsburgh and divided his time here and in Wheeling. He abandoned his classes for a time and joined the "Bostonians," singing the role of Will Scarlet in "Robin Hood," in the same company with Barnabee and MacDonald. He has previously been connected with the Grau and Mapleson opera companies. He was a great friend of Sir Arthur Sullivan, the English composer. The deceased was born in Cork, Ireland, where his father conducted a school for boys. He received his early education there and completed his studies in London, England. His name was Richard Griffin, but when he became an American citizen he changed it to Riccardo Ricci. In 1876 he was married to Mrs. Clara Ross of Brighton, England, who survives him. Prof. Ricci was a sufferer from pulmonary trouble and three years ago removed to Denver in the hope of benefiting his health. About a year ago his health still further failing, he went to Albuquerque. Late last season the Mozart club of this city went to Wheeling and under the direction of Mr. McCullom gave a rousing benefit at the Court theater for the clever, whole-souled Irish gentleman who is no more.

Mrs. Louisa J. Dyer.

Mrs. Louisa J. Dyer, aged 70, widow of John Dyer, Jr., and mother of Councilman John Dyer of Aspinwall, died at her home in Second street, Aspinwall, yesterday morning. Mrs. Dyer was born in Allegheny, being the daughter of the late George W. Gumbs. In 1851 she married John Dyer, Jr., and the couple went to Aspinwall in 1891, being among the first settlers of the borough. She was a member of the Aspinwall Presbyterian church and is survived by these children: George H. Dyer of Tarentum, Frank Dyer of the South Side, John and William Dyer, Mrs. Ella Renonf and Mrs. W. F. Hough of Aspinwall. Sixteen grandchildren also survive.

Joseph Porter.

Joseph Porter, a veteran of the civil war, known to all the older residents of the East End as a man of the kindliest disposition, died Sunday at the Soldiers' home, Dayton, O. Mr. Porter was born in Westmoreland county, near Monroeville, July 12, 1824, and was the son of Andrew and Sarah Porter. He was a carpenter. At the outbreak of the civil war he enlisted in a Pennsylvania regiment and served throughout the war, being one of the many prisoners in the Andersonville prison, where he was incarcerated over a year. He was married to Nancy Ann Patterson of Murrysville, who died May 29, 1886. Mr. Porter was a member of the Park Avenue Presbyterian church. Surviving him are the following children: Mrs. William McComb, Unity; Mrs. Edward Hoey and Mrs. George Hoey, McKeesport; Samuel Porter, Clarion, and William and Harry Porter of this city. Funeral services will be held at the residence of his son, William Porter, 178 Floral street, this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, conducted by the Rev. Dr. George W. Chalfant. The interment will be in the Homewood cemetery.

Mrs. Harriet Lippincott Scobie.

Mrs. Harriet Lippincott Scobie, wife of William Scobie, senior member of the firm of Scobie & Parker of Liberty avenue, died yesterday morning at her winter home, "Melrose Hall," Ormond-on-the-Halifax, Fla. She had been ill for the past year with a heart affection. Mrs. Scobie was a sister of the late Jesse H. Lippincott, of Mrs. Henry Vance of Pittsburgh and of Miss Anna M. Lippincott of Ormond, Fla. She was for many years an active member of the Fourth Avenue Baptist church. Temporary interment will be at Ormond at 2 p. m. Saturday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Clark.

Mrs. Elizabeth Clark, aged 90, died last night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. S. Eaton, 6209 Sellers avenue, East End, after a short illness. She was born in Allegheny and had lived in this vicinity all her life. She was a member of Calvary Protestant Episcopal church, and prominently identified with the work of the Women's exchange. She is survived only by her daughter and one grandchild. Funeral services will be held at the home of Mrs. Eaton on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Sydney F. Heckert.

Mrs. Margaret Malone Heckert, aged 31, wife of Sydney F. Heckert, died suddenly yesterday morning at her home, 509 Forrest avenue, Avalon. Mrs. Heckert was born in Sandusky, O., but spent most of her life in Toledo. She has lived in Avalon the past two years. Mrs. Heckert was a graduate nurse and an active church and hospital worker. She was a member of the Suburban General Hospital club of Avalon, and is survived by her husband and twin daughters, born Monday.

Thomas Smith.

Thomas Smith, aged about 50, and one of the best known of the Monongahela pool pilots, died yesterday morning at Marshalsea, where he had been confined for the past three months on account of insanity. He was single and lived at 3 Crayton avenue, Allegheny. For many years he was employed by the river coal firm of Joseph Walton & Co., and later by the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company. He was a member of Harbor No. 25 of the American Association of Masters and Pilots of Pittsburgh.

Obituary Notes.

John Elfe died yesterday near Thomas, Washington county, aged 81. He was a prosperous farmer. He is survived by his widow and four children.

Mrs. Mary Leithold, wife of Edward Leithold, died at Charleroi yesterday. She was 51 years of age. Besides her husband she leaves four sons, Paul, Frank, William and Henry.

WILL ENFORCE WIDE TIRE RULE

Commissioners Order Road Engineer to See That Teamsters Protect the Roads.

ONE LAWSUIT IS PROMISED

After December 1 teamsters who do not use wide tires on their wagons will be prosecuted if they drive over the improved roads of the county. At a meeting of the commissioners, yesterday, Road Engineer Patterson was instructed to prepare for the enforcement of the new law beginning with the first of the month.

The last legislature gave the commissioners authority to prepare rules governing the width of wagon tires to be used on vehicles driven over the improved roads. Some time ago the commissioners caused the rules to be published in the daily papers and announced they would become effective December 1.

The width of the tire is regulated by the size of the load, as follows: Where load exceeds 1,000 pounds and not 2,000, 2 inch tires; where load exceeds 2,000 pounds and not 5,000, 3 inch tire; where load exceeds 5,000 pounds and not 6,000 pounds, 4 inch tire, and when the load is in excess of 6,000 pounds the tire must not be less than 6 inches in width. None but steel shoe locks can be used on the wagons. The lock must be approved by the road engineer. There is a fine of $10 for each violation of the rules.

In order to protect the farmers, who make a few trips to town each week, the rules provide that where less than four loads each week are hauled over the roads, the owner of such vehicles do not need to comply with the tire regulations.

Commissioner Evens says James Topley of McKeesport has threatened to bring suit against the county if an effort is made to force him to comply with the tire regulations. Topley has a coal mine a short distance outside of McKeesport and has about 20 teams hauling coal over the White Oak road. He says the enforcement of the rules will interfere with his business. The commissioners say he will have to equip his wagons in accordance with the rules.

The commissioners have received no reply from the trustees of the Third United Presbyterian church in response to the offer of $275,000 for their property. They have asked for a prompt answer and expect it.

Beats Out Dog's Brains.

After being twice bitten by a ferocious bulldog yesterday, David Olson, a driver in the employ of County Register-Elect Robert E. Stone of McKeesport, finally killed it by literally beating its brains out with a hammer. While Olson's injuries are not serious they are being carefully watched. It is believed the dog had rabies.

Engineers Discuss Bearings.

"Bearings" was the subject at the meeting of the mechanical section of the Engineers' society last evening. There were close to 50 members present. The meeting was preceded by an informal dinner at the Atlantic Garden.

HORSES OF ALL KINDS ARE SHOWN

Madison Square Garden Is Center of Attraction Despite Society Ball by Royalty.

PITTSBURGHERS FARE WELL

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Although the horse show tonight had a formidable competitor for fashionable favor in Prince Louis of Battenburg's ball aboard the flagship Drake, society was well represented in Madison Square garden, while during the day there was no flagging in the interest that attend the judging of the various classes.

On the opening night royalty and beauty held supreme sway, but today the horse occupied the center of the stage.

The morning was devoted to judging the various classes of hackneys. Shetlands were the leading attraction in the afternoon, and the evening was mainly devoted to the judging of polo ponies and harness horses, including some famous four-in-hands and pairs driven by the owners.

The meeting of the ponies Berkley Bantam and Doncaster Model was the event of the afternoon. The former is owned by Judge Moore of Chicago and the latter by Mrs. John Gerken of this city. There was a last year's rivalry to settle in today's contest between these ponies, for at the last horse show Berkley Bantam, by defeating his rival, earned the title of the greatest pony in this country, other than Shetlands. Mrs. Gerken herself drove Doncaster Model today, but Berkley Bantam was again declared to be the champion pony.

The contest for the Aldie challenge cup was on today. This cup must be won twice before it becomes the permanent property of the winner, and is given for the best hackney or half-bred hackney. Today E. D. Jordan's Flashlight took the cup.

Alfred G. Vanderbilt scored his first decisive victory in the four-in-hand park teams this afternoon driving his famous team consisting of Rustling Silk, Full Dress, Portia and Sweet Marie.

Mrs. John Gerken was consoled for the defeat of Doncaster Model when her champion pony, Torchlight, defeated the former champion Enfield Nipper, owned by the Irvington stock farm of Sewickley, Pa.

Alfred G. Vanderbilt won another blue ribbon in the last event in the afternoon with Sweet Marie and Portia in the class for teams attached to private omnibuses, competing against his brother Reginald, William H. Moore of Chicago and C. F. Watson of Baltimore.

Pittsburgh scored on the very first day of the horse show. In the class for qualified hunters carrying up to 190 pounds, where conformation and quality counted 50 per cent and performances over fences 50 per cent, E. M. Byers' Rapidan Captured the first prize of $200. He was ridden by D. C. Byers.

James H. Childs was third with Rollicking Girl and Captain Jinks in the novice class for pairs in harness.

First prize went to C. W. Watson's Lord Baltimore and My Maryland, and second prize to W. H. Moore's pair. Mr. Child's entry was driven by Charles Fowles.

STRONG FIGHT STARTED AGAINST SCHOOL ANNEX

Residents of Twenty-first Ward to Contest Acceptance of Larimer Avenue Addition.

Residents of the Twenty-first ward met in the Lincoln avenue school last night and decided to take measures to prevent the directors from accepting the addition to the Larimer avenue building. Between 75 and 100 persons were present. Col. T. J. Rutledge was chairman and W. C. Young secretary. John Bradley presented a resolution, which was adopted. The preamble set forth that the addition will cost when furnished, $135,000; that according to report the specifications were to be followed; that many necessaries were omitted; that poor workmanship prevailed; that from $8,000 to $10,00 will be required to complete the building and that it is thought the directors are about to accept the building. The resolutions protest against acceptance and provide for a committee of five to notify the directors of the action of the meeting, to call other meetings, to employ counsel and collect money to meet expenses.

C. J. Petgen, John Bradley, William Wieman, H. B. Oursler and P. A. Gamble were appointed on the committee.

Directors W. C. Hamilton, J. M. Skelly, G. M. Hunter, E. L. Stratton and E. E. Wintersgill, were at the meeting. The board deadlocked over accepting the addition. At the last meeting Hunter, who had voted against acceptance, changed his vote, but Skelly also changed and the deadlock continued. Now the people who called the citizens meeting fear that Skelly will reverse himself again and that the building will be accepted.

INSPECT PUMP STATION.

Allegheny Councils and City Officials Visit Montrose and See New Manifold System.

Allegheny city officials and members of both branches of councils, yesterday visited the pumping station at Montrose to make an inspection of the new manifold system recently installed. The party numbered about 100, went to Montrose on a West Penn train shortly after noon and spent the afternoon there. The manifold plant cost $250,000 and was manufactured in Buffalo.

The inspection proved instructive to many of the councilmen, who had never before visited a pumping station. The city officials expressed themselves as being satisfied with the new apparatus. Director McIlvain of the public works department said that the pumping facilities of Allegheny at present are excellent, except at the Howard street station, where big improvements have been provided for, and will be started soon.

LOSES FOOT BY FALL.

Contractor Walter S. Booth Drops Ten Feet Into Cellar and Is Seriously Injured.

Walter S. Booth of the firm of Booth & Reichard, contractors, while supervising work on a building being erected at Penn avenue and Beatty street, stepped upon a loose plank and fell 10 feet to the cellar. He suffered a compound fracture of the right leg above the ankle. Dr. S. G. Gilmer attended him and he was taken to St. Francis' hospital, where it was found necessary to amputate the foot, as the bones had protruded from the flesh, causing a very ugly wound.

At a late hour last night Mr. Booth was reported as resting easily, and his complete recovery is looked for.

The duchess of Marlborough's portrait, produced by a process hitherto unattempted in magazine literature, appears in the December issue of The Smart Set as a frontispiece—a distinctive, new feature. This is the first of a series of portraits of women distinguished as leaders of society in the metropolitan cities of the world to be published monthly in this enterprising magazine.

APPLICATION FOR A WRIT OF CERTIORARI

Mrs. Chadwick's Attorneys Hope to Obtain a Review from Supreme Court of Appeals.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]
CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 14.—Ex-Judge F. J. Wing, counsel for Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick, announced today that an application for a writ of certiorari is now being prepared and will be submitted to the supreme court of the United States with a view to obtaining a review of Mrs. Chadwick's case before that tribunal. The supreme court will be asked to consider Mrs. Chadwick's case on the general ground that errors were made in her trial here before the United States district court, and also in the United States circuit court of appeals at Cincinnati.

District Attorney Sullivan, who prosecuted the case against Mrs. Chadwick on behalf of the government, was apparently not surprised when he learned this afternoon that the defense would file an application with the United States supreme court for a writ of certiorari. Asked if the filing of the application would in itself cause a stay of execution of sentence, Mr. Sullivan said he thought not.

"As soon as the mandate of the court of appeals is filed here it will become the duty of the United States marshal to remove Mrs. Chadwick to the penitentiary," said the district attorney. "If the supreme court should intervene in the case prior to the filing of the mandate of the court of appeals," he added, "then of course a stay of execution of sentence will probably be ordered by the supreme court, providing that is asked for by her attorneys."

Since the decision by the circuit court of appeals in her case, Mrs. Chadwick has been in an extremely nervous condition. She declared today that she had not been convicted on the evidence produced by the government. She insists that she did no more in her dealings with the Oberlin bank than what business men do every day in overdrawing their bank accounts.

CENTRAL LUTHER LEAGUE HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

Branches of Work Are Discussed and New Officers for Coming Year Are Elected.

The twenty-seventh annual convention of the Pittsburgh Central Luther league was held yesterday in St. John's church, Jumonville and Forbes streets, with sessions morning, afternoon and evening. The pastor, the Rev. W. H. Fehr, offered greetings and the Rev. H. D. Matins officiated during matins.

The morning session was devoted to addresses by the Revs. J. E. Bittle of Turtle Creek and J. A. Gongaware of the First church, Grant street. Following lunch in the church, the Rev. John Yount of Homestead delivered an address and Miss Esther S. Ramage of Allegheny read a paper on "Results in Junior Work." Discussion was led by the Rev. S. W. Carpenter of Pittsburgh. "The Leader in the Meeting" was the subject of a paper by Miss Irene Barthlomew of Prospect. Miss Clara Hahn of Allegheny spoke on "The Members' Part in the Meeting," which was discussed at length. Reports of officers and committees followed after the election of officers was held with the following result: President, Charles W. Fuhr; recording secretary, Miss Lulu Riester; statistical secretary, Miss Anna Keown, and treasurer, Miss Anna K. Shanor. East Liverpool, O., was selected as the next place of meeting in May next.

The night session was devoted to hearing a number of addresses. The Rev. W. H. Nicholas of Troy Hill spoke on "Greater Christian Activity," urging closer attention to church work by young people. "Loyalty to Our Church" was the subject of a talk by the Rev. Dr. W. J. Miller of Beaver. He discussed the history of the church and the support looked for and given by the Luther league. Following these and other addresses President Fuhr announced these committee appointments for the ensuing year:

Extension committee—O. H. Barnes, Carl Grabs, Chas. Zoller, F. W. Richter, C. W. H. Hess, N. W. Long, Walter Schuchman, Joseph Ogsterle, Leo Reinhartz and Revs. W. D. Hoover, W. E. Brown and G. I. Lenker.

Nominating committee—The Revs. J. A. Yount, E. O. Graham and R. G. Rosenbaum.

Press committee—The Revs. W. E. Brown, Ely Miller, G. I. Lenker, J. W. Guss and W. H. Fehr.

LURES RUSH FROM OHIO WITHOUT EXTRADITION

Coal Miners' Union Official Landed in Jail by County Detective on Embezzlement Charge.

George P. Rush, treasurer of the coal miners' union at Imperial, was lodged in jail last night by County Detective John W. Reed. A bench warrant was issued last Monday by Judge Macfarlane for Rush's arrest on a charge of embezzling about $50 of the funds of the union. Reed found Rush in Ohio and by a ruse induced him to come over into Pennsylvania without extradition papers.

The alleged embezzlement occurred about two months ago. Through letters Rush was traced to Dillonville, O., and Reed went after him yesterday. At Dillonville Reed learned that Rush had gone to Crow Hollow, and following him there found he had left for Wattsville. There Reed found him. Rush, the detective says, understanding that he ought to come back and have the case settled, consented to return. Reed got him to Alliance and then to Pittsburgh.

On their arrival in town Reed took Rush to the county detective headquarters and from there he went to jail. In front of the jail Rush balked, for he had thought he was to be taken to a hotel and put to bed.

"My arrest is not legal," he said, "for the detective out in Ohio did not put his hand upon me and say 'in the name of the law you are my prisoner.'"

SPEAKEASY AT CENTRAL.

Rohman's Charge of One Being There on Election Day to Be Heard.

Louis Johnson, a colored employe at the Central police station, will have a hearing before Alderman McMasters today on the charge of keeping a speakeasy at the station on election day, the technical charge being illegal liquor selling. The information was made by George H. Rohman, a Republican watcher, who was arrested by the police on election day and who says that he and another prisoner, Robert Scott, each bought a drink of whisky from Johnson. Johnson has been suspended pending a trial of the charge against him by the police board. Rohman has been asked to testify, but he says the police trial will be a farce, and he will not attend.

CRESS HAD ONE APPLE.

Claim That He Was a Huckster Did Not Prevent Arrest.

Carrying in his hand a single apple and claiming to be a peddler of apples and potatoes, John Cress was arrested last evening in the vestibule of 607 Union avenue, Allegheny. The complaint was made by Miss A. Wright, a dressmaker, who claims Cress answers the description of the man who stole a valuable dress from her room Sunday night.

When found in the vestibule Cress was asked what he was doing, and replied he was selling apples and potatoes, showing the lone apple to prove it. His wagon was outside, he said. Search of the neighborhood failed to disclose the wagon.

Will Investigate Alleged Fraud.

WILKES-BARRE, Nov. 14.—District Attorney Jones today ordered an investigation of the vote in several of the township districts of this county where, it is alleged, fraud was practiced at the recent election.

SENATE WILL ASK AN EXPLANATION

SENATORS READY TO ACT

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 14.

On the opening day of the next session of congress, December 4, a sensational incident is scheduled to take place in the United States senate. It is expected that Senator William A. Clark of Montana will rise in his place to a question of personal privilege and demand that Thomas W. Lawson and Henry H. Rogers be haled before the bar of the senate to explain what they know of a charge that votes in the senate were controlled and bargained with between Rogers and Clark. If Senator Clark does not raise the question there are other senators who will do so.

In the November number of Everybody's magazine, Mr. Lawson has a chapter devoted to the election of Clark to the United States senate. He says when Clark was first elected Mr. Rogers threatened him with expulsion from that body unless Clark broke with Heinze in the copper business. It is stated that Rogers openly boasted that Standard Oil had the influence in the upper branch of congress to do this, and as confirmatory evidence Mr. Lawson cites the action taken by the senate which would have resulted in the expulsion of Clark had he not resigned his seat.

It is stated in the article that when Clark was again elected by the Montana legislature, Mr. Rogers held a conference with him and again threatened him with expulsion if he did not break with Heinze and join forces with Standard Oil. Clark doubted the influence of Rogers with the United States senators, Mr. Lawson says, and finally offered to yield to Rogers' demand if the Standard Oil magnate would show him a majority of the members of the senate pledged in writing to expel him. This would be proof positive that Standard Oil could carry out its threat.

Within one week from the date of this conference, Mr. Lawson states that Henry H. Rogers exhibited to Senator Clark the signatures of two more than a majority of the senate, attached to a written pledge to vote for a resolution expelling Clark from the senate, and thereupon an alliance between the Montana senator and Standard Oil was accomplished, which has been in force ever since.

While Senator Clark is the most interested of any of the senators in this article, since he is directly accused of participating in the bargain, yet all of the senators will feel the humiliation of it and they will demand an investigation. They will look first to Mr. Clark to raise the question and demand that Lawson and Rogers be brought before the bar of the senate, but if for any reason he should show a disinclination to take the initiative, there are plenty of others who will not hesitate. One senator who is in the city has taken a great interest in the matter and will be ready to bring the subject to the attention of the senate if none of his colleagues do.

GREAT CROWD TURNS OUT FOR BURTON HOLMES' TALK

Many Get Seats Where They Cannot See—Pictures Not Up to Standard.

Burton Holmes lectured at the Carnegie Music hall last night on the siege of Port Arthur. To the people who were fortunate enough to secure seats in the center of the hall it was a very pleasing entertainment. To others it was a most unsatisfactory exhibition. There were at least 400 seats sold in the hall where it was impossible to get a clear view of the stage, and consequently it was practically impossible to get a view of the screen. The people in these seats struggled to hear the voice of the lecturer, but they saw practically nothing of the pictures.

The interest shown in the lecture was marvelous. When the doors were opened at 7:30 o'clock there were few seats left. Standing room last night brought 50 cents and seats in the top balcony, where little of the stage could be seen, brought 75 cents. Women who came late were asked $1 50 for seats in the boxes. In these it was almost impossible to see anything of the exhibition on the screen.

The Port Arthur pictures are not as good as those formerly shown by the lecturer. This is accounted for by the fact that Holmes secured most of his negatives from the war correspondents. To persons who read the newspaper or the periodical accounts of the Japanese-Russian war, most of the lecture is an old story.

Mr. Holmes has little elocutionary ability, and recites the titles of the pictures in a sing-song fashion. Considering the selling of seats where people could not see, together with the exhibition of old pictures, the Burton Holmes exhibition must honestly be said to have deteriorated.

NO MORE RYE FOR HIM.

Heartily Welcomed Scotchman Declares Glasgow and Barley Are the Only Simple Life.

In America but 23 hours, John Johnston of Glasgow, Scotland, left his old love, the transparent product of barley and took to the deep-red juice of rye. His end was at the Forty-third street police station, where in tearful accents he made the vow that he would promptly return to "auld Glasgow, where not so many devils lurk in the drink."

Upon reaching Pittsburgh yesterday the Scotchman was met by his brother, Robert Johnston of Fifty-fourth and Butler streets, and his friend, A. J. Lone of 127 Edmond street. The celebration of the newcomer's arrival was very hearty, and that combined with the sealegs that still stuck to him, was the cause of John Johnston falling heavily to the pavement at Thirty-fourth street and Penn avenue. A policeman took the trio in charge, but at the police station John was sent at once to St. Francis hospital, where five stitches were put into his cut forehead.

When searched he proved to be a great international numismatist. He had 70 half-sovereigns, 20 sovereigns and $23 in United States gold and paper.

OPINIONS HANDED DOWN.

West Virginia Court of Appeals Makes Known Several Decisions.

CHARLESTON, W. VA., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—The supreme court of appeals today handed down the following opinions: State vs. Jesse Briggs, Fayette county, judgment affirmed; Peace et al. vs. Carney et al, Summers county, decree modified and affirmed; Campbell vs. city of Elkins, Randolph county, judgment affirmed; Keller vs. Keller, Barbour county, decree refused; state vs. Pridmore, writ of error refused.

In the case of Graffin vs. Coal company, Harrison county, it is held that where a granter conveys all the coal there is no requirement compelling the grantee to reserve a sufficient amount to uphold the surface. A great deal of surface value depended upon the decision in this case.

B. & O. Will Build a New Station.

CUMBERLAND, MD., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company has decided to erect a new station here at a cost of $50,000. It is stated that the tracks at the new station will be covered by a trainshed.

MANIAC MOTHER HURLS BOY FROM HIGH WINDOW

While Little One Begs Her Not to Kill Herself She Drops Him Through Skylight.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]
CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Becoming suddenly insane, Mrs. Benjamin Giest, living at 113 Wells street, this morning hurled her 5-year-old son, Lucas, out of a third-story window, and then attempted to kill herself with a revolver.

The screams of Mrs. Giest alarmed her landlady, Mrs. William Barton, who ran into Mrs. Giest's apartments to see what was the matter. Mrs. Giest was running around the rooms flourishing a revolver while the little boy was begging her not to kill herself. Mrs. Giest had lit every gas jet in the place and demanded that Mrs. Barton bring her more lamps. Mrs. Barton declared that she did not have any more, and Mrs. Giest attempted to shoot her. Mrs. Barton, closely pursued, fled to the sidewalk, and made her escape.

Mrs. Giest then rushed back to her rooms and picking up the little boy tossed him out of the window. The boy as he fell went through a skylight and narrowly missed Miss Lola Woods, employed in a department store on the first floor, and crashed into a basket of crockery which had been left on the pavement.

The child was taken to the county hospital where it was said he would probably recover. The mother was overpowered after a desperate struggle, during which she attempted suicide with the revolver. She was taken to the detention hospital for the insane.

GRAFT CASES ARE CALLED AT LAST

Trials of Over 100 Women of Allegheny Will Be Started Today or Next Monday.

IMMORAL RESORTS DOOMED

District Attorney Stewart yesterday put on the trial list a large number of the Allegheny graft cases. Of the 100 or more indictments found against women operating resorts and men running gambling dens, about 30 will be heard either this week or next monday. Maj. Stewart is determined to have all the Allegheny graft cases disposed of as quickly as possible. Attorneys John Marron and John C. Haymaker are ready to proceed, but suggested that it might be wise to postpone the cases until next Monday. At that time Judge Umbel of Fayette county will sit in quarter sessions court to assist the local judges to clean up an overcrowded docket.

Among those who will be tried first are William Ford and Matt Steel, who were favorites of the Wyman administration. When Steel was arrested it was intimated he would make a confession that would reveal the dealings between the Allegheny police officials and those who negotiated gambling privileges. It was learned yesterday that Steel had never "squealed" and expects to take whatever punishment is imposed.

The district attorney is going to establish a precedent in disposing of the cases against women charged with keeping disorderly resorts. All those who promise to leave the city permanently and pay the costs of the cases against them will have their cases nolle prossed.

This plan should prove a solution, for a time at least, of the problem of abolishing such resorts in a big city. More than 100 women were taken in the big raid of the county detectives a year ago, and each one is the alleged proprietress of a disorderly resort. In case all accept the contemplated terms of the district attorney, in lieu of a workhouse sentence, it will close up at least 100 disorderly houses and speakeasies.

Following the disposition of the minor cases on the calendar, the trial of Director Thomas B. Scandrett will be called. He is charged with extortion, and the witnesses against him are men who assert they were given gambling concessions in the First ward for a money consideration paid directly to Scandrett.

Officers from the district attorney's office last night went through the First and Fourth wards of Allegheny for the purpose of locating witnesses for the commonwealth whose services will be needed either this week or next.

STEEL STOCKS SHOW UP STRONG

INVESTORS ARE NOT SCARED

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Herald Building, Herald Square, NEW YORK, Nov. 14.

The action of the securities of the United States Steel Corporation since the first of the year, particularly during the past week, when unfavorable money conditions induced a heavy selling movement, indicates that traders bearishly inclined have abandoned the idea, temporarily at least, that the steel stocks with their heavy capitalization, give way more easily to attack than the issues of other corporations not so heavily overcapitalized.

The steel shares have been picked out on different occasions by traders who desired to influence a general downward movement in stocks, but, judging from market fluctuations this year, the practice has been abandoned. Perhaps the excellent conditions of the iron and steel industry, and more promising outlook, has brought about a change in sentiment, but it appears that the steel stocks do not now present so many inducements as a target for a general onslaught on the market as in the past. This can be attributed to a number of causes, among them the reduction in the amount of preferred stock outstanding through the stock conversion plan.

The wide distribution of the securities, as shown by the exceptionally large increase in the number of shareholders, is an evidence that the stocks have been well digested by the public.

The ability of the corporation to earn sufficient money to pay the preferred dividend in periods of adversity as well as prosperity.

The heavy reductions in operating costs which make disbursements to stockholders more necessary.

The closer alliance with independent producers of steel in this country and abroad, which will minimize the possibility of trade wars.

Fluctuations in the steel issues have been confined within narrow limits this year. The preferred has ranged between 90¾ and 105⅝, and the common between 24¾ and 39⅜. The preferred ranged between 51¼ and 95⅝, in 1904, and the common between 8⅝ and 35⅛.

The United States Steel issues have not enjoyed an advance since the first of the year proportionate with the majority of stocks, but the most gratifying feature to stockholders has been their ability to resist speculative attacks.

BURGLARS—DEAD OR ALIVE WORTH CASH AT OAKMONT

Dead or alive—Oakmont burglars will be worth hard cash to their captors. There have been so many burglaries in the borough recently that an organization is to be formed for the purpose of capturing and punishing the robbers, and part of the plan is to offer a substantial reward for their capture—hot or cold. Early yesterday morning an attempt was made to enter the home of John Duncan in Seventh street, but the thieves were frighened away by a watchdog. Within the last week the homes of Jacob Paul, the Misses Macrum, J. T. Henderson, George Neilson and Feltdio Canuti have been entered. At Paul's silverware was secured. Small amounts of cash were taken at the other residences. Young men who seem to have no employment and who are seen about the streets late at night are under suspicion.

WABASH MUST FIGHT TO ENTER WASHINGTON

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—A bitter fight between the Pennsylvania and Wabash railroads, as the result of an attempt of the latter to gain entrance into Washington, is predicted in local railway circles as the outcome of the decision of the supreme court of the United States against the Chesapeake Beach Railway Company.

The decision was a final affirmation of a decision of the court of appeals of the District of Columbia recognizing the title of the Washington, Potomac, & Chesapeake Railroad Company to slightly over two miles of the right-of-way and roadbed in the district, to which the Chesapeake Beach road had laid claim on the ground of abandonment. Both the Wabash and Baltimore & Ohio railroads, it is said, have watched for the outcome of this litigation, the former anxious to get the property to gain entrance into the district and the new Union station, and the latter equally anxious to obtain it to shut out the competition, it is alleged.

Earns More Than Three Times the Amount Needed to Pay Dividends on Preferred Stock.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—(Special.)—While no statement of the earnings of the Bethlehem Steel Company will be made public it can be stated they are more than three times in excess of the preferred dividend requirements.

There is $16,000,000 7 per cent preferred stock outstanding, and earnings are running between $3,500,000 and $4,000,000 a year. With the additions and improvements now under way earnings next year are expected to show a large increase over the current year.

MONUMENT TO BRADDOCK.

Carnegie Round Table Considers Marking Field Where Battle Was Fought

The Carnegie Round Table of Braddock met last evening in the interest of a project to erect a monument on the battlefield where Braddock met defeat 150 years ago. Nearly 200 were present, and the dinner was served at 6 o'clock.

G. E. G. Gray presided at the meeting which followed, and the following addresses were made: "The Monongahela Battle as an Incident in a Great World Movement," Dr. Temple, Washington and Jefferson college; "Local History from a French Standpoint," the Rev. A. A. Lambing; "Local Events in the History of Allegheny County," Judge S. A. McClung. Monongahela de Beaujeu, who was to have been the guest of honor, was unable to be present on account of illness.

HOUDINI IN A JACKET HAS BAD QUARTER HOUR

Prominent Local Men Put Defier of All Restraint to a Severe Test.

Harry Houdini, the young man who boasts that the strait jacket, manacle or prison lock is not made that can hold him, was called upon to demonstrate his prowess at the Grand Opera house last night most unexpectedly. The audience had an exciting quarter of an hour as a result.

Col. J. Harry Corbett, deputy warden at the Western penitentiary; Alderman Charles C. McGovern, ex-detective, and John F. McTighe, former superintendent of police, appeared on the scene with a strait jacket of the sort used for confining the murderous insane. They imposed the condition that Houdini liberate himself in full view of the audience in order that any devices such as traps or similar aids might be forestalled. Houdini accepted the challenge and Col. Corbett bound the performer, the other two challengers assisting.

Houdini's usual expedients failed and he threw himself prostrate on the floor in his efforts to free himself. After 15 minutes of struggling he managed to free one arm, but on account of the sealed cuff of the jacket he could not use his fingers on the straps. He ultimately managed to loosen the straps in the back enough to slip the strait jacket over his feet. The audience had been sitting tense in its interest, and when the victory was complete there was a tumultous ovation. Houdini was called before the curtain a number of times, but in his weakened condition finally had to refuse answer to further calls.

CENTRAL BOARD MEETS.

Comes Into Possession of the Magee Property at Last—Boundary Street Mixup.

The central board of education has at last come into possession of a site for the new high school, the Magee property in Forbes street, east of Junction hollow. Notice to this effect was given to the board at its meeting last night by W. J. Brennen, the board's solicitor. Mr. Brennen also informed the board that the city and the Baltimore & Ohio railroad have exchanged Boundary street, which runs through the hollow, for the railroad right of way and this throws Boundary street on the school site. Since the purchase was first suggested there has been much talk of the amount the board would receive for this right of way and the members did not understand the position created by this exchange. The matter was referred to the railroad committee, consisting of George W. Gosser, John F. O'Toole, John McKain, Robert McMillen and W. H. McKelvey.

Only routine business was transacted last night. President Gillespie was absent and Dr. W. H. McKelvey presided. A request of Supt. Samuel Andrews that the schools be closed on Friday, December 1, the day after Thanksgiving, to enable teachers to attend the midwinter institute, was granted. Teachers will be paid only on condition that they attend the institute.

The Oakland and Mt. Albion sub-districts were authorized to open night schools; one new teacher was allowed to the Liberty and two to the Moorhead subdistricts. The enrollment of pupils in September was 44,302, an increase of 1,203 over September of 1904.

SPACE TOO LIMITED.

Government Building Again Proves Inadequate for Demands Upon It.

The necessity for an addition to the government building was made more clearly evident yesterday morning when Alfred W. Cooley of the civil service commission applied for a place in which to conduct examinations and was informed that it was almost impossible to furnish the desired room. Rumors are afloat to the effect that the treasury department will be made to secure the property in the rear, and bridge Cherry Alley.

On November 22 a civil service examination will be held for a trained nurse in the canal district; December 6, for position of computer in bureau of forestry; on the same date examinations will be held for electrical assistants as well as for a stationary engineer.

CARNEGIE SCHOOLBOY DIES FROM BITE OF MAD DOG

Frederick Ebner, aged 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ebner, died yesterday morning from hydrophobia, following the bite of a dog on Labor day. Physicians had declared the case hopeless several days before. The pupils of the Second ward school, which the boy attended, will send a large floral tribute to their schoolmate. The funeral will be held tomorrow. The citizens of Carnegie are demanding a campaign against stray dogs.

Hangs Himself With His Suspenders.

CANAL DOVER, O., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—By twisting his suspenders around his neck and then attaching them to the top of his cell, Peter Maurer, aged 46, committed suicide in the city jail here this morning. Maurer had been arrested for cruelty to his family. He made an unsuccessful attempt at suicide Sunday morning.

DR. ELIOT MAKES A PLEA TO ENCOURAGE IDEALISM

As a conclusion to the first day's session of the Meadville district conference of the Unitarian churches, which opened in the First church, Ellsworth avenue, yesterday afternoon, the Rev. Dr. Samuel A. Eliot, president of the National Unitarian association, delivered the conference sermon last night.

Dr. Eliot's address was scholarly and rhetorical, and was in the nature of a plea for recognition of the superiority of idealism over reality. He held that spiritual life could not be weighed or measured, that emotion outlives youth, and poetry outlives law. The plays of Shakespeare, he said, would be read long after parliaments would cease to legislate, that the power of Christ did not lie in argument, and that the Christian church had survived because of its spirit, rather than upon its dogmas.

"The most ordinary souls I have ever met had a fairyland somewhere," he declared. "Every child is a poet, every lover is a poet, every mother is a poet. These dreams and loves—are they not the great realisms of your life, and my life? They are not bubbles that burst upon touch. The only things worth thinking about in this world are mysterious things. The things worth thinking about are the things we have not attained. I sometimes have thought the best things in religion are the musical things. The sayings of Jesus are essentially lyrical. I have never heard anyone sing the 35 articles or sing a controversy.

"Your common sense is not in a bit of danger in a Unitarian church. Let a little light take the place of too much heat in your hearts. Be rational enough to admit religion for your heart and worship for your spirit. Things seen are temporal; things not seen are eternal."

Preceding the address the Rev. W. H. Fish, Jr., of Meadville, read from the Scriptures, while during the services Luigi von Kunits rendered a violin obligato, Mrs. Emma P. Makinson sang several solos and Mrs. Kate Gockleston Lippa presided at the organ.

The afternoon session of conference was devoted to a meeting of the executive committee and the Women's alliance, the latter organization planning to federate the various alliances in the conference district, which it is hoped will be accomplished today, when the conference will conclude with sessions morning, afternoon and evening.

RIDE ON ELECTRIC ENGINE.

District Managers of Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company Have Novel Experience.

The meeting of the district managers of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, in session this week at the general offices, had for its special attraction yesterday a ride from East Pittsburgh to Trafford City in a special car attached to the Westinghouse single-phase alternating current locomotive. Many of the managers rode on the engine itself. This is the machine for 25 of which the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad recently awarded a contract.

The following papers were read during the business sessions: "The Production Problem and Allied Matters," L. A. Osborne, vice president; "Troubles," W. E. Dunlap, assistant to third vice president; "Correspondence and Office Methods," D. E. Manson, Boston; "Publicity," C. S. Powell, New York; "Industrial and Power Department," S. L. Nicholson, Pittsburgh; "Development of Trade Relations for the Sale of Small Apparatus," W. W. Briggs, San Francisco.

IN FOR SAFE KEEPING.

Bank President Is in Jail So He Will Be Handy When His Trial Comes Up.

NORFOLK, NEB., Nov. 14.—Bernard McGreevy, former president of the defunct Elk Horn Valley bank at O'Neil, Neb., who fled to Mexico at the time of the failure of that bank last spring and who was brought back and subsequently released on bail, has again been placed in jail.

This action was taken by County Attorney Mullen on the ground that he was afraid McGreevy would attempt to evade the law again by fleeing from the country.

CASTRO'S LAWYER ANSWERS CHARGES

COMPANY FINANCED TROUBLE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—In reply to the recently published statement of the New York and Bermudez company concerning the aid given by that company to the Matos rebellion in Venezuela in 1901 and 1902, Rufus B. Cowing, Jr., counsel for Venezuela during the recent examination of witnesses in this country in the suit of the Venezuelan government against the New York and Bermudez company for $11,000,000 damages sustained by the government in putting down the rebellion fostered by the company, said today:

The statement published by the New York and Bermudez company is an exact reproduction of the testimony given by the vice president of the company, Gen. Avery D. Andrews, when recently examined as a witness on behalf of the company.

In the cross-examination of Gen. Andrews it developed that the officers of counsel of the company had never told the state department at Washington that $130,000 had been given to Matos, although he admitted that the company had been filing numerous briefs and documents with the department on all other points with a view to bringing about the intervention of the United States government in favor of the company. Gen. Andrews also testified that the officers and counsel of the company had not decided to admit the contribution of $130,000 to the revolutionary cause until after Gen. F. W. Greene had testified that the company had aided Matos.

Trust Selects Wrong Case.

The proceedings in 1900 referred to a litigation between the New York and Bermudez company and the Warner-Quinlan interests, and have no connection whatever with the recent action brought against the company in August last and the other for aiding the Matos rebellion, now before the Venezuelan courts.

The absurdity of the claims of the New York and Bermudez company that it did not get justice in Venezuela, and that President Castro controlled the action of the courts is shown by the fact that in the litigation with Warner-Quinlan the final decision of the high federal court was in favor of the New York and Bermudez company by the unanimous decision of the 10 judges. The charge that President Castro was trying to extort money from the Bermudez company rests upon very flimsy grounds. The company admits having sent a stool pigeon to Caracas in order to dangle a $400,000 bait before the authorities there, but produces not one scintilla of evidence to show that the people with whom this secret agent had negotiations were in any way representing Gen. Castro or that they were other than irresponsible adventurers and lobbyists. On the other hand President Castro has distinctly stated that the agents of the company attempted to bribe him with $500,000 if he would influence the Venezuelan courts to give a decision in the company's favor.

How Rebellions Are Born.

It has been proven the company's agent in Caracas gave a dinner July 5, 1901, at which Matos was the guest of honor, and that thereafter Matos took the first steamer for New York, bearing credentials from the agent to the company. Matos lost no time in consulting the officials of the company, and during his stay here he was shown marked attention by them.

After arranging the credit of $100,000 Matos left for Paris, and the payment of that amount was coincident with the purchase of the steamship Ban Righ for $100,000; and the payment of his subsequent drafts to the extent of $20,000 was coincident with the purchase of her cargo of arms and ammunition for the insurgents. The arrangement with Matos was made in the latter part of July, 1901, and it is in evidence that the rebellion did not start in the section where the asphalt lake is situated until February, 1902. What protection could Matos guarantee the company eight months before his rebellion started?

The Bermudez company further maintains that its representatives in Venezuela were constantly instructed to maintain strict neutrality during the Matos rebellion, but as a matter of fact in the recent proceedings here they failed to introduce a single letter or scrap of paper in support of their assertion, while the superintendent and engineer stationed at Guanaco, Venezuela, in 1902, have testified that "they received orders to help the revolutionists in every way possible. In Venezuela testimony has been given that Gen. Matos received on one occasion from the general manager of the company $60,000 rounds of ammunition, which were distributed to the revolutionary troops."

ASKS PERMANENT RECEIVER.

Action at Harrisburg in Case of Pennsylvania Guaranty Co. Is Coming Fast.

Developments are following each other rapidly in the case of the Pennsylvania Guaranty Company of Pittsburgh. H. S. Lydick, Esq., of Pittsburgh, yesterday received his commission as temporary receiver for the company, and yesterday Judge Kunkle of Harrisburg granted a rule requiring the company to show cause why a permanent receiver should not be appointed.

This action was taken at the suggestion of Attorney General Carson. The petition sets forth that Banking Commissioner Berkey received a report declaring the company insolvent.

COLORS FOR TECH SCHOOL ARE MYSTERIOUSLY MISSING

Some place in Pittsburgh is a mysterious package. It is 20 inches long, eight inches thick and six inches wide. It is addressed to the Carnegie Technical schools and bears a Scottish thistle and the name of a celebrated woolen manufacturer. The bundle contains a web of the Andrew Carnegie Scotch plaid to be used in making tartans to be worn by the students of the new school in Schenley park.

Six weeks ago the woolens were shipped to Pittsburgh by "parcels post," as the Scotch manufacturer said, but up to date it had not been delivered. The non-arrival of the plaid has thrown the patriotic young men at the school into a sore predicament. They selected the colors to conform with those of the Carnegie tartan, but unhappily they are not just certain how the various shades are combined in the pattern, and the plaid cannot be obtained except in Scotland. If the package in question is not found, it will be necessary to send across the water for another web of the cloth, and will compel the students to wait six weeks longer.

Anybody who has especial facility in mixing up confounding syllables that sound well but mean little, will be given a cordial reception by the students of the technical schools. For a month the young men have been trying to devise a school yell that will be as characteristic as the Carnegie plaid for the school colors, but up to date they have been unable to agree upon a selection. Some of the enthusiasts have been practicing for weeks, but when they go over to Panther hollow to hear how their proposed yells sound, they invariably have been discouraged when the echoes come back.

Of course the Scotch whisky yell does not go. There are a lot of others containing words that rhyme well with "Sandy," "handy," "candy," etc., but these, too, have been tabooed. At last matters were put in the hands of the athletic committee, of which Clarence Overend is chairman. In sheer desperation the chairman yesterday posted a bulletin summoning all the students to "hand in yells at the earliest opportunity." There will be a cross-country run through Schenley park this afternoon and all the proposed yells to date will be tried. When a suitable yell is selected the students propose to hold a mass meeting around the Bigelow monument and try it out in all keys of pitch. This is being done to accommodate those students who may have bad colds.

ANSWERS NAME AND FALLS DEAD

FALLS SENSELESS FROM PEW

Just as he had responded "Here" in answer to the call of his name, the first on the roll, the Rev. Dr. Dunlop Moore, the oldest and one of the most distinguished Presbyterian clergymen in Western Pennsylvania, dropped unconscious from his seat while attending a special meeting of Pittsburgh presbytery in the First church, Sixth avenue, yesterday morning and died in the church a few moments later.

Because of his seniority in service, having been ordained 50 years ago, the Rev. Mr. Moore's name was the first called. Immediately following his response and before another name could be called, he was seen to throw up his hands, gasp, and then pitch forward and fall into the aisle from his seat in the fourth row of pews. A score of clergymen rushed to his aid, but immediately gave way to Drs. H. M. Smith and W. E. Harvey, who were present as elders of their respective churches. The physicians carried the venerable minister into an anteroom and gave him every attention while presbytery arose and sang "Jesus, Lover of My Soul." Moderator W. S. Greves, D. D., called upon the Rev. Dr. W. P. Schrom to offer prayer for Dr. Moore just as word was brought in that he had peacefully expired without gaining consciousness. Death had followed three minutes after the attack. Presbytery immediately adjourned until afternoon.

Dr. Moore was born in Lurgan, Ireland, 76 years ago and was educated in colleges in Belfast and Edinburgh. He graduated from the Presbyterian theological seminary in the latter place in 1854 and was at once ordained. His first assignment was as a missionary in India where he served 10 years. He was then transferred to Vienna, where he worked among the Jews for several years.

In 1873 Dr. Moore came to America and assumed the pastorate of the Presbyterian church in New Brighton the same year. He retained this pastorate for 17 years and resigned in 1892, when he gave up the active ministry. In recent years Dr. Moore has devoted himself to literary pursuits and wrote many theological treatises for French, German and American magazines. He spoke and wrote in 13 different languages.

Dr. Moore is survived by his wife, Mrs. Rosetta A. Moore. His eldest son and namesake, Dunlop Moore, is a resident surgeon in the United States Marine hospital service and is in Yokohama, Japan, where he has been three years. The second son is John L. Moore, who is connected with the Jones & Laughlin Company and is assistant secretary of the Monongahela Connecting railroad. Another son is William H. Moore, purchasing agent of the Jones & Laughlin Company, while the fourth son is A. K. Moore with the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company. One daughter, Rosetta, at home, also survives. None of the children is married. Dr. Moore is also survived by one brother and sleters who live in Ireland. Dr. Moore lived at 6201 Alder street.

MEETING OF PRESBYTERY.

Action Taken on Death of Dr. Moore Which Sudden Happening Terminated Morning Session.

At a meeting of the Pittsburgh presbytery of the Presbyterian church, held in the First church yesterday afternoon, the Rev. Drs. W. P. Schrom and G. W. Chalfant were appointed to draw up resolutions on the death of the Rev. Dr. Dunlop Moore, whose sudden demise during the morning had caused a postponement of presbytery's deliberations. The Rev. Dr. H. T. McClellan and W. C. Lilley and R. M. Taylor were appointed to represent presbytery at the funeral which will take place in New Brighton on Wednesday.

The Revs. S. L. Boston, Samuel Callen, Martin Young, Robert S. Young, Charles W. Wirt and Charles H. Hamilton, were received into presbytery. Delegates to the recent state synod, reported their action toward raising funds for the Pennsylvania College for Women which was criticized by the Rev. Dr. W. B. Hervey, who held that young women were inclined to prefer colleges of wider renown and higher standing. Others did not favor this view.

It was reported that the Rev. Samuel Callen would be installed as pastor of the Fourth church on November 28; the Rev. Samuel L. Boston as pastor of the Park Avenue church on same date, and that the Rev. B. J. Brown will be installed pastor of the McKinley Park church on November 24. Calvary church was recommended an appropriation of $1,500 for a new building. This created much discussed but the grant was finally made.

PREPARES FINE PROGRAM.

This Week Offering of the Pittsburgh Orchestra Brilliant and Attractive.

A fine program has been arranged by Conductor Paur for the third set of Pittsburgh orchestra concerts, to be given next Friday evening and Saturday afternoon. The orchestral numbers are the ever beautiful "Unfinished" symphony by Schubert, not previously heard here under Mr. Paur's direction; the symphonic poem "Vltava," by Smetana, and that wonderful page from Wagner, the prelude and closing scene from "Tristan and Isolde." An entire novelty in Pittsburgh begins the concert, namely, Beethoven's "King Stephan" overture.

By invitation of the orchestra committee Mr. Paur appears at these concerts as pianist. His number with the orchestra is the Spanish rhapsody by Liszt, arranged by Busoni. The piece is brilliant in the extreme and has never been heard in Pittsburgh. As solo numbers Mr. Paur will play three short compositions of Chopin.

Eleven New Cases of Typhoid.

Eleven cases of typhoid fever, nine of scarlet fever and four of diphtheria were reported to the Pittsburgh bureau of health yesterday.

UNCLE SAM WILL PREVENT TARIFF WAR WITH GERMANY

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Secretary Root is giving earnest attention to the tariff relations between Germany and the United States, as brought into prominence by a double communication from the German foreign office, first through Ambassador Sternberg here, and second through the representations made directly by the foreign officer to Ambassador Tower in Berlin. The secretary hopes to have some concrete provision to submit to congress during the approaching session, but it is evident that it cannot be presented much before the next calendar year, as a number of conferences will probably be necessary between the executive branch and individual legislators, as a preliminary to the execution of Secretary Root's plan to submit only such a treaty proposal as is reasonably certain to secure the approval at least of a majority in congress, or perhaps a two-thirds vote in the senate.

In this state of uncertainty as to the date upon which at the very earliest final approval by congress of the executive scheme might be expected, and the fact that but 106 days remain before the present tariff arrangements with Germany will expire by limitation and be replaced by maximum tariff rates on American imports, it is probable that an attempt will be made immediately to reach a modus vivendi or provisional arrangement, which shall prevent an open rupture or tariff war between the two commercial giant nations of America and Germany, pending the conclusion of negotiations for a new treaty.

Ordinarily the executive branch of our government is very loath to enter upon such semi-treaty relations, because of some doubt as to the constitutional power of the President to do so. But in the present instance the Germans themselves have pointed out that another door is open in the shape of sections of the Dingley act. This section authorizes the abatement of duty by America on several articles largely imported from Germany, namely, still wines, vermouth, works of art and certain classes of literature. In return Germany has granted the United States minimum duties on American goods imported into Germany. It is this arrangement which is to be terminated March 1 next. Now one of the German propositions is to provide a modus vivendi on the basis of a new arrangement between the two countries under this section with this difference from the present arrangement, that while the American concessions shall remain the same and apply to the same articles above enumerated, Germany, instead of granting America minimum tariff rates on all imports, shall limit to certain articles the extension of minimum rates.

This is proposed on the theory that the advantages conferred upon the present arrangement are entirely unequal and that Germany can only strike a balance by considerably restricting the minimum tariff list as applicable to American goods. If the executive is willing to accept such a modified arrangement, Germany will suspend the application of the new treaties, so far as America is concerned, until the senate or congress has had an opportunity to act.

It is realized that there is not sufficient material in hand on either side for a really satisfactory treatment of this important subject, hence the German proposition to create a joint tariff commission to make a study of present and probable future conditions, and submit the results in the shape of a report to the two governments as a basis for final negotiations and the completion of a treaty. The President has full power to do these things, under section 3 of the Dingley act, without reference to congress, and the only question is one of expediency.

ST. LOUIS ALSO HAS ITS BANK TROUBLES

Attorney General Asks That Receiver of Defunct Bank Bring Suit Against Its President.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 14.—Attorney-General Hadley today applied to Circuit Judge McElhinney at Cleayton for an order directing Receiver Frederick Essen of the Peoples United States bank to bring suit against the Lewis Publishing Company in the sum of $375,000, alleged to have been loaned to the publishing company by the bank.

The petition states that $400,000 was loaned to the publishing company by the bank April 24, 1905, and a note taken; that $25,000 was repaid prior to August 1, 1905, and that $375,000 and interest is now due. The petition alleges the loan was in fact made to E. C. Lewis personally, and sets forth that it was illegal under the banking laws and the laws of Missouri. E. G. Lewis being president of the bank.

HE REFUSES TO SHIFT.

Senator Long of Kansas Says He Will Accept Blame for His Stand on Rate Legislation.

WICHITA, KAS., Nov. 14.—United States Senator Chester I. Long, this afternoon, addressing the Commercial club in response to a resolution asking him to announce his stand on railroad rate legislation, said:

"While the resolution you present to me does not so state, yet I am advised to get right with the President. I was advised to do this on the Esch-Townsend bill, yet now the President in his rate speech takes a position that conflicts with that measure. I do not know what the recommendation to congress on the subject will be nor does the country, yet, you ask me in advance to say I shall agree with everything he may recommend. I decline to shift my responsibility upon this matter to the President or to any other person."

OPERATORS WANT NO CHANGE.

Say the Present Elkins Law Is Ample for Railways If It Is Properly Enforced.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Nov. 14.—Representatives of 50 coal mining companies in Kentucky and Tennessee met here today to take action in the form of a protest against the Esch-Townsend bill now pending in congress.

A petition was read, reciting that the President is right in demanding the stoppage of all rebates and expressing the belief that the Elkins law, if properly enforced, effectively remedies the rebate question. Any legislation, recites the petition, that will radically distrub the prevailing conditions will inure to our injury by destroying the elasticity of present ratemaking methods, and as far as coal rates are interfered with at all, local monopolies will be created by laws, which present methods of ratemaking make impossible.

BEAVER CIVIC LEAGUE.

Col. Samuel Moody and Others Are Organizing to Secure Good Government.

Beaver county is to have a civic league. Its membership will be drawn from men who have been prominent in the Republican and Democratic parties. Its purpose is to secure better municipal and county government.

Col. Samuel Moody, general passenger agent of the Pennsylvania lines west, is much interested in the formation of the league. He says he will be one of the members, and expects the organization to do a great deal of good. In state and national elections, the members will vote with their old parties, but in local matters party lines will be forgotten and good men placed in office.

BURTON BATTLES FOR SEVERAL DAYS DELAY

If He Can Stave Off His Case Until Saturday the Charge Against Him Will Be Outlawed.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 14.—Counsel for United States Senator Burton of Kansas, who was indicted by the federal grand jury last Friday, today filed a demurrer to the indictment. The grounds upon which the demurrer is based are as follows:

First, Failure to allege in specific terms what Senator Burton did for the Rialto Grain Company at Washington.

Second, Failure to state how his action benefited the Rialto people.

Third, Failure to show matter under consideration at Washington was a matter over which the postmaster general had jurisdiction.

Fourth, Failure to state that Burton knew the acts charged against him would influence the action of the postoffice department.

Judge Vandeventer of the United States circuit court may render decision on the demurrer tomorrow. In the event the demurrer is sustained, Senator Burton will be acquitted, as the statute of limitations in reference to his case causes the time in which he may be tried to expire on November 18 and no other indictment may be returned after that date.

AGENT IS HELD UP.

Santa Fe Central Man at Willard, New Mexico, Is Robbed by Three Masked Men.

Word was received from Santa Fe, N. M., last evening, and was confirmed here, that the agent at Willard, N. M., of the Santa Fe Central railroad, owned by W. H. Andrews and associates, had been held up and robbed in true western style.

Willard is 81 miles from Santa Fe and is the junction point of the Santa Fe Central and the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe's new cut-off. It is an important freight point, and the agent is said to have had in his possession two days' receipts, amounting to between $400 and $500. Early yesterday morning he was attacked by three masked men and relieved of this cash. A posse was organized and started in pursuit.

W. C. Hagan, secretary of the company, said last evening that he had received advice of the hold-up, but that he had not heard as yet of the robbers being captured.

NO CONSOLIDATION NOW.

Republic Iron and Steel Official Says No Deal Is On With Tennessee Coal and Iron.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—(Special.)—The reports that negotiations looking toward a consolidation of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company and the Republic Iron and Steel Company are under way have no foundation in fact.

C. S. Guthrie, chairman of the board of directors of the Republic, is on a hunting excursion, but another interest of the company said the rumors were not warranted by facts. The southern iron companies, he said, may agree to merge some day, but indications were that such a deal would not be brought about in the near future.

INDEPENDENTS FIX PRICES.

Window Glass Men Elect Officers and Decide on Cost of Their Product.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 14.—Independent window glass manufacturers of Illinois, Ohio and Indiana concluded their meeting today and elected Frank Bastian of Vincennes, Ind., president, and U. G. Baker of Indianapolis, secretary. Permanent organization will be effected at a meeting to be held two weeks hence. For the intervening period the following prices were decided upon:

Ninety and ten on all double and single strength over third bracket and including 16 by 50; 90 and 20 on first three brackets, single strength. All from list of January 1, 1903. Freight equalized with Muncie. All the independents are to sell in accordance with the schedule agreed upon.

DUPLICATE SET OF BOOKS FOUND

History of Fraudulent Transactions at Enterprise Bank Reported Revealed.

EMPLOYES SECURE RECEIVER

If the latest report concerning the Enterprise bank is true, Receiver Cunningham is in possession of a duplicate set of books kept by persons in the bank between August 25 last, when federal examination was made, and the day the bank closed its doors. This information comes from one of the directors of the Enterprise bank, who appeared to be surprised that no mention had been previously made of this incident in the examination of the bank's accounts.

The finding of the books was some days subsequent to the suicide of Cashier Clark, and a perusal of them has been of invaluable assistance in tracing to their source many of the fraudulent financial transactions that wrought the wreck of the bank. It is said Examiner Moxey carried with him to Washington a complete copy of these accounts, and upon them the federal government will base its criminal suits.

Just who will be hit by the contemplated action is a matter of conjecture. The presumption is that Clark had not sole knowledge of these books, and was not the only person who made entries in them. It is known that certain employes of the Enterprise bank have been compelled to secure the receiver by giving judgment notes and making real estate transfers.

Loans Had to Be Secured.

Inquiry into the reason for this elicits the information that these employes secured loans from the bank that have not yet been met. What the sums aggregate is not known, but Receiver Cunningham insisted that these loans be insured by notes and property transfers of equivalent value. If the dealings between the receiver and the bank's employes carry more significance than is revealed in this explanation of the case, nothing further has been more than intimated.

Examiner Moxey, who went to Washington last week, is still there, and notified United States District Attorney Dunkle yesterday that he would not return here until tomorrow morning. From hints given it is inferred that Mr. Dunkle will, immediately after the return of Moxey, commence legal proceedings. Mr. Dunkle admitted yesterday that some legal action would likely be taken within a few days.

"I am waiting for a detailed report from Mr. Moxey. All I know now is what I learned through a recent conversation I had with Mr. Moxey."

Judge E. F. Oldham will probably return with Examiner Moxey, and will participate in the legal proceedings.

Attorney John Marron returned from the east yesterday, but has taken no step toward instituting an examination or preparing suits of any kind. Attorney S. S. Mehard is associated with Mr. Marron as counsel for the Enterprise Bank Depositors' association. Mr. Marron said:

Will First Hold Conference.

"Neither Judge Mehard nor I have had any conference with those who are acting for the depositors' association. They will probably meet us in a day or two and arrange to have something done. We are in possession of some data concerning the bank, but will take no formal action in the case until satisfactory arrangements are completed."

The task of appraising the estate of the late T. Lee Clark was started yesterday by Adam Hoffman, William Rodgers, O. C. Murray and Attorney Thomas P. Trimble. They met at the bank and went through a volume of papers that are a record of many of the property holdings of the late cashier. It will be several weeks before any estimate of the value of the estate can be made, and perhaps a year before it is finally completed.

Attorney Walter Lyon, counsel for Messrs. Francis J. Torrance, Arthur Kennedy and W. C. Hagan, was asked yesterday if any statement detailing the history of the relations between the Enterprise bank and the Pennsylvania Development Company would be made by him. Mr. Lyon says he has already published a statement amply covering the affairs of the development company and the Santa Fe Central Railway Company.

Paying Teller Thomas W. Harvey of the Enterprise bank, who is a heavy loser by the collapse of the bank, is seriously ill at his home in Nixon street. The discovery of the perfidy of Clark and the losses he has suffered have so affected Mr. Harvey that his physician has ordered him to remain in bed. Mr. Harvey is subject to heart trouble, and on Monday was in a very serious condition. It was said at his residence yesterday that he had somewhat improved.

POSTOFFICE IN POLITICS.

Activity of Candidates Helps to Break Record of Receipts.

October was a record-breaker at the McKeesport postoffice, there being an increase of $999 05 in the receipts over the same month of the last fiscal year, about 20 per cent. July, August, September and October of this year show a total increase of $2,166 54, or about 15 per cent over the same months of last year.

Much of the great increase for October is due to the fact that an unusual number of stamps were purchased by the two local candidates on the county ticket, in addition to which political organizations purchased large supplies.

Woman Prevents Jail Delivery.

MARION, O., Nov. 14.—Mrs. S. H. Britton visited the county jail today, and it was through her curiosity that she discovered a plot for a wholesale jail delivery. She peeped through a hole and saw Ernest Smith and Harry Green, convicted train robbers, boring through the wall of the prison. Smith and Green were industriously boring away when the woman saw them and notified the guard.

Laundry Collector in Jail.

Accused of embezzling $50 or more while collecting for the Imperial laundry, Colwell and Vine streets, Louis Litt was committed to jail yesterday for a hearing before Alderman McMasters on Friday. A. E. Ivory made the information.

How Deaf People are Made to Hear

Ever see a pair of Sonhd Magnifiers?

And, no one else can tell either, because they are out of sight when worn. Wilson's Ear Drums are to weak hearing what spectacles are to weak sight.

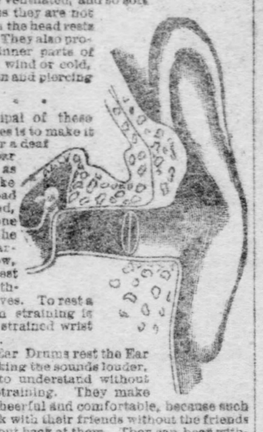
They rest the Ear Nerves by taking the strain off them—the strain of trying to hear dim sounds. They can be put into the ears, or taken out, in a minute, just as comfortably as spectacles can be put on and off.

And, they can be worn for weeks at a time, because they are ventilated, and so soft in the ear holes they are not felt even when the head rests on the pillow. They also protect any raw inner parts of the ear from wind or cold, dust, or sudden and piercing sounds.

* * * *

The principal of these little telephones is to make it as practical for a deaf person to hear weak sounds as spectacles make it easy to read fine print. And, the longer one wears them the better his hearing should grow, because they rest up, and strengthen the ear nerves. To rest a weak ear from straining is like resting a strained wrist from working.



Wilson's Ear Drums rest the Ear Nerves by making the sounds louder, so it is easy to understand without trying and straining. They make Deaf people cheerful and comfortable, because such people can talk with their friends without the friends having to shout back at them. They can hear without straining. It is the straining that puts such a queer, anxious look on the face of a deaf person.

* * * *

Wilson's Ear Drums make all the sound strike hard on the center of the human ear drum, instead of spreading it weakly all over the surface. It thus makes the center of the human ear drum vibrate ten times as much as if the same sound struck the whole drum head. It is this vibration of the ear drum that carries sound to the hearing Nerves. When we make the drum vibrate ten times as much we make the sound ten times as loud and ten times as easy to understand.

Deafness, from any cause, ear-ache, buzzing noises in the head, raw and running ears, broken ear-drums, and other ear troubles, are relieved and cured by the use of these comfortable little ear-resters and sound-magnifiers.

A sensible book, about Deafness, tells how they are made, and has printed in it letters from hundreds of people who are using them.

Clergymen, Lawyers, Physicians, Telegraph Operators, Trainmen, Workers in Boiler Shops and Foundries—four hundred people of all ranks who were Deaf, tell their experience in this free book. They tell how their hearing was brought back to them almost instantly, by the proper use of Wilson's Ear Drums.

Some of these very people may live near you, and be well known to you. What they have to say is mighty strong proof.

This book has been the means of relieving thousands of Deaf people. It will be mailed free to you if you merely write a post card for it today. Don't put off getting back your hearing. Write now, while you think of it. Get the free book of proof.

WHOLE BODY MASS OF SORES

Could Not Sleep—Had Given Up Hope of Recovery—Spent Hundreds of Dollars on Doctors, but Kept Growing Worse—Completely and Permanently

CURED BY CUTICURA AT EXPENSE OF $8

"I have been tempted a number of times to write to you a voluntary letter telling how Cuticura saved the life of my mother, Mrs. William F. Davis, living in Stony Creek, Conn. She had Eczema, the worst case I ever witnessed. She was able to sleep only a little, scarcely ate at all, and how she kept alive was a wonder. She had tried every doctor in the neighborhood, but kept growing worse all the time. Her head was a mass of sores, the ears swollen and painful, and the disease spread until it appeared on almost her entire body. It affected her hands and wrists and made housework out of the question. So bad was her condition at this time that she despaired of a recovery.

"Finally, after spending hundreds of dollars without any benefit, living in misery for years, with hair whitened from pain and suffering, and body terribly disfigured, a friend came to her and offered to get the Cuticura Remedies if she would use them. But mother was discouraged and without hope, and said, 'Nothing will cure me, I must die with it.' However, she began using Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent, and when she had used three bottles of Resolvent, five boxes of Cuticura Ointment, and ten cakes of Cuticura Soap, she was entirely cured. Her hair returned to its natural color, dark brown, and she looked ten years younger. I have written telling you of this because I feel it a duty to my fellow-men to let them know of this wonderful cure by Cuticura.—Geo. C. Davis, 16 W. 36th St., New York City, Jan. 15, 1905."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for every Humor, from Pimples to Scrofula, from Infancy to Age, consisting of Cuticura Soap, 25c. Ointment, 50c., Resolvent 50c. (in form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 25c. per vial of 60), may be had of all druggists. A single set often cures. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston.

Mailed Free, "How to Cure Eczema."

So Far Only Small Fry Have Been Gathered In, but Some Big Fish Are Promised in a Day or Two.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Attorney General Mayer appeared before the grand jury again today, with the result that several more indictments were found against persons charged with fraudulent voting. One of them was Bernard Wallace, who is said to have voted on the name of Peter Brennan in the First election district of the Twenty-second assembly district.

Brennan was in Paterson, N. J., on election day, and Wallace was instructed, it is charged, by a district captain to vote on Brennan's name. Wallace gave his age as 27 years. Brennan is 40 years old. Wallace was arrested on a bench warrant issued by Recorder Goff.

No arrests are expected until tomorrow, when interesting developments are looked for. Two men charged with illegal voting have made complete confessions to Attorney General Mayer. These confessions are in addition to those already made public, and involve a prominent politician prominent below Fourteenth street. In the cases referred to the violation of the election laws was flagrant and the payment of money for voting is well established by the evidence.

More election cases will be presented to the grand jury tomorrow, and it is expected that an investigation of the conduct of two boards of election inspectors will be begun by the grand jury. It was said today that both boards are likely to be indicted because of their failure to prevent illegal voting when protests were made by watchers.

The indictments found so far are about 25 in number. Nothing has been adduced to directly connect a district leader with the illegal voting.

SOCIETY DANCES ON BIG WARSHIP

PIER A BOWER OF BEAUTY

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Dazzlingly beautiful was the scene into which Rear Admiral Prince Louis of Battenberg welcomed his guests tonight at the grand ball on board the flagship Drake. The wealth and beauty of the national capital and the metropolis and the ranking officers of the army and navy came together in a garden of flowers and flags, making one of the most brilliant assemblages ever seen in this country.

In the absence of Lady Durand, the wife of the British ambassador, Lady Susan Townley, the wife of the embassy councilor, assisted Prince Louis in greeting his guests. For a short time they stood on the quarter deck, but when the music began they went up to the ball room on the boat deck and took possession at the rear of the stairway, where they remained until midnight receiving the hundreds of guests.

Half the ball room was a mass of magnificently gowned women and army and navy officers. The other half of the room was kept clear for dancing.

The dancing began promptly at 10 and was opened by Miss Durand, the daughter of the British ambassador, with one of the officers of the Drake.

Dances to Suit Everybody.

The dance program consisted of 19 dances, every third one being a two-step, in compliment to the American guests. Between the dances the guests promenaded on the quarterdeck. About the ship were comfortable chairs, where many sat out their dances.

The suppers were served, one after the 10th dance shortly after midnight, and the second later on in the early morning. Both were elaborately served at a hundred round tables along the lower half of the Cunard pier.

The portable ball room proved an unqualified success. Built up above the boat deck it had a spring which made dancing irresistible even to the older guests. After midnight, when some of the guests had gone, the entire ball room was given over to dancing.

For three days past the work of enclosing the whole ship in canvas and transforming the interior into a fairyland of colored flags and red, white and blue electric lights had been in progress. Officers and men worked hard on duty and off duty, and tonight they had the satisfaction of seeing the fruition of their labors in one of the most brilliant affairs ever seen in this country.

At the entrance of the long pier floated a tremendous British flag. Passing through the doorway, half way down the pier, the guests saw a curtain of red, white and blue bunting enclosing the supper room, which occupied the other half of the pier. Shut in with heavy canvas the interior was all aglow with the light from the festoons of red, white and blue electric bulbs strung from the center of the roof, which was formed by a canopy of bunting. Between the round tables, aglow with red-shaded candelabra, were banked evergreens and palms.

Ship Inclosed in Canvas.

Just outside the supper room was the gangway by which the guests went aboard the Drake.

The entire ship was enclosed in canvas. Coming over the side the guests passed along the port side to the quarter deck, where Prince Louis received. The tented walls of the after deck were hung with the flags of the nations, and the Stars and Stripes and the union jack were everywhere intertwined.

The vacant space between these national emblems were covered with the many-colored ship signal flags. Overhead a red and white striped canvas roof showed softly with light from garlands of electric bulbs winding in and out of the folds of bunting. From the quarter decks the guests passed up a stairway banked with flags to the Drake's famous ball room, the pride of the second cruiser squadron and the wonder of every guest at the ball.

Looking up, for that was what all did as soon as they reached the ball room, the guests saw that this magic scene was covered by "Old Glory." From the main derrick, rising high from the center of the boat deck, shone the starts of the original 13 states, made of little electric lights on a field of blue bunting. From this central point were draped fant fashion, the red and white stripes of this mammoth American flag. Beneath this firmament of the Stars and Stripes stretched the polished ball room floor, built across the entire boat deck and extending aft to the last of the Drake's four funnels, affording room for more than 200 couples. Rising from the floor to meet the canopied roof were walls of bunting and ship flags. At regular intervals around the walls were American and British flags, draped fan shape, and in between were round-framed mirrors. These mirrors were really the reflectors of the ships powerful searchlights framed in inflated life buoys. A diver's uniform inflated stood at the end of the deck holding a basket of dance cards on the extended right arm.

On the after bridge overlooking in the ball room was the band of the Drake, which furnished music for the dancing.

ADDITIONAL SPORTING

BOWLING TOURNAMENT.

It Will Begin on the New Federal Alleys About December 18.

The new addition to the Federal bowling alleys will be completed about December 18, and will be opened with a grand tournament for two-men teams and individuals. Many and good cash prizes will be given in each event. In the two-man team event the prizes will be $15 for first team, $10 for second, $7 for third, $5 for fourth, fifth and sixth, and $2 for seventh, eighth and ninth. The individual prizes will be $12 for first, $9 for second, $7 for third, $5 for fourth and fifth, $3 for sixth and seventh, and $1 for eighth, ninth and tenth. These prizes aggregate $ 99 in cash, and give everybody a show. Besides these there are two special prizes. One is a beautiful silver carving set for high individual score, donated by the Hotel Harvey. For individual high average in six games a prize of $5 is set aside.

Entry blanks for the tournament were issued yesterday and can be had from George Metzger, manager of the Federal alleys. The entry fee is fixed at $2 for the two-man team event and $1 for the individual event. The tournament will begin as soon as the new alleys are completed, which is expected to be no later than the date above mentioned. Of course all bowling will be governed by the rules of the A. B. C. It has also been arranged that the program for each night will be published in The Gazette.

SPORTING NOTES.

In a game at Covington, Ky., on Sunday, Heine Peltz, playing first base, made a single and a double. Heine is beginning to practice rather early.

Jerome R. Keogh, William Clearwater and Grant Eby will engage in a three-cornered contest at Buffalo next week. Each will play 300 balls, in blocks of 150 a night.

Willie Wedell is now engaged on the stage breaking 10 board with an ordinary league baseball. He is doing the turn at Shamokin at present.

Garfield Wins at the Finish.

The 100 ball match pool game between the Garfield and Friendship teams on the Friendship tables last evening was won by the Garfields by the score of 100 to 76. The contest was close until near the finish when Garfield made a runaway race of it. The same teams play at the Garfield rooms next Tuesday evening. Scores:

Garfield—		Friendship—
Wild	45	Carley	23
Weber	27	Cook	30
Coates	36	Pitt	24
Total	108	Totals	86

Scratches—Garfield 8, Friendship 10. Referee—Johnston. Scorer—Sands.

Only American Jockey in France.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—(Special.)—The announcement comes from Paris that Johnny Reiff, one of the best little jockeys in the world, is about to be married. His bride will be the daughter of the English trainer, Denman, and the wedding will be in Chantilly. Johnny Reiff has made a fortune riding. He is now the only American jockey in France. With mile tact and native good sense than have characterized other American jockeys abroad, combined with absolute honesty, Reiff won the confidence and admiration of the French as well as the English, and he is a favorite on the French turf.

Elevator Kills a Boy.

AMONG THE BOXERS.

Mull Bowser, the popular local welter weight, in reply to the statement of Larry Temple's manager, desires to state he is willing and would be only too glad to meet Temple if the latter will meet him at 145 pounds. Bowser can make 142 pounds and will meet anyone from 142 to 145 pounds.

A man named William Krewling of Pittsburgh, claiming to be the 125-pound wrestling champion of Western Pennsylvania, had his left leg amputated at New Castle yesterday. A train run on his foot. Krewling as a wrestler is not known here.

Tommy Trimble of the South Side is open to meet any 122-pound boxer in the state.

Tomorrow at Steubenville Harvey Parker is booked to wrestle a man named Kaiser, said to be a ringer.

Paddy Nee, the little fighter of Woods Run, who has been away from home for over two years, is back from Chicago. He came here with the delegation of steam fitters to attend the convention here. Paddy looks in good shape. He has had several bouts since he left home, in most of which he was successful. He intends to stay here at least two weeks, but will remain longer if he succeeds in securing a match before the Charteroi club with any 122 to 128-pound man.

Dick Fitzpatrick of Chicago is ready to arrange a match with Mull Bowser, Curley Suples, Frank Morgan or any man at 142 to 150 pounds. Fitzpatrick's last fight was with Kitsy Melody at Chicago about four weeks ago. It ended in a draw after six rounds.

Tommy Bastey, the clever local bantam, is keeping in training and is ready to take on any 115-pound lad on two or three days' notice. He has been training with Young Devlin and Kid Wallace.

Kid Tyler has withdrawn his deposit of $25 at this office. The money was up two weeks but no boxer seemed disposed to cover it. Tyler will be ready to put it up again as soon as any 124-pound man is heard from.

Jim Scanlan, who won the championship of Australia, and has been under the weather for some time, is in good trim now and ready to meet any man in the world, nobody barred. He is a strapping big fellow and looks strong and speedy.

At Philadelphia on Monday, old Dol Hawkins, who ought to have better sense than re-enter the ring, was knocked out by Unk Russel in the fourth round.

A challenge is issued by Jock Simko, a McKeesport lightweight, for a contest with any one at 130 or 133 pounds, preferably Jack Bruce, Ned Chernoff or Young Bijou, as a preliminary to the contest between Morgan and Supples, which is to take place soon at Charleroi. The McKeesport man has met and defeated several boxers of reputation at tournaments in and about Pittsburgh and McKeesport.

NEWS OF THE NEARBY TOWNS AND COUNTRY

COMPANIES FILE ANSWER.

Three Insurance Concerns Aver They Are Solvent and Capable of Doing Business.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 14.—(Special.)—Answers were filed in the Dauphin county court today by James A. Stranahan, counsel for the United States Mutual Live Stock Insurance Company, the Republic Mutual Fire Insurance Company and the Johnstown Mutual Fire Insurance Company, all of Johnstown, which were cited into court recently to show cause why their business should not be wound up and a receiver appointed, as asked for by Attorney-General Carson.

The answers are in the form of a general denial and are sworn to by the officers of the company, who state they have ample funds to carry in their business. The officers also aver that the companies are solvent and that they have been doing business in a perfectly legal manner. The attorney general, at the suggestion of Insurance Commissioner Martin, instituted proceedings against these companies one month ago to wind up their affairs.

WILL PRESENT PET SCHEME.

Westmoreland County Temperance Workers Will Ask the Governor to Assist Them.

IRWIN, PA., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—The Anti-Saloon league of this county, in connection with other temperance organizations, is starting a movement to have Gov. Pennypacker include its pet scheme in the questions that will go before the extra session of the legislature. Quick work is being done to bring this about and all organizations and ministers of the various churches are being enlisted in the movement.

Those at the head of it declare that they will go before the chief executive and the legislature with an indorsement for what they want while the reform wave is on. The general opinion is that the league and co-workers will introduce a law that will give communities an opportunity to vote on local option every two years.

WILL DISTRIBUTE ANTITOXIN.

Five Hundred Depots Have Been Established by the State Health Department.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 14.—Five hundred depots have been established throughout Pennsylvania by State Health Commissioner Dixon for the free distribution of antitoxin. Drug stores in cities and towns have been selected as distributing depots, and in the small villages the keeper of the country store will dispense the serum.

Physicians called in to attend diphtheria patients who cannot afford to buy antitoxin may procure this remedy free of charge at the nearest distributing point after signing a receipt.

PITTSBURGHER MAKES A LARGE DONATION

EBENSBURG, PA., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—D. E. Parks of Pittsburgh, who owns the Ebensburg inn in addition to a fine summer residence here, today purchased the Maude Collins property and will donate it to the Ebensburg Young Men's Christian association. A Pittsburgh architect is at work on plans for a modern gymnasium to be erected in the rear. The property measures 66x264 feet and has on it a fine 12-room stone dwelling, which will be used as a reading room. The consideration is said to have been upward of $10,000.

SUFFOCATES IN A LUMBER DRYING KILN

BEAVER FALLS, PA., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—This afternoon when the workmen at the Commercial sash and door factory opened the drying kiln they found the dead body of Fred Small, a laborer aged 60. The last seen of Small was on Saturday. It is supposed he crept into the kiln to keep warm and was suffocated. His body was burned almost beyond recognition. He is survived by a wife and several children.

Oil Company Incorporates.

DOVER, DEL., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—A certificate of incorporation was filed here today for the Race Oil Company of Meadville, Pa., to deal in oil, gas, etc., to acquire wells and mines and to develop the same. Incorporators: A. H. Russell, C. C. Coggswell, M. Ellis, R. C. Adams, all of Meadville, Pa. Capital stock, $12,000.

PLAN TO BLOCK THE WORK OF THE PENNSYLVANIA

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

IRWIN, PA., Nov. 14.—It is stated that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will have trouble in securing right-of-way through Penn Manor and Irwin for its 24-inch water line from Indian creek to Pittsburgh. The borough of Penn in return for a street franchise asks for a big retaining wall, six fire plugs and several other costly concessions. Railroad men claim that this is prohibitory.

At Manor the ordinance is being held up. The ordinance for right to cross the foot of Main street was up before the Irwin council today. It was referred back to the ordinance committee. The members were instructed to confer with the railroad people in regard to getting a retaining wall along West Water street and an underground passageway to and from the station.

The expense is estimated at nearly $50,000. Now that the railroad company must have the right-of-way the majority of the councilmen and citizens think the time is ripe to get these improvements in return for the franchise sought.

KILLS THE WRONG MAN.

Special Officer Shoots a Track Walker, Thinking He Was a Fugitive.

WEST CHESTER, PA., Nov. 14.—A track walker for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, known as "Italian Charlie," was shot dead near Parkersburg early today by Winfield Birely, a trolley car conductor. Special Officer Birely when passing through Parkersburg noticed a light in the laundry shop of a Chinaman. He entered the laundry and found the man robbed and terribly beaten.

He learned from the Chinaman that two negroes had committed the roobery. Birely headed a posse in an effort to find the negroes. As they walked down the railroad Birely was halted by a man with a revolver. He supposed the hold-up was being made by one of the men he was looking for, and pulling his revolver shot the man dead. The unfortunate victim proved to be "Italian Charlie." Birely at once gave himself up.

SUES ON PECULIAR GROUNDS.

Woman Who Was an Adopted Daughter Endeavors to Recover Her Dowry From Estate.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—A peculiar case was tried here today and non-suited. It was the claim of Mrs. Maud Miner against the estate of the late Michael Spiker of Neshannock township. She alleged she had been adopted by Spiker with the understanding she was to be treated as a daughter and given the same marriage portion as the Spiker daughters, namely, a horse, cow, bed clothing and household articles, with some cash upon her marriage.

She claimed she had never received them. The non-suit was granted as witnesses testified she was to have remained at the Spiker home until 18 years of age, but married before that.

DESIRED A UNIQUE BURIAL.

Wealthy Farmer Did Not Want Anything Fancy at His Funeral.

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—The will of the late John T. McClelland of North Franklin township, which was probated today, contains the following unique directions:

"I direct that my body be interred in the hill orchard on the farm I own in a rough unplaned box that will cost about a dollar. Use the clothing I have in the house. Employ two men to haul my body up to the orchard and inter it at the corner tree of the Lewis farm and mine, and place no mark on my grave."

Attempt to Burn Down a Town.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, PA., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—A well-planned attempt to burn down a thickly settled portion of the residence section of Hollidaysburg was frustrated last night. Several stables had been saturated with coal oil when William Albright, a railroad man, accidentally discovered the firebugs at work. They escaped. The town is infested by burglars and it is supposed the intention was to robe homes while the people were fighting the flames.

NEW EVIDENCE IS FOUND.

Prosecutor Claims to Have Discovered Particles of Rope Fibre in Clothing Worn by Pierson.

MT. VERNON, O., Nov. 14.—Further evidence that young Stuart Pierson, the Kenyon college student, was bound to the railroad track has been secured by Prosecutor Stillwell and Coroner Scarborough. They have made a thorough examination of the clothing worn by Pierson on the night he met his death. The coroner says the wrists and ankles of Pierson's underclothing were examined particularly and by the use of a powerful microscope about 100 small particles of rope fibre were found.

Many of the fibres, the coroner states, were also taken from the socks worn by the young student, and were so deeply ground in the material that many remained after being sent to the laundry.

This evidence with all the rest that has been gathered, will be submitted to the grand jury, which will begin consideration of the case Friday.

DEER SEASON OPENS TODAY.

Game is Plentiful This Year as Ample Protection Is Afforded by the New Law.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 14.—(Special.)—The opening of the deer season in Pennsylvania tomorrow finds this game more plentiful in the state than it has been for many years. Officials of the state game commission ascribe this to the protection afforded deer by the new game law. This law protects the deer by prohibiting the running of this game with dogs and special precautions have been taken by the commission to enforce this law.

Reports of the state game wardens show that the most deer in Pennsylvania this season are in Clinton and adjacent counties. Secretary Kalbfus of the state game commission, left for Shumakers Camp, Clinton county, today for a week's deer shooting. Dr. Kalbfus has instructed the wardens to see that the law is strictly adhered to by deer hunters.

KILLED BY AN EXPLOSION.

Mrs. H. A. Foering of Bethlehem Meets Instant Death in the Kitchen of Her Home.

BETHLEHEM, PA., Nov. 14.—While Mrs. H. A. Foering, wife of Principal Foering of the Bethlehem Preparatory school, was in the kitchen of her home today, the water back of the stove exploded and a large piece of flying iron struck her on the head, crushing her skull and killing her instantly. Bessie Miller, a servant girl, was thrown the length of the room and injured by coming in contact with the furniture.

The room was badly wrecked and set on fire, but the flames were extinguished by painters who were employed on the premises. Mrs. Foering was a daughter of Dr. W. H. Harisell of Allentown, president of the State Medical association.

FATAL ENDING OF A HIDE AND SEEK GAME

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—As Sadie Stroskeys, a 9-year-old Polish girl, was playing hide and seek with several companions in a sandbank at her home near Adelaide last evening, she was caught by a cavein. Her playmates dug in the sand for half an hour, but could not find her until older persons arrived. When she was rescued her mouth, ears and eyes were filled with sand and she died in a few minutes.

ARREST VIOLATORS OF THE LIQUOR LAWS

BELLEFONTAINE, O., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—A campaign against violators of the liquor laws in this county has been begun by Prosecuting Attorney Chamberlain. Lafayette McElroy, manager of the Russells Point resort, has been placed on the tax duplicate for the Dow tax of $30. William Luke of Lakeview was fined $275 for violating the Sunday closing law, and Guernsey Cavender of Lakeview was fined $75 for the same offense. R. C. Sater and Farmer Miller of Rushsylvania were fined $50 each for selling in a local option town.

PRINCETON HAS SOME NEW SONGS

Kenneth Clark Writes Inspiring One That Will Be Sung at the Yale Game.

FROM THE OTHER COLLEGES

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 14.—Practice still goes on behind closed gates, and no excitement was apparent today except for a large mass meeting which gathered to practice new songs and keep up the general enthusiasm. The team went down to the field today ready for the heavy work of the week to begin, and after an unusually long signal and formation drill went through two halves of 15 minutes, and the varsity scored two touchdowns on an attack that the scrub could not resist.

The day was cold, and so the men completed the afternoon's work in better shape than usual. There has been little betting in Princeton as yet concerning the Yale game, but with the growing confidence that is showing itself with the improvement in the condition of the men there will probably be lots of it. The evidences are that there will be very few men left in Princeton on the day of the game.

Among the new songs which Princeton has in preparation for Yale is "The Princeton Jungle March," by Kenneth Clark, 1906, and it made a great hit with the students. It begins:

"Way down in old New Jersey,
There lives a Princeton Tiger,
Who will eat right off your hand."

The song is a stirring one, and in the chorus is a very clever imitation of what the Tigers' jungle song is like. There are several other new songs on hand and many of the old favorites will be used. It is hoped that there will be no necessity for conjuring up a victory with "Old Nassau."

Harvard.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—Perfection in the signals and fast work on the offense are being aimed at now by Coach Reid of the Harvard varsity eleven, and for more than two hours this afternoon the wearers of the Crimson did nothing but hustle through the formations which have been mapped out for the Yale game. Previous to journeying out on the field the varsity regulars and substitutes had a long session at dumbbell drill in the locker building, after which the warriors adjourned to the baseball cage where new plays were shown on a blackboard and instructions were given for carrying out the same. The gridiron in the stadium was frozen solid and the bracing atmosphere served to keep the men comfortably on the jump. Few coaches were allowed on the playing field, but quite a number witnessed the practice from the side lines.

Harvard will probably rely on a lightning offense to down the Eli's, and little effort will be made to bolster up the defense before next week. Capt. Hurley has all his first string men in condition, barring Bum Lockwood and Hanley, and this trio will be ready for hard work in a day or two.

It was announced tonight that Walter Harrison, sub fullback on the varsity elevens of 1902 and 1903 had been declared eligible, and he will be tried out at tackle and fullback.

Yale.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 14.—It was announced tonight that Yale and Princeton have agreed upon Everts Wrenn of Harvard as umpire of their football game.

Today's drill was the longest of the season for the Yale eleven, it being practically two full halves of regulation time. Knox, the lively end running half back of the "scrub" team, scored on the varsity twice. Knox is the one man able to elude Cates and Shelvin and make long runs against the varsity.

The varsity offense was so furious in attack that four or five touchdowns were made. Two sets of backs were used, one being Veeder, Flinn and Morse and the other Hoyt, Levine and Roome. The "scrub" team used a number of halfbacks to keep the play going at top speed. A development as encouraging as unexpected was the strong defense that Flanders, center; Hockenberger and Tripp, guards, put up against the strongest "scrub" attack possible.

After the practice today an undergraduate asked one of the coaches if it would be safe to bet more than the prevailing odds that Yale would beat Princeton. "Don't let your hopeful college loyalty run away with your judgment," replied the coach. "If we can win by 5 to 0 we shall be happy."

Indians.

CARLISLE, PA., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—The Indian football team left today on a two weeks' trip, most of which will be spent in Ohio. It is expected that they will return with a good bunch of football scalps. The first stop is Cleveland, where they play the Massillon team on Wednesday. Thursday they play in Cincinnati, and on Monday go to Canton, where they have a game for Wednesday. From Ohio they go to Pittsburgh, where they play Washington and Jefferson college on Saturday, the 18th.

Lehigh.

SOUTH BETHLEHEM, Nov. 14.—(Special.)—The practice today was under the direction of Capt. Herman. He put the men through an exhaustive signal practice and then ordered a short scrimmage. The latter was characterized by an unprecedented number of long runs. The scrubs kicked off and the varsity ripped off many yards on each play until the five-yard line was reached, when new formations were tried. They failed to work properly and the varsity was held for downs.

New World's Bowling Record.

CANTON, O., Nov. 14.—At the state bowling tournament here this afternoon, L. Frantz of Cleveland rolled 723, an average of 246. This is claimed by members of the Ohio association to be the highest individual score ever rolled at a tournament, thereby breaking the world's record.

Allinder, secretary-treasurer, were the officers elected. The team is to be selected from the following: Crookstown, Hersperger, Harmer, Schilp, Dunlap, Bunton, Layer, Johns and Chandler.

DISAPPOINTING MATCH BETWEEN BIG TEAMS

SCHEDULE FOR TONIGHT

Barbers' league—Ou Club alleys.

The result of the meeting of the Unger and Unity teams, of the Pittsburgh section, on the Great Eastern alleys last night was a disappointment, because only ordinary scores were made. These two teams fought for first place and each seemed to be affected with stage fright. The Ungers, who led the section since the season opened, won the first game by a score of 808, two pins from 900. It was the best score of the match. Then they lost the next two. The Unitys in the first game made the smallest score of the match. They braced up a bit and hung up two 800 scores. Not a 200-score was made by any individual bowler. The nearest to it was 197, made by Meyers of the Ungers. Austin Smith had 193 and Gaus 192. It was on of those heartbreaking matches, in which everybody tried to do his best and then did his worst. There was a battle royal last night on the Federal alleys between the Federal and North Side teams of the Allegheny section of the county league. Not a total score went below 800, and in the first game the Federals came within four pins of reaching 900. The chief bowler was Phil Saul, who made an average of 186. He also had high score of 211. Phil was top man in the second and third games. Downey did the next best work, getting an average of 182 1-3. He had high score for his side of 197. Schad did good work, as also did Adam Hahn, Weber and Kappeler. Scores:

In the Monongahela league last night on the McKeesport alleys Capt. Kreplen's Duquesnes made a clean sweep against the Arcades. No phenomenal scores were made, but his team played steadily all through and hung up three 800 scores. The best the Arcades could do was 779. F. House made the only 200 score and was high man with 204. He was the best bowler, having an average of 179 2-3. The next best bowler was Dygate of the Arcades, who averages 175 1-3, and made high score of 198 for his side. McGloughlin averaged 172 2-3, J. Williams 171 2-3, and DeCoursey 170 1-3. It was an interesting match in spite of its one-sidedness. Tommy Garbett had 13 splits and therefore his column of figures is not at all pleasing to himself. Scores:

Tomorrow night two teams of barbers will have a hot time when the crack Langs and Gerstbrein's Stars will meet on the Federal alleys in the first of a series of nine games for $10 a side. The second series of these games will be bowled a week later on the Club alleys, and the last three on alleys to be tossed for.

Two members of the Gerstbrein barbers' team are ready to roll any other two barbers in the city for $10 to $25 a side.

Cutler's Colts wish to state that they cannot roll the Arsenals tonight owing to two of their players being sick, but will roll them on Monday night, November 20. Answer through The Gazette if satisfactory.

Arthur Wohr will be eligible to bowl with the Cecelias on November 19. His name was given to President Metzger on Saturday.

Charley Truck and Alex Dunbar will enter the two-man team event at the Louisville tournament next March.

No report has yet been received of the match between the Senators and Y. M. Is. of the South Pittsburgh league, scheduled for Monday.

Operation Is a Success.

ANNAPOLIS, MD., Nov. 14.—Midshipman Ferdinand L. Reichluth of Ripon, Wis., was operated upon for appendicitis by Surgeon J. R. Byrnes at the Naval academy last night. The operation was a success and the patient is doing well. Reichluth played football last season and was stroke of the crew last year. He developed an attack of appendicitis a few months ago and did not play football this year. He is a first classman.

Wisconsin Captain Disabled.

MADISON, WIS., Nov. 14.—Capt. Verdier, left guard of Wisconsin university football team broke his arm in practice today. Vanderboom played left half and his accident greatly weakens the team for the contest with Michigan next Saturday, as the back field will have to be reorganized with but two days in which to work. Either Clark or Wrabetz will take Vanderboom's place.

SHEVLIN, CAPTAIN OF THE YALE ELEVEN

OLDFIELD TESTS HIS MACHINE; IS SATISFIED

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—Barney Oldfield tested his new 70-horse power Peerless machine here today on the beach track, and made a record that he believes will make his new pet a winner in the national aand international races he will run in. He declined to hint at the time he made. The machine worked well, but a few minor defects were found. He sent the flyer to the factory today to have them fixed and some new improvements.

"As to the track," said Oldfield, "it is superior in my estimation to that of Florida in several features and not the least is the fact that the racers are always in sight from start to finish. For fast going there is no better in existence in the country. Racing machines could not ask for anything better."

HIGH SCHOOL IS ENTHUSIASTIC

WARM GAME IN EAST TODAY

Another mass meeting of Pittsburgh High school students is scheduled for this afternoon at the Central building. If enthusiasm counts for anything then High school will win Saturday's football game from Shadyside in a walk. Every high school boy and girl seems to be thinking and talking of Saturday's battle, and the indication is that the park will be filled with the youngsters.

The High school eleven had a hard practice yesterday with the scrubs, who were reenforced by some former players of high school teams. The regulars made three touchdowns.

The Shadyside eleven ran through signals yesterday. Heard again being at quarter. Heard will very likely play the position against High school Saturday. There was no scrimmage work with the scrubs yesterday. Tickets for Saturday's game were placed on sale yesterday at both schools and at J. Will Luckhardt's.

Frederick Daly, '07, has been elected captain of the Andover team for next year. Daley played fullback with marked success this year. He is 20 years old.

Lafayette and Swarthmore meet today at Swarthmore. Two fine kickers will oppose each other—Crowell of Swarthmore, and Shuster of Lafayette.

Questions answered: Fitz—W. U. P. played Westminster at Friendship park, winning 11 to 5. Telephone—W. U. P. beat State last Thanksgiving 21 to 5.

The Coshocton (O.) High school football team was disbanded yesterday because several of the players had been disqualified by low grades.

The Washington and Jefferson academy team will probably disband for the season at once, as all the games arranged with other teams have been cancelled and it is impossible to secure any more good attractions.

Manager John O. Wicks of the Washington and Jefferson football team announced yesterday that for the Wash-Jeff-Carlisle Indian game, Sharp of Yale will be the referee and Hedges and Vail of the University of Pennsylvania will be the other officials.

BUCKNELL WILL MEET GEORGETOWN UNIVERSITY

LEWISBURG, PA., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—Notwithstanding all reports to the contrary, Manager Keith of Bucknell's football team, announced today that the recent conflict with the athletic authorities of Georgetown university has been adjusted and that according to previous arrangement the teams will meet on Saturday at Washington, D. C. With the exception of light injuries to Capt. Cooper and McNinch, all of the men came out of the Annapolis game in good shape.

SMITH GETS BIG STAKE.

American Hounds Win Fox Match and the $2,000.

UPPERVILLE, VA., Nov. 14.—The American hounds won the decision over the English in the Grafton-Middlesex foxhound match which concluded today, after two weeks of excellent sport. While the contest was close, the decision was unanimous, the report being signed by all three judges. The official award that gave to Harry W. Smith, master of Grafton, the $2,000 stake and the Townsend trophy reads as follows:

"We award the match and the stake, together with the Townsend cup to the Grafton pack, which, in our opinion, has done the best work, with the object of killing the fox in view."

The report is signed by Charles McEachran of Montreal, Hallam L. Movius of Buffalo and James K. Maddux of Warrenton.

This morning's run was a great factor in deciding the match, as the Grafton hounds ran brilliantly for over two hours, and were only called off the line by the judges' order. No wild fox was killed during the match, and the decision of the judges was based upon the speed and trailing of the rival packs.

Jim Sebring Explains Matters.

WILLIAMSPORT, Nov. 14.—James Sebring today when shown the dispatch promulgating his three-year contract with the Chicago National league club, said: "I will play with and manage Williamsport in 1906. This was agreed to by Mr. Murphy and was the only condition upon which I would sign a Chicago contract."

ALTOONA WILL FIGHT FROM THE BEGINNING

ALTOONA, PA., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—That Altoona shall be in the tri-state race every minute next season was the decision of the officers and directors of the Altoona baseball club when they met today. One of the things considered was the position assumed by major league organizations. The coming contest will be the bitterest in which the Tri-State has yet engaged. The spirit of those interested in the affairs of the team is that Altoona shall give a blow for every one received and that if the Tri-State goes down it will not be because the local management is tired fighting.

W. Frank Vaughn, secretary-treasurer, requested the directors to relieve him of the responsibility on account of increasing private business.

Will Play for Championship.

FRANKLIN, PA., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—Manager Eppley of the Franklin football team announced this evening that he had arranged a series of three contests with Oil City to determine the championship of Venango county. All three games will be played here. The dates are: Saturday, November 25; Thanksgiving day, November 30; and Saturday, December 2. Sewickley having cancelled for next Saturday the East End Lyceums will be the attraction here.

Independent Baseball.

There is a letter at this office for Pitcher Geyer.

Catcher George Daily of Piedmont has signed with Springfield of the Central league. Heisman of Pittsburgh has signed with the same club to play the infield.

Brownsville fans want Frank Adams to take charge of that team next year. He is considering the matter and if he consents he will put in a winning team.

Murphy Gets Many Challenges

SHARON, PA., Nov. 14.—Tommy Murphy of New York, who knocked out Jimmy Dunn of New Castle last night before the Nonpariel Athletic club of South Sharon, has received challenges from Benny Yanger and Abe Attell. If satisfactory arrangements can be made Murphy will be matched to meet one of the two at South Sharon. Murphy is the first man who ever knocked out Jimmy Dunn.

WILLIAM EVANS THE YOUNGSTOWN UMPIRE

He has been signed by the American league for next season. Evans is a graduate of Kenyon college, and is at present sporting editor of the Youngstown Vindicator.

FOOTBALL VICTORY IS PRACTICALLY CERTAIN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The Association of Presidents of State universities, which is in session here, was unable to come to an agreement today on the question of indorsing or condemning football as played in American colleges. President W. O. Thompson of the Ohio State university introduced a resolution "deploring the brutality and waste of time" resulting from the game as it is now played. The resolution was discussed, together with the speech yesterday, of Chancellor E. Benjamin Andrews of the University of Nebraska, commending this class of university athletics, practically all of the presidents taking part.

In order to proceed with the program the resolution was temporarily tabled by agreement with the understanding that it should be taken up before the noon recess. At 12 o'clock a motion to recess was adopted and it is the belief generally that the football resolution has been tabled permanently.

MEHL IS INJURED IN DAILY PRACTICE

W. U. P. Fullback Has Foot Hurt and Joins the Hospital List. Scrubs Are Strong.

WEAK FOR OHIO MEDS

The Western University squad, which has been resting for the last three days since the W. and J. game, was out yesterday for the first stiff practice of the week. After a short signal drill, during which Boisseau directed the varsity plays, Capt. Thompson ordered the scrubs out for scrimmage. The practice game was fast and spirited and the varsity line, with several substitutes in line, had all it could do to handle the second team. The scrub eleven is a source of the greatest satisfaction, and in practice as well as against regular opponents have shown real varsity strength all season. It is likely that several substitutes will be used in Saturday's game with the Ohio Meds. Mehl, the little fullback, who tore the Wash-Jeff line to pieces in last Saturday's game, had his foot badly wrenched yesterday. With Schmidt, Mehl and McKean on the invalid list, the varsity will not appear in its full strength on Saturday.

Minims Win Another.

The Pittsburgh College Minims defeated the Commercials yesterday afternoon 12 to 0. The features were the linebucking of Scanlon, Charlton and Smisko, and the runs by R. Drake, Strako and Monahan. Lineup:

Indoor Class Drills Start.

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—The annual practice for the Washington and Jefferson college indoor class drills commenced today. The three lower classes are represented in a drill which is the big indoor athletic event of the year. The juniors drill with bar bells, the sophomores with Indian clubs, and the freshmen with dumbbells. The contest will be held in March together with athletic exhibitions.

Hanlon Is Ready for McClelland.

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—Jimmy Hanlon, the Fighting Marine of Washington, today finished his active work in preparation for the six-round bout with Jack McClelland of Pittsburgh at Connellsville Friday night. Hanlon is in fine shape and today tipped the scales at 130—three pounds under the maximum weight. He says he is confident of getting the decision.

Giants Will Begin With Yale.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—(Special.)—Arrangements were made by the New York National league baseball club today whereby the Giants will open the preliminary season at the Polo grounds on April 7 against Yale. It was stated officially today by John J. McGraw, manager of the world's champions, that he has no intention of trading Roger Bresnahan, as reports from the west recently would indicate.

Daughter of Directum Brings $2,050.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Nov. 14.—At the opening of the Indianapolis sale of trotters this afternoon, Direata, trial 2:14¼, by Directum, was sold to D. F. McCarty of Terre Haute, Ind., for $2,050.

OLD CHURCH MAY CHANGE ITS NAME

TALK OF SELLING PROPERTY

Preliminary to any negotiations for the sale of the Fourth Avenue Baptist church property, the congregation at its annual meeting last night took steps toward changing the name of the church to the First Baptist church of Pittsburgh. This was the name of the original congregation, organized in 1812, and held until its consolidation with the Union Baptist church, a number of years ago, when the present name was adopted.

The suggestion to change the name was made by J. L. Lewis, during an address and later embodied in a motion which referred the question to the deacons and trustees, to report at the regular March business meeting, 1906. The church values the property at $800,000. There are no negotiations for its sale and none have been in progress, except that there was some talk of the matter some time ago. The subject of selling the property is a live one, but if it is ever sold, a church will be maintained in the downtown section of the city. This is the determination of the majority, although no official action in this point has been taken.

The question of selling the property was disposed of briefly in the report of the trustees, read by W. E. Lincoln. The report said: "There have been no developments in the sale of the property, which is valued at $800,000." Mr. Lewis brought the question up more definitely in his address. He spoke of the growth of the business section of the city, which was encroaching on them more and more every year, and making the property more valuable. He said:

Must Not Desert Downtown.

"If the present property is ever sold we should maintain a chapel in the downtown section of the city. Of course the majority of the members would prefer a new church in the East End district, but no action should ever be taken that would not provide for the maintenance of a branch downtown. There is another matter in connection with the disposal of the present property. A new congregation in the East End could not take with it the name of the Fourth Avenue Baptist church, neither could any other congregation downtown hold the same name. Therefore, I believe before any action looking toward the disposal of the property we should adopt the original and historic name of the church—The First Baptist Church of Pittsburgh."

The annual meeting was preceded by a banquet at which over 300 persons were served. Following this reports were read and officers elected. The present membership of the church is 720. During the year there have been 10 additions by baptism and 13 by letter. The decreases during the year amounted to 17 by letter, 10 by erasure and nine by death. Of the dismissals by letter over 100 were to the Lorenz Avenue church, Elliott, where the mission became an independent church, which is now self-supporting.

Small Deficit Wiped Out.

Property has been purchased for the Center avenue mission and a building is in contemplation, which may be erected during the coming year. The receipts during the year from all sources were $17,444.25. There was a deficit of $426, which was wiped out last night. The Bible school had an average attendance during the year of 205, a decrease of 11 compared with the year previous. All the other departments of the church made good reports of progress. During the evening an address was made by the Hon. H. Kirke Porter, on "Individual Responsibility," by C. A. Edsall on the "Mid-Week Meeting," and by the Rev. Dr. Warren T. Partridge, pastor of the church. The officers elected were:

Deacons—George K. Stevenson and George W. Kling, six years, and Dr. W. J. Kling, one year; clerk, Thomas G. McMasters; advisory committee—Mrs. D. S. Orcutt, Ida B. Burns; John G. Price, Miss L. S. Ackerman, Scott H. MacGregor, George D. Willets, William T. Speer.

SINGING BRINGS FREEDOM.

Young Negro Boy Renders "My Lindy Lou" in Court and Is Liberated.

FAIRMONT, W. VA., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—James Robinson, a negro boy of Grafton, better known as "Rastus," today won his freedom by singing "My Lindy Lou" to the judge. 'Rastus was arrested several months ago on a charge of entering a cigar store, but, as he stole nothing, the proprietor did not prosecute the boy.

During his confinement in jail he made a hit with the other prisoners by his singing, and when taken into court to answer the indictment which had been found a dozen lawyers offered to defend the little negro. He was placed near Judge Holt and, after enthusiastically rendering the song, was allowed to go on his own recognizance, having pledged all his goods and chattels for his appearance next term. The boy is 11 years old.

Miss Baggaley's Coming Out.

Mrs. Ralph Baggaley's tea from 4 until 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon was the medium through which her daughter, Miss Annabelle Waitney Baggaley, made her formal bow to society. The reception was given at the home of the hostess in Fifth avenue, East End, each room on the first floor of the home having dainty decorations. Yellow and lavender orchids made a pleasing and unusual combination in the tea table centerpiece. The dainty rose and white drawing room was gay with the numerous debutante bouquets which overflowed into the library. Miss Durant of Flint, Mich., received with Mrs. Baggaley and her daughter, and among the assistants at the afternoon were Miss Helen Ayres, Miss Josephine Eaton McConway, Miss Helen Barnhart of Grand Rapids, Mich., Miss Anna Humbird, Miss Elizabeth Eaton, Miss Marian McLean, Mrs. Whilton B. Boggess, Mrs. Charles Curry, Mrs. John Fremont Steel, Mrs. Charles B. McLean, Mrs. Helen Rock Carroll, Mrs. Alexander Rock Carroll, Mrs. David King Irwin and Mrs. Charles Alexander Rook. Miss Baggaley left last evening for Washington, D. C., where she will spend a couple of weeks.

THE CLUBS

Contributions to this department must bear the name and address of the writer to insure attention.

Helping the President.

As loyal American women the members of the Winodausis club propose supporting President Roosevelt in any sane proposition. Acting along this line the club about one month ago decided on the occasion of the visit of the stork to the household of any member of the club to present that member with a large and beautiful bouquets of pink roses. In addition one woman in the club, Mrs. John Wilson of McKeesport, volunteered to knit little pink bootees for each new arrival in the families represented in the membership of the club, provided the club would provide the yarn. During the past month the club has been called upon to keep its promise three times.

The Winodausis club gave a card party yesterday afternoon for club members only. Tables were placed in the ceremonial room of Syria Temple, where during the afternoon the women played for 12 handsome prizes. For those who did not play cards a millinery contest was arranged, each woman being provided with four sheets of tissue paper from which to evolve a chic Paris creation. Prizes were offered for the most successful hats made by these milliner's apprentices.

Evening hats, coquettish sunbonnets and ornate little walking hats were evolved. Three prizes were awarded, the winners being Mrs. G. W. Given, Miss Cora Hamilton and Mrs. H. Reiber. The prizes for the euchre were won by Mrs. George Barnes, Mrs. C. E. Kelly, Mrs. A. G. Frazier, Mrs. J. C. Glass, Mrs. J. Craighead, Mrs. W. E. Gelaton, Mrs. H. Stewart, Mrs. J. Hartford, Mrs. J. Woodward and Miss Schuster. Forty tables were in use.

The club yesterday decided to give a card party soon for the benefit of the newsboys, the proceeds to be used as the boys themselves elect. The arrangements are in the care of the entertainment committee, Mrs. Reese Lindsay, chairman.

Visiting Japanese Shops and Tombs.

Superb photographs gathered during the past spring and summer by Mrs. Henry J. Bailey while in Japan, contributed a great deal to the interest in yesterday's program presented before the Travelers' club. Mrs. Bailey described her visit to Yokohama and its bazaars, and to Nikko, the city of tombs, where the nobility are buried in strangely beautiful tombs, illustrating her talk with the photographs. Mrs. Alfred E. Clark, Mrs. Bailey's companion while abroad, spoke of the soldiers of Japan who while they were in Yokohama were mobilized in four groups, to the number of 31,000 men, preparatory to the landing on Sakalin. Mrs. Clark spoke of the bravery of the Japanese soldiers who deem it an honor to be wounded and a disgrace not to shew some physical memento of the war. A deferred paper was read by Mrs. William Mircum, dealing with the Portuguese in Xipango, the old name for Japan. Mrs. James Drill followed with an instructive talk on the Japanese army and navy. A little poem on the children of Japan was read by Mrs. Gertrude C. Coyle.

The next meeting of the Travelers' club will be devoted to civics and an address will be given by Dr. E. B. Heckel, president of the Allegheny County Medical society, and chairman of the tenement house committee.

Successful Ingathering.

The annual ingathering of the Pittsburgh branch of the Needlework Guild of America, held yesterday in the chapel of the First Presbyterian church, in Oliver avenue, was a successful one. All day long packages of garments and articles for use in the hospitals and homes of the city were received, until at 5 o'clock last evening the president reported 3,500 articles received during the day. Several hundred more will be sent in today and the officers of the branche expect the ingathering to be as large and successful as a year ago, when the number of pieces received exceeded 4,000. Today the officers and section presidents will arrange the articles to meet the needs of the various institutions to which the distribution will be made during the day.

The annual election of officers was held and Mrs. Frank Bryce, who has been interested in the branch since it was first organized over a decade ago, was elected president. The previous president, Mrs. N. Q. Speer, who resigned a couple of months ago because of her removal from the city, was elected an honorary president. The other officers include the secretary, Mrs. George Benton Moore, and the treasurer, Miss Jean Palmer.

Dr. Wishart Will Talk on Suffrage.

An open meeting of the Allegheny County Equal Rights association will be held tomorrow evening under the auspices of the Allegheny city branch in the assembly room of the Central Young Women's Christian association, Fifth street, commencing at 8 o'clock. The principal address will be made by the Rev. Dr. W. I. Wishart. Miss Myrtle Nagel of Bellevue will give several readings, and the music will be in charge of A. M. Sutherland. The ushers for the evening will include Miss Laura Agnew, Miss Irene Prosser, Miss Mary Cunningham, the Misses Martin and W. H. Fowler J. Smith Phillips, J. W. Moore, William Cunningham and Howard Arthur.

Ben Avon Club's Guest Day.

The Woman's club of Ben Avon observed guest day yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Coleberry in Avalon. The guests of honor were Mrs. Sarah Lippincott of the Society for the Improvement of the Poor and Mrs. C. B. Barber of Calcutta, India. Mrs. Lippincott spoke on the work of the society, and Mrs. Barber, whose husband is directing Y. M. C. A. work in Calcutta, gave an interesting account of the association's progress there. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. William Flaccus in Ben Avon.

The German Poet, Lenau, in America.

The third in the series of lectures in foreign languages given at the Berlitz School of Languages this season will be delivered this morning at 11 o'clock by Richard A. Skawelt, who will speak of "Lenau in America." Lenau, the famous German poet, spent some time in Economy and also visited in Pittsburgh in 1832.

Benefit for East End Hospital.

Invitations have been issued by Mrs. John P. Ober of Beacon street and Schenley park for the annual charity euchre for the benefit of the East End hospitals blanket fund. The euchre will take place at her residence on Thursday afternoon, November 23.

Club Notes.

The Lawrenceville New Century club met yesterday afternoon in the assembly rooms of the Lawrenceville branch of the Young Women's Christian association.

A meeting of the Woman's club of Wilkinsburg yesterday afternoon was followed in the evening by a lecture under its auspices in the South Avenue Methodist Episcopal church by the Rev. Charles L. Smith on "The Forks of the Ohio."

The New Century club of California discussed the "Art and Crafts Movement" last evening at its regular meeting.

A very enjoyable studio tea was given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Netta Nixon Crawford and Miss Elizabeth Scrogga.

A meeting of the Women's auxiliary of the Sewickley Valley hospital was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Wallis J. Tener, yesterday afternoon. The women are planning a "holiday bazar" to be given in the Edgeworth club house in December, and the meeting yesterday was devoted principally to the discussion of plans.

The Young Women's Mission Circle of the Sewickley Methodist Episcopal church entertained the Home Missionary society of the same church at the studio of A. H. Diehl last evening. Miss Nycom and Miss Kiel of the Pittsburgh Deaconess' home gave short addresses.

There was a large number of visitors at the South Side hospital yesterday on the occasion of the annual donation day. Many generous donations were received.

A musical tea was given at "Lyndhurst," Mrs. Thaw's residence, yesterday afternoon by the Foreign Missionary society and the Young Women's Aid society of the Third Presbyterian church.

Full Week for Eastern Guests.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Grant Anderson of North Highland avenue are entertaining as their house guests, Mrs. Morrison Fitzsimmons of Overbrook; Mrs. W. S. Miller of Philadelphia, and Mrs. John Dickson, of Gettysburg, and a number of social affairs are being arranged for the visitors. Mrs. Anderson entertained for the members of her house party yesterday afternoon, Mrs. John Dalzell of Washington sharing the honors. Eight tables were filled into play and prizes were awarded to each of the honor guests and to Mrs. David Collingwood, Mrs. Montgomery Scott and Miss Marsh Rees. Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Anderson, Jr., and the members of the house party formed a theater party at the Nixon last evening, the play being followed by supper at the Union club. The same guests will be entertained at the Belasco this evening, by Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, with supper at the Duquesne club, and this afternoon Mrs. J. N. Anderson, Jr., will entertain at euchre. Mrs. Blair Kinch will give a luncheon at the Union and a theater party at the Grand on Friday afternoon, and after Mrs. W. J. Mansfield's luncheon at the Nixon cafe on Saturday the visitors will be taken to the football game. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson's dinner at the Country club on Saturday evening will conclude the week's round of gaiety.

Popular Spot With Burglars.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—Andrew Klein reported today that two burglars attempted to enter his home Sunday night, but had been frightened away by his wife, who awoke. He said it was the third time robbers had visited him home within two months.

SOCIETY

Contributions to this department must bear the name and address of the writer to insure attention.

MRS. DANIEL C. RIPLEY and her daughter, Miss Elizabeth May Ripley, will have a long list of assistants at the tea which they will give tomorrow afternoon at their home in Wallingford street, Shadyside. The affair, the hours of which are from 3 until 5 o'clock, has been planned to meet Mrs. William Sumner Seibert, a bride of October, who was formerly Miss Elizabeth B. Speck. She and her husband have just come from Easton, Md., to make their home in Ivy street, this city. The two hostesses have chosen for their aids Mrs. R. J. Wilson, Mrs. J. J. Turner, Mrs. Joseph G. Walters, Mrs. Harry Williams, Mrs. John B. Kaercher, Mrs. Geo. Barker, Mrs. J. J. Speck, Miss M. E. Stevenson, Mrs. D. A. Ripley, Mrs. James A. Loughrey, Miss Mary F. Smith, Miss Mary Tebbits, Miss Mary Murdock, Miss Velma Wilson, Miss Helen Walters, Miss Lillian Baird, Miss Madeline Steinmeyer, Miss Mabel Gillespie, Miss Eleanor S. Ayers, Miss Marguerite Smith, Miss Jeannette Williams, Miss Elizabeth Murdock, Miss Elizabeth Smith and Miss Anna Welsh.

Nimick-Dyer.

All colors of the rainbow were carried out last evening at the wedding of Miss Harriet Matthews Nimick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Nimick, and W. J. Malcolm Dyer, in the private suite of rooms at the Hotel Schenley. The Rev. J. W. G. Fast, pastor of the Oakland Methodist Episcopal church, performed the ceremony at 8 o'clock, the attendants including Miss Mary Kennedy Nimick, as maid of honor; Mrs. Edgar Clay West, Jr., of Philadelphia, as matron of honor; Miss Charlotte Overend and Miss Jean Bunton as bridesmaids; Frank A. Booth and Joseph Snellenberg and Harry Walker, all of Philladelphia, as best man and ushers. The bride wore a robe of white lace and inessaline silk. Orange blossoms fastened her tulle veil and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The maid of honor wore green silk trimmed with lace and carried a bouquet of maidenhair ferns. The matron of honor appeared in a toilette of white with a girdle of pink, green and blue ribbons. Her flowers were yellow chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids' gowns were particularly dainty. Fashioned of soft silk, one of blue and the other of pink they were trimmed with lace-edged bands of the material. Three rows of this trimming circling about the demi-trained skirts, were crossed in the front and also outlined the yoke of lace. Miss Bunton, who wore the pink gown, carried a shower of pink roses and Miss Overend, in the blue, carried lilies of the valley in shower effect. Palms, ferns and other greens were used principally in the decorations. The stairs were screened off and palms and tropical plants lined the walls. The background for the ceremony was formed of high wicker screens topped with groups of white chrysanthemums. Eight white wicker prieu dieux were used for the bridal party. All the lights were capped with dainty pink shades and the centerpiece on the bride's table was of white roses. A reception followed the ceremony and after the wedding supper Mr. and Mrs. Dyer left on their wedding trip. At its conclusion they will live in Philadelphia.

Mrs. W. J. Malcolm Dyer.

Debutante and Mother Receive.

Mrs. George Hubbard Clapp of Sewickley, and her debutante daughter, Miss Marion Elizabeth Clapp, observed the second in their series of at-homes yesterday afternoon. The hours were from 4 until 8 o'clock, during which time the hostess and her daughter were assisted by Mrs. D. C. Clapp, Miss Elizabeth Wardrop, Miss Pamella Wardrop, Miss Margaret Wardrop, Mrs. Robert Wardrop, Miss Elizabeth Y. Love, Mrs. John D. Semple, Mrs. Frank Richardson, Mrs. Frank Biddle Smith, Mrs. Lawrence Woods, Mrs. James E. Unbstaetter, Mrs. John E. Porter, Mrs. Charles Richardson, Mrs. John C. Slack, Mrs. Frederick Haworth, Mrs. James Todd, Mrs. Thomas Patterson, Mrs. John Way, Jr., Mrs. Frank Orr Johnson, Miss Fredericka Hay, Miss Agate Brown, Miss Mabel Gillespie, Miss Ruth Walker, Miss Helen Witherow, Miss Hester Singer, Miss Elizabeth Hamilton, Miss Electa Harper, Miss Florence Harper, Miss Evelyn Black, Miss Betty Wardrop, Miss Lucy Haworth, Miss Maria L. King, Miss Annie Semple, Miss Isabel Baldwin, Miss Margaret Adair, Miss Edith Stockton, Miss Amelia Oliver, Miss Ida Reymer, Miss Isabel Stewart, Miss Mary W. Shields, Miss Mary Gormley, Miss Elizabeth Irwin, Miss Janet Stewart, Miss Jane Blair, Miss Katherine Darsie, Miss Helen Willard Davis and Miss Jean Slack. The decorations were carried out in autumn colors, richly hued leaves draping the walls. The drawing room was fragrant with the bouquets received by Miss Clapp. Yellow chrysanthemums were used in the dining room.

Wedding Rehearsal and Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Stevenson of Edgerton avenue gave a dinner last evening for their daughter, Miss Viola Stevenson, and her fiance, James G. Blaine McAuley, whose wedding will be a home event of this evening. Among the guests last evening were the two attendants, Miss Mary Ethel McAuley, who was presented with a beautiful pin, and Chester Hull, who, as best man, received a pair of cuff links from Mr. McAuley. Among the out-of-town people here for the wedding are Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Reynolds of Reynoldsville, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Whitesell of Iselin, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Cann and Miss Ida Gumfry of Stoneboro, Pa.

Pretty Affair for Visitor.

Miss Laura Pratt's luncheon yesterday was a prettily appointed affair. It was conducted at the home of the hostess in Wellesley avenue, in honor of her visiting friend, Miss Mary Matlick, of Lewisburg, Pa. The luncheon was progressive, being served at four tables at each of which covers were laid for four guests. In the center of each board was a silver candelabra shaded in pink, while around the base nestled corsage bouquets of pink rosebuds and pansies, which were later distributed as favors. The place cards were quaint little water-colored affairs folded so that the name came on the inside. An informal musicale followed the luncheon.

Gordon-Cochran.

An interesting home wedding last evening was that of Miss Mathilda Gordon, daughter of John Gordon of Esplanade street, Allegheny, and A. Lincoln Cochran, news editor of the Pittsburgh bureau of the American Press association. The Rev. Dr. W. H. McMillan, pastor of the Second United Presbyterian church of Allegheny, performed the ceremony in the presence of only a few near relatives of the bridal couple, and after an informal wedding supper Mr. and Mrs. Cochran left for an eastern trip. They will be at home to their friends after January 1 in Esplanade street, Allegheny.

Start Upon Bridal Tour.

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—Miss Eleanor Gertrude McVehil, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. McVehil of West Maiden street, and John Innis McKean of Washington, were quietly married here at 7:30 o'clock tonight by the Rev. Judson Headley, pastor of the Amity Methodist Episcopal church. Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. McKean left for New York, from where they will at once sail to Roumania on fields in Southwestern Europe. Mr. McKean having charge of the drilling and operation of wells to be sunk by the South Penn Oil Company of Pennsylvania.

TAFT DISCUSSES THE ELECTIONS

NEWPORT NEWS, VA., Nov. 14.—Secretary of War Taft reached Hampton Roads today aboard the United States protected cruiser Columbia, after a trip of investigation to the Isthmus of Panama. The Columbia arrived in the Roads at 2 o'clock this morning, but a heavy snowstorm was blowing and the secretary decided to remain aboard all day. He left the Columbia on the ship's cutter shortly before 7 o'clock this evening and boarded a steamer for Washington. Secretary Taft received a reporter and talked freely this afternoon of the recent election and the situation in Panama. He said:

"The result in Cincinnati is a long step toward better municipal government and better local party politics, but the victory will not be completed for several years. A machine entrenched in power as is the Ohio machine, can only be made to give up through the earnest attention and work of young men entering politics with the enthusiastic and unselfish desire to make it better and willing to devote all time possible not needed in their daily vocation to the organization of political clubs which shall have for their motto 'open conventions and freedom' to the people in the selection of proper candidates for municipal and county offices.

Advantage for Reformers.

"I sincerely hope that the result in Hamilton county may lead to such an organization and such a result. But those who brought about the defeat of the machine cannot afford to lie back on their oars and think they have won a lasting victory. They have merely carried the first entrenchments and if they do not follow up their success they will find the old machine as strong as ever in future campaigns.

"The constitutional amendment adopted at this election, by which municipal elections occur only once in two years and not at the same time as federal and state elections, furnishes a great point of advantage to those who would reform municipal party politics.

"I regret the defeat of Gov. Herrick, because I think he was made to suffer for alleged subserviency to bossism of which he was not guilty, and his freedom from which would have been demonstrated by a second term. His administration was as clean and as free from scandal as that of any previous governor of Ohio. Mr. Pattison, the Democratic governor-elect, I know well. He is a man of high character and if we must have a Democratic governor, I do not know of a better man.

No Municipal Ownership.

"I note that in the Democratic platform on which Mr. Pattison was elected is a plank advocating municipal ownership of public utilities, accompanied by the merit system for the selection of civil servants. The experience in Chicago has shown that it is one thing to advocate municipal ownership and another thing to carry it out. We may dismiss, therefore, from consideration the possibility of any serious legislation looking to municipal ownership, but if our Democratic friends, including Mr. Pattison, were sincere in their denunciation, and I have no doubt that he and many others were, they now have an opportunity to unite with the Republican civil service reformers in securing the passage of a civil service act applicable to counties and cities of the state of Ohio.

"As between the Democrats and Republicans, the Ohio legislature is very close indeed, and now would seem to be the opportunity for the real enemies of bossism to forget party differences and unite in the passing of a law, which if properly drawn and actually enforced, will do much to elevate the tone of municipal and county politics by depriving local bosses of public patronage to perpetuate their political power."

Great Work at Isthmus.

"The trip was very satisfactory," he said. "Comparison of the condition of affairs on the occasion of my visit last year and this year shows a marked improvement. Great work has been done in sanitation and the suppression of disease and in preliminary work in constructing houses, setting up equipment, building railroad tracks, building docks, wharves and all the enormous necessary work of preparation before the dirt can be made to fly. The present organization under Mr. Shonts seems to be operating effectively."

The secretary's flag was hauled down from the Columbia's masthead at sunset tonight and the cruiser's guns boomed a salute of 17 guns.

ODDFELLOWS' RECEPTION.

Glen Hazel Encampment No. 87, I. O. O. F., will hold a reception tomorrow night in Carnegie hall, Chatsworth street, Hazelwood, to present a testimonial from the grand encampment of Pennsylvania to the retiring grand patriarch, Cleon Gicqueklais. Among the prominent members who will be present are John A. Myler, past grand master; S. H. Steele, past grand master; M. D. Witey, past grand patriarch; S. W. Jeffries, past grand patriarch; Miss Anna Morrow, president of the Rebekah assembly, and her staff, and the district deputies of both branches of the order.

Senator D. A. Wilbert, a past grand, will be master of ceremonies; Perry A. Shanor, past grand, will make the presentation speech, and L. K. White, president of the Wayside inn at Grove City, will make an address. The Rev. John Thresher will also make an address, announcing an award of merit made by the retiring grand patriarch.

Comes Back to Face Charge.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 14.—Dr. J. F. Force, who was president of the Northwestern Life Insurance Company when it was reorganized as the Northwestern National Life, but who is now under indictment for grand larceny, returned to Minneapolis today from Los Angeles, Cal., of his own accord. The amount he is charged with embezzling is $15,000.

MARSHALL CASE REACHES AN END

JURYMAN PLEASES THE COURT

The defense offered little testimony in the trial of A. G. Marshall, who is charged with being an insurance swindler, only recalling A. C. Childs and Conrad Dieppold for cross-examination, and depending on the commonwealth's case. Attorney Kahle closed his case shortly after noon. Dieppold testified that Attorney Kahle had threatened him that if he did not put the three companies into the hands of a receiver he would put him in jail.

Attorney Blakeley made a scathing attack on Attorney Kahle for the manner in which the case was originated and its prosecution conducted. Attorney Kahle said that Marshall put worthless bonds in the safe and the money in his pocket. He mentioned the new suits Mrs. Marshall wore, while his poor clients were looking for their insurance. On one instance Kahle tried to get a statement in the report to the insurance commissioner before the jury, but was warned by the court that if he did read it, he took the chance of making it a mistrial. He will finish this morning.

In the United States circuit court the case of Bauersmith against the Extreme Gold Mining and Milling Company of South Dakota and Caldwell against Kerbaugh occupied the day. In the Bauersmith case it was testified that Bauersmith sold 25,000 shares of stock to H. C. Whittaker of Washington county, for which he was to be paid $8,000 commission. In the Caldwell case a dummy electric battery was exhibited by the defense to show how dynamite is set off, and a juror who explained it to the court received a great compliment, Judge Buffington remarking the case was made doubly peculiar by the court getting such valuable information from a juryman sitting in the case.

Pass Seller Pleads Guilty.

Charged with issuing fraudulent railroad passes, L. F. Bynon entered a plea of guilty before Judge Brown. Bynon, with a half-dozen other employes of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, was arrested early last June for selling passes over the road, which had been stolen by a clerk in the office of Supt. J. R. Sims. Bynon was not sentenced.

Attorney J. C. Slack of the Fidelity Title and Trust Company filed the will of Sophia E. Harbaugh of Sewickley. She leaves one-sixth of her estate in trust for her daughter, Sophronia E. Nevin, who gets the principal if she survives her husband; one-sixth is also left in trust for the children of a deceased daughter, Caroline Mary Moore, and the residue is divided equally among her other children, Charles T. and Sarah S. Harbaugh, Anna Strobie and Roxanna Bovey.

Rosalia Hufnagle of McKees Rocks leaves a $5,200 estate. She provides $530 for masses, $500 for the Rev. Tonner of St. Mary's Roman Catholic church and $100 each to Revs. Dejohn and Gerold, in acknowledgment of their hard labor for the benefit of the congregation, of which the deceased was a member. The college and commissariat of the holy land at Mount St. Sepulcher, Brookland, near Washington, D. C., is given $100. A number of nieces and nephews are remembered and $1,000 is left to her brother's widow. To the children of a deceased sister she leaves $1,400 and the residue of her estate goes to St. Mary's church, on condition that the graves of the testatrix and others of her family in St. Mary's cemetery are kept in good order and a mass said each year for 10 years after her death.

Orders were issued by District Attorney Stewart to have processes issued for and to place in jail all defendants and prosecutors who are absent from court when the case they are interested in is called for trial. The order was made necessary by the large number of cases which have to be passed over owing to the fact that either one or both parties in the case are missing when the case is called.

Short Sentence for Manslaughter.

Sixty days for voluntary manslaughter was the sentence imposed by Judge Brown upon Bolis Davidowski, who pleaded guilty to hitting Antonio Pughese over the head with a paint brush during a quarrel, who died later from the blow.

On petition of Conroy, Pugh & Co., the Pittsburgh Show Case Company was placed in the hands of Receiver P. C. Murphy. Its assets are a plant on Vickroy street and $600 in cash, while the liabilities are $4,200. The petitioners are creditors and Murphy is the largest stockholder.

Mrs. Margaret Bridgeman presented a petition to open and defend a judgment of $1,500 which W. M. Price, trustee, issued against her husband, J. O. Bridgeman, who was sent to the workhouse for assaulting her. She says a levy was made on horses and wagons, her only support, and she alleges it was to carry out a threat that she would never get anything that belonged to Bridgeman.

Judge Young in the equity suit of James McGough against Annie McGough canceled a deed made to the defendant by the plaintiff. The paper was executed without consideration, the court finds.

Executions issued: Michael D. Roach vs. Margaret Reed, $1,600; Louis Marloff, use, vs. Ernestina Barbsch et al., $2,198; Citizens Dollar Savings Bank vs. E. F. Austin, $613; James L. De Long et al. vs. Frank Grimm, $5,741; Emma J. Cruikshank et al., use, vs. William R. Paxon, notice, etc., $2,752; Standard Manufacturing Company vs. George H. Metcalfe, $727.

SHE IS A BIRD.

During the visit of Dr. W. J. Holland in London, the trustees of the British museum forwarded to Carnegie museum an interesting collection of casts of famous fossils. They include reproduction of specimens of wonderful reptiles discovered by Prof. H. G. Seeley in South Africa and are singularly mammal in having skulls like wolves.

Another specimen en route is the skull of the phororhachos longissimus. For the benefit of those who have not had previous personal introduction it might be said that the latter is described as being "a colossal bird."

Watchman Found Dead.

ALTOONA, PA., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—James Doneghue, aged 64, a watchman employed near the Pennsylvania railroad roundhouse at East Altoona, where a new culvert is being constructed, was found dead early this morning. It is believed he was attacked with apoplexy.

GREAT GUSHER IS STRUCK IN THE INDIAN TERRITORY

T. N. Barnsdall received word from his field man in Indian territory yesterday that the well he was drilling in the Cherokee nation, east of Dewey, in the deep sand territory, had been drilled in and had produced 1,000 barrels the first 24 hours. Mr. Barnsdall and other Pittsburghers are large holders of territory in the vicinity of this well.

Developments in the lower southwest fields failed to furnish anything out of the ordinary. The wells completed were light and inside of defined limits. Gassers figured to some extent in the developments of the day. On Robinson fork, McClellan district, Doddridge county, the Hope Gas Company has drilled its test on the Preston Ashcraft farm through the Gordon and has a fair gasser in that formation. On the same stream and in the same district the Wheeling Natural Gas Company has completed its test on the Etender Hutson farm through the Gordon and has a good gasser. Near Uniontown, Wetzel county, the Hope company has drilled its test on the Henry Utt farm through the Gordon and found that formation barren. It is now drilling to the fourth and fifth sands.

Near Bula, Monongalia county, Carnahan & Co. have recovered the casing from their test on the Alf Sine farm and the well produced 150 barrels the first 24 hours. When drilled into the Big Injun this well showed for a good producer, but the casing was dropped and a long fishing job ensued. North of Mannington, Marion county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 7 on the Sabina Sutton farm through all sands and found nothing but a light show of oil in the fourth sand. The hole filled up 1,700 feet with fluid. In the Salem district, Harrison county, the South Penn has drilled its No. 5 on the A. C. Bailey farm nine feet into the stray sand and has found no oil or gas. Near Bula, Monongalia county, the South Penn has drilled its No. 2 on the Ocela Tennant farm 16 feet into the fourth sand and has found no oil or gas. The indications favor a duster. In the Burning Springs district, Wirt county, William C. Edward & Co. have completed their No. 59 on the Rathbone oil tract and have a light pumper in the second Cow Run sand at a depth of 442 feet.

On the Ohio side, in the Macksburg field, in Washington county, the Washington County Oil Company has completed No. 10 on the George Montgomery farm and has a show for a 10-barrel pumper in the 800-foot sand. In the Payne district, D. A. Dye & Son gave their test on the C. J. Minnick farm a 60-quart shot, but failed to make it produce. It will be abandoned. In the Wolf Creek district, in the same county, Ross Bros. & Co. have completed a test on the George Eisenbeise farm and have a fair gasser in the 100-foot sand.

The new development, south of the Adams pool, in Harrison county, Ohio, is making a very creditable showing. It now has a production of 400 barrels a day and with the wells now drilling should be increased. It is not expected that the pool will be large. It is about one-half mile south of the Adams pool and in the end may prove to be an extension to the old development.

FOURTH AVENUE FIRM WELCOMES ITS FRIENDS

ARONSON-FRIEDMAN OFFICES.

Hundreds of clients and friends of the Aronson-Friedman Company yesterday visited the real estate offices of the firm at 428 Fourth avenue, which are hardly recognizable owing to the renovating which has been in progress two weeks. Carpenters, painters and decorators have made over the entire interior, dividing the space so that the firm members have commodious private offices and making the place one of the coziest and most tasty offices on the avenue. This opening practically marks the end of one year's business for the firm, which was organized in October, 1904, with Ira Aronson as president. Several months ago the interest of Max Friedman in the business was bought by Mr. Aronson and his partner, Morris Aronson, who is now secretary and treasurer of the company. Its capital is $25,000 and during the year it has made a number of large deals. A larger force of salesmen and rent men has lately been secured and some big deals are now pending in the new offices.

WOMEN LEARN TO DRIVE MORE QUICKLY THAN MEN

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Edwin Howlett, "father of coaching in France," as he is called in Paris, known to every American horseman who has ever been abroad, and famous the world over as a whip and instructor, arrived today on the Kron Prinz Wilhelm of the North German Lloyd line on his first trip to America. Mr. Howlett came over to visit his son Morris, and incidentally to see the New York horse show, in the career of which he says he has taken a great interest.

The father of the present head of the house was a Norfolk man, who settled in Paris several years before Mr. Howlett was born, which was 79 years ago. Mr. Howlett's first exploit of note was to drive a coach in the early '40s from Venice to Paris, nearly 2,000 miles, in 52 days. Soon afterward he engaged in the business of teaching driving in Paris.

"I have been in coaching work for more than 40 years," he said, "and as far back as 1865 I taught driving to well-known Americans then living in Paris.

"American women make first-rate drivers. They wish to learn, as they know many of their friends drive well, and they make up their minds to do what they are told. I think they learn rather more quickly than American men."

BROWN-CORLISS COMPANY IN A RECEIVER'S HANDS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

MILWAUKEE, WIS., Nov. 14.—A petition in involuntary bankruptcy against the Brown-Corliss Engine Company of Corliss, Wis., was filed late this afternoon in the office of the clerk of the United States court by the Robert Rom Company of Milwaukee, the Garlack Packing Company and the McGraw Publishing Company of New York.

These firms allege that they have claims against the said Brown-Corliss Engine Company and that none of them has been paid or in any manner secured. The alleged claims aggregate about $3,000.

The petition also sets forth that the said Brown-Corliss Engine Company is insolvent and that within four months past, or on November 4, 1905, the company committed an act of bankruptcy in that it did on said date admit in writing its inability to pay its debts, and its willingness to be adjudged a bankrupt on that ground.

The Brown-Corliss Engine Company was incorporated under the laws of Wisconsin on May 4, 1904, with Walter F. Brown, Walter S. Whiting and Julius Wechselberg incorporators. The capital stock was placed at $1,000,000. The Fidelity Trust Company was appointed receiver of the company by Referee Maxwell.

Fire Destroys Entire Town.

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—A dispatch from Burk, McDowell county, is to the effect that the entire town was destroyed by fire early this morning. Burk is a mining town of 2,000 population about 150 miles from here. More than 100 buildings were destroyed.

NOTABLE CONVERSIONS TO BE DISCOURSED ON

The Rev. W. J. Wright, superintendent of evangelism of the Christian church, with headquarters at Cincinnati, will address today's noon meeting at the old Third Presbyterian church in Sixth avenue, taking for his subject "The Conversion of Cornelius the Centurion." This will be the first of a series of discourses by leading evangelists on great conversions.

A feature of the noon meetings has been the large out-of-town attendance. Among those present yesterday were the Hon. W. M. Cochrane and the Rev. J. Walter Carpenter, Uniontown; the Rev. W. S. Good, Youngstown; the Rev. C. B. Knight, Vanderbilt; Judge John A. Crawford, New Cumberland, W. Va., and numerous others. Mr. Good has made frequent visits to Pittsburgh for the purpose of studying the manner of conducting the revival which is proving such a great success.

The central evangelistic committee has not as yet completed arrangements for the appearance of the Netz Sisters' quartet at the various hospitals. The hospital people want them to come on Sunday afternoons, but as the young women sing at the Nixon theater, it is difficult to arrange a satisfactory time.

CLAIM CONTRACT FOR COURT HOUSE IS ILLEGAL

WILKES-BARRE, PA., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—The Employers' association of this city today asked the court to declare the contract for the erection of the new $1,000,000 court house illegal, because it provides that only union workmen shall be employed where it is possible. The employers contend this is a violation of the Fourteenth amendment of the Constitution, and is un-American in principle. They also declare that most of the delay and trouble over the erection of the new court house has been caused by union labor, and they want an open shop to prevail there instead of the present closed shop.

Run for the Doctor

Some people think it necessary to do so on the slightest occasion——Other people and a great many of them, who are much wiser, very seldom have to call a doctor.

Why?

Because they always have at hand, ready in case of sudden sickness or accident, a bottle of Hamlins Wizard Oil——the best and most reliable substitute for the family doctor, and one that very often makes his presence entirely unnecessary——Wizard Oil relieves immediately, and cures all pain from whatsoever cause. Price, 50c. and $1.00.

PRIMARY ELECTIONS WILL BE CONSIDERED

Allegheny County Legislators Plan to Have New Law Enacted at Next Session.

The Allegheny county members of the state legislature will meet on Saturday afternoon at Republican headquarters in Grant street to discuss prospective action at the extra session of the legislature. The call will be sent out this morning by John H. Henderson of the Second district, who acted as chairman of the Allegheny county delegation in the house last session.

If the plan appears feasible to the majority of those in the caucus on Saturday, some step will be taken to have included in the measures considered at the extra session a new primary election law. Some change in the present ballot law may also be sought. To do something with the primary, however, will be the first object of the Allegheny members, and apparently there will be little or no objection to such revision. Mr. Henderson last night said:

"Since the governor called the extra session I have spoken to a majority of the members of the house from this county and they seem to be in favor of a change in the primary election law. So far as I have gone I have met no one who will oppose such a change. Our plan is to meet on Saturday and have the question thoroughly threshed over. Each one present will tell his views, and then we can arrive at some satisfactory conclusion. There has been no tentative bill draughted for consideration on Saturday and I don't think there will be. We simply intend to talk it over. At present our primary election boards are named by the ward committees. If a bill is introduced into the legislature it ought to have provision in it for a regularly authorized and elected primary election board that would conduct all primary elections. And I think, too, it should provide that all parties have their primaries on the same day. Something of this sort is what the Allegheny delegation in the house seems to favor."

Calve's Reception in Boston.

Mme. Emma Calve's reception in Symphony hall, Boston, last Saturday was of a very enthusiastic nature. After the last number had been sung Calve was cheered and shouted until Calve was obliged to sing six consecutive encores before the people would leave the hall. The concert in Pittsburgh next Monday evening at Carnegie music hall gives every indication of being largely attended, Pittsburgh always having a warm spot for Calve.

Adamanski Withdraws Charge.

John Adamanski, who had brought a charge of aggravated assault and battery against Policeman William T. Barks, yesterday withdrew the accusation, which was before Alderman Groetzinger. Adamanski alleged that two weeks ago Barks called at his house and after an argument about a lawsuit involving a friend of Barks, struck Adamanski on the head with a mace.

TOOK THE CONSTABLE'S BADGE AND HANDCUFFS

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 14.—William McKeam, constable and only officer of Enon Valley, this county, reported to the local police tonight that his home had been robbed of $53, a silver watch and his only pair of handcuffs and his constable's badge. He was given a description of the robber, who was seen leaving the premises by neighbors.

Disasters Follow Meyers' Company.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 15.—Fire broke out about 1 a. m. in the drygoods store of the John G. Meyers Co. After a hard fight it was got under control. The store is one of two temporary stores opened by the Meyers Co. after the collapse of its building last August when 15 persons were killed and a score or more injured.

POSTAL SERVICE IS REORGANIZED

HAS FAR-REACHING EFFECT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Postmaster General Cortelyou today issued an order of far-reaching importance, redistributing the duties of the four assistant postmaster generals, and affecting the entire postal service. The order will carry into effect on December 1 a plan of the postmaster general to consolidate the work by grouping under one bureau all related subjects. The result will be to place under the postmaster general's personal supervision the direction of the postal service; under the first assistant, the post-office personnel and management; under the second assistant, all matters relating to the transportation of the mails; under the third assistant, all matters of postal finances, and under the fourth assistant, the rural free delivery and miscellaneous postal business. The order is as follows:

"It is hereby ordered that the division of appointments, division of bonds and commissions and the division of city free delivery, heretofore under the supervision of the fourth assistant postmaster general, will be transferred and assigned to the first assistant postmaster general; the division of money orders, heretofore under the supervision of the first assistant postmaster general, be transferred and assigned to the third assistant postmaster general; that the division of files and records, under the supervision of the third assistant postmaster general, be abolished and its personnel and work assigned to the office of the chief clerk of that bureau; that the office of the topographer, heretofore under the supervision of the postmaster general, and the division of dead letters and the division of postoffice supplies, heretofore under the supervision of the first assistant postmaster general, be transferred and assigned to the fourth assistant postmaster general; that the division superintendents, the rural agents and the clerks at division headquarters of rural free delivery service, heretofore under the supervision of the fourth assistant postmaster general, be transferred to the postmaster general (division of postoffice inspectors and mail depredations); and that all clerks in the department in handling supplies and in the work incident thereto, shall be transferred and assigned to duty on the division of supplies office of the fourth assistant postmaster general."

Will Group Related Subjects.

This order will carry into effect on December 1 a plan the postmaster general has been perfecting for the reorganization of the postoffice department with the object of consolidating the work and grouping together related subjects in one bureau. This by taking division of appointment, the division of bonds and commissions and the division of city delivery from the fourth assistant and giving them to the first assistant, the latter official will have under his immediate supervision the entire personnel of the postoffices throughout the country, including postmasters, assistant postmasters, clerks, and carriers (except rural carriers), and a great deal of needless correspondence between the two bureaus with serious delays in action arising from a division of the authority, will be avoided.

The office of the second assistant postmaster general will continue to have charge of the great subject of transportation of the mails, and, while its division organization is not affected, the transfer to the first assistant postmaster general of the control of the movement of mails within the jurisdiction of the larger postoffices is contemplated under the order. The office of third assistant postmaster general is affected by the transfer to it of the division of money orders from the office of the first assistant.

The third assistant already has the stamp division, the registry division and the division of postal finance, and the addition of the money order division will bring the principal revenue producing branches of the department under one head. The division of files and records in this is abolished and its personnel and work are assigned to the chief clerk of the bureau, making that official's duties conform to those of similar positions in the other bureaus.

Rural Delivery Changed.

While the office of the fourth assistant postmaster general has had taken from it the preparation of cases for the appointment of postmasters, it gains in having transferred to it the division of dead letters, division of postoffice supplies and the topography office. It will continue to have the rural free delivery service, the growth of which in recent years has been important, and it is here that much can be done in the direction of improved service and economies of administration. In being relieved of the immense task of the appointment and bonding of postmasters and the supervision of the city free delivery service, the fourth assistant can devote a larger share of attention to this newest and in some respects most important branch of the postal service.

The chief postoffice inspector, in addition to the supervision of the inspectors, will hereafter have charge of the rural agents, who, as members of the investigation force of the department, can with great advantage be assigned to the division of inspectors.

The division of supplies is being reorganized and enlarged so as to embrace practically all of the supply work of the department. The order also involves a change in the names of several divisions, so as to secure uniformity and simplicity of designation.

Doesn't Really Need the Money.

The holder of an $800 city bond which expired seven years ago presented it for collection at the city treasurer's office yesterday. It was a water loan extension bond, issued in 1877, ran for 25 years and bore 7 per cent interest. The interest had ceased in 1898, and the holder had let the bond lie in his strong box ever since. He said he did not need the money.

The Delineator for December.

Art, fiction and fashion contribute to make the December Delineator conspicuous among the Christmas magazines. Eight paintings by J. C. Leyendecker, illustrating and interpreting the Twenty-third Psalm, is the most extensive color feature of the number, but a painting by Alphonse Mucha, accompanying a poem, "The Mother of Bartholdus," by Theodosia Garrison, is fully as notable as an art work. The short fiction of the number comprises stories by Hamlin Garland, John Luther Long, Gilbert Parker, and others. The opening chapters of a new serial—a woman's club story—"The President of Quex," are given, it is said to be in the nature of a reply to "The Evolution of a Club Woman," which created great interest in the magazine last year. There is also the continuation of "A Spinster Farm," articles on brass and copper utensils in "The Collector's Manual" and the child at play in "The Rights of the Child." A series of illustrated papers under the title, "Some Heroines of Shakespeare—by Their Impersonators," also begins in this number, with Eleanor Robson as Juliet. The pastimes for children are filled with the spirit of the season, and there is an abundance of matter of housewifely interest.

POSTMASTER GENERAL GEORGE B. CORTELYOU.

He has just announced radical changes in the postoffice department, looking toward the betterment of the service.

WILL INSPECT THE LOCAL TERMINALS

Two Massachusetts Railroad Commissioners Will Investigate Railroad Conditions.

TRAFFIC MEN ARE PROMOTED

That Pittsburgh is a transportation center of the first importance is shown by the fact that two members of the Massachusetts board of railroad commissioners deem a visit here to be the best means for securing an insight into modern railroading. James F. Jackson of Fall River, chairman, and Clinton White of Melrose, a member of the board, are expected in Pittsburgh within a day or two. They will be entertained by Pittsburgh railroad officers and will be shown about the terminals in a special train. They will also be furnished with such data as they may desire regarding the tonnage handled by the roads and that interchanged.

An officer of the Pennsylvania said that the two men would probably be accompanied here by some one from the department of internal revenue of the state, possibly Isaac B. Brown, secretary of internal affairs.

Traffic Appointments Announced.

Official announcement was made yesterday of the appointment of E. B. Wilson as ticket agent of the Baltimore & Ohio at Youngstown. Mr. Wilson will report to James Aiken, who has been freight and passenger agent at Youngstown for a long time. Mr. Wilson has been agent at Zelienople, but no successor has been named for this office. It was also announced that P. P. Bashaw, who has been telegraph operator at Bakerstown, has been appointed agent at Fitzhenry to succeed William Welch, who was transferred to the telegraph department.

W. H. Newton, who has been associated with Division Freight Agent W. Owen Davis of the American Steel and Wire Company in this city for some time, has been appointed soliciting freight agent of the Rock Island-Frisco system in this city, to succeed James Duggan, who has become chief clerk to Traffic Manager R. H. Thompson of the Oil Well Supply Company. Mr. Newton is well known among the traffic men, having formerly served in the traffic department of the H. J. Heinz Company.

Schedule Determined by Popular Vote.

The passenger department of the Pennsylvania lines pursued a novel course to determine whether the Pennsylvania special, the 3-hour flyer, should be maintained on the present schedule and should arrive at New York and Chicago as at present. Votes were taken for several days of through passengers on cards provided for the purpose. The total number of preferences in the matter of arrival at destination was 504. Of this number 467 voted to have the train arrive at Chicago at 8:55 a. m., as now, while 31 voted for 8:30 o'clock and others voted for later morning hours. For arrival at New York, at 9:45 o'clock a. m., as at present, there were 420 votes, while 81 wanted the time to be 9 o'clock and 22 desired the arrival at 8:45. The large majorities determined the management to continue the present schedules. The passenger department has just issued a neat booklet giving the entire vote and also containing a number of appreciative expressions about the train.

P. R. R. Agents Visit Johnstown.

One of the largest and most interesting meetings ever held by the Order of Railroad Agents of the Pittsburgh division of the Pennsylvania railroad was held at Johnstown last Sunday with between 100 and 125 agents and clerks present. After the meeting dinner was served at the Crystal cafe, owned by the Cambria Steel Company. The rest of the day was spent in sightseeing and visiting friends. These meetings are being well attended, the agents making a strong effort to keep the "standard railroad of the world" in the lead. A banquet will be given this coming month at some point on the Pittsburgh division.

Old Story Is Revived.

The old project of having an immense freight yard occupy the property formerly used by the East Liberty stock yards and having the Baltimore & Ohio build a line from Homestead through Fern Hollow to this property, for use together with the Pennsylvania, was revived yesterday by Director Bigelow, of the department of public works. It has been announced by Pennsylvania officers that the old stock yard property is to become a railroad yard, but this is to be used for passenger cars and not for freight, as it would not be large enough for consideration in the latter way.

D. & R. G. as the "Stork Line."

Central Passenger Agent John R. James has received an interesting letter regarding the Denver & Rio Grande railroad. It is said that Maj. S. K. Hooper, general passenger agent of the road, is thinking of changing the well known catch phrase, "The Scenic Line," to "The Stork Line." Within the last three months four babies have discovered America on Denver & Rio Grande trains—two in the Royal Gorge, one at Tennessee Pass, the very crest of the continent, and one in Utah.

Immigration Increases 46 Per Cent.

According to a circular issued by the Western Passenger association, in which the number of aliens and citizen steerage passengers arriving at the port of New York in the first nine months of 1905 is shown, gives the information that this immigration increased 236,448 persons, or 45.33 per cent, as compared with the same period of 1904. In the nine months of 1904 there were 302,456 aliens and 12,560 citizens, and in 1905 there were 611,120 aliens and 10,400 citizens.

Railroad Notes.

H. A. Talbott has resigned as passenger agent of the Burlington in this city, and left last night for Chicago.

Steel for the Baltimore & Ohio bridge over the Monongahela river at Houit, near Fairmont, has been delivered, but the bridge will not be completed for several months.

Wabash officers met here yesterday for the regular weekly staff meeting. On account of the absence of Vice President Worthington in the west no meeting was held last week.

General Passenger Agent Moody and other Pennsylvania lines' officers yesterday inspected the new Niles-Ravenna cut-off, which will be used by new trains between here and Cleveland after November 26.

Work is being rushed on the construction of nine steel bridges on the Coal & Coke railroad between Pinchton and Jacksonville, W. Va., which is the only gap in the new district between Elkins and Charleston.

Robert Pitcairn and General Superintendent A. M. Schoyer of the Pennsylvania have gone to New York to attend a meeting of the train rules committee of the American Railway association for the next three days.

The Lake Shore has been asked by the railway postoffice authorities to carry a mail clerk on the Twentieth Century limited, so as to assort the mail and not require its being sent through the New York office. The train shortens the mail route about four hours.

Assistant General Passenger Agent Tristram says the Wabash will have one of the largest excursions ever carried out of Massillon today. There the whole city will travel by special trains to Cleveland with the "Tigers," a professional football team of that city, to play with the Carlisle Indians.

Two Great Northern railway officers are touring the eastern traffic offices of the country and are expected in Pittsburgh in a few days to confer with District Passenger Agent L. D. Kitchell and General Agent Harry Dow. They are both vice presidents Campbell, who heads the traffic department, and Passenger Traffic Manager Whitney.

TO GET MORE CARRIERS.

Pittsburgh Postoffic Will Secure Additional Service Shortly.

Assistant Postmaster G. A. Holliday, who returned from Washington yesterday, where he interviewed postoffice officials regarding additional carriers and the installation of a pneumatic tube system, stated he was assured that five or six additional clerks and as many carriers would be added to the service.

He was told that the pneumatic tube service was favored for Pittsburgh, but was informed that the present appropriation would hardly permit of it at this time.

THE THREE RIVERS

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—At 6 p. m. the Ohio river was 12.8 feet and falling. Today's departures of packets from Cincinnati are: Virginia, Pittsburgh; Tacoma, Pomeroy; Courier, Marysville, and City of Cincinnati, Louisville. The Indiana has been withdrawn from the Louisville and Cincinnati trade. The United States government lighthouse tender Golden Rod is along the lower rivers on her semi-annual inspection, supply and pay trip among the tenders of lights along the Ohio and tributaries. The boat will be back in about six weeks. The Peters Lee, the first boat of the season out of the lower rivers will arrive here early Wednesday morning and will leave at 3 p. m. The Kanawha fleet arrived today with tows of coal. The arrivals were the Belle Marmet, Val P. Collins, Robert F. Gilbarn, and W. B. Calderwood. Clear and cooler.

LOUISVILLE—Stationary. In canal 5 feet; on falls, 2.8; below locks, 9.0. Clear and cold.

OIL CITY—Two feet 9 inches and stationary. Clear and cold.

GREENSBORO—Seven feet 2 inches and stationary. Clear and cold. Rose Hite down Wednesday, Columbia up.

MARIETTA—Seven and half and falling. Clear, cold. Keystone State down 4 p. m., Ben Hur up 5 p. m.

GALLIPOLIS—Seven feet and falling. Clear and cool.

MORGANTOWN—Six feet 10 inches and stationary. Clear.

POINT PLEASANT—Seven feet 1 inch and falling. Clear. Down—Sam A. Couner. Up—Greenland.

WARREN—Two feet 4 inches and stationary. Cold and cloudy.

PARKERSBURG—Eight and five feet and falling. Clear and cool. The Keystone State left for Cincinnati, Ben Hur for Pittsburgh, Bessie Smith for Wheeling, Valley Belle for Middleport, French for Creston, Rayman for Rockingport, Kate Die for Belleville.

WHEELING—Seven feet 1 inch and falling. Clear and cool. Departed—Queen City, Pittsburgh, 1 a. m.; Keystone State, Cincinnati, 8 a. m.; H. K. Bedford, Parkersburg, 11 a. m.; Jewel, Newport, 11 a. m.

STEUBENVILLE—Six feet 8 inches and falling. Clear and cool. Up—Queen City.

AFTER A LOCAL STEAMER.

Several Outside Parties Want to Buy the Francis J. Torrance.

The stage of water at Davis Island dam at 8 o'clock last night was 5.6 feet, and the river was falling.

The steamer Francis J. Torrance will probably be sold to outside parties before spring, as several concerns are contemplating the purchase. Lee H. Brooks, president, and J. M. McIntyre, secretary, of the Coney Island Amusement Company of Cincinnati, have been in Pittsburgh looking over the Torrance with a view to buying her for the summer trade between Cincinnati and their resort, the idea being to run the Torrance as a sister ship to the Island Queen, the large steamer which now takes care of the summer trade. A few days ago representatives of the Acme Packet Company of Rock Island, Ill., were in the city looking at the Torrance.

The Queen City arrived last evening on her first trip of the season from Cincinnati. She presents a very handsome appearance, having been completely overhauled and a number of improvements made. She will leave on the returning trip this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The packet Rose Hite of the Morgantown line started on her first trip yesterday afternoon, having taken the place of the I. C. Woodward. She was inspected yesterday morning by government inspectors.

Cause of Headaches

You must look well after the condition of your liver and bowels. Unless there is daily action of the bowels, poisonous products are absorbed, causing headaches, biliousness, nausea, dyspepsia. Ayer's Pills are liver pills, mildly laxative.

"Having already passed my threescore years and ten, I still find myself relying upon Ayer's Pills for my unruly and disordered stomach. They have always given me relief, and I could not get along without them."—A. J. Goff, Boulder, Colo.

WEDDING PARTY MURDERED.

Six Bulgarians Are Shot and Fifteen Are Burned to Death by Greeks in European Turkey.

SALONICA, Nov. 14.—Disturbances and encounters between Greek and Bulgarian bands continue. Bulgarians were killed by troops yesterday in the village of Dragos. Greeks last night shot and killed six Bulgarians who were members of a wedding party near Florina.

The Greeks then set fire to the building in which the wedding was being celebrated and 15 persons, mostly women and children, were burned to death or fatally injured.

Studies in Graft

Charles A. Hamilton writes to McClure's Magazine:

"You have given us studies in graft; you have made possible the present uprising all over the country against the Boss; you have vivisected the trusts. We feel that there is a broad educational purpose behind your magazine beyond mere money-getting."

MONEY MARKET EASED OFF; STOCKS RALLIED SHARPLY

Rates for Call Loans Declined from 18 to 5 Per Cent and Sterling Was Lower—Local Securities Dull and Irregular.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The New York stock market yesterday recovered much of the loss caused by the liquidation of last week and Monday, and closed at the highest prices of the day. The movement was due to the covering of shorts, to the revived courage of some of the bull pools, and to the easier tone of the money market. Rates for call loans did not get above 18 per cent, and at the close declined to 5 per cent, at which the final loan was negotiated. The calling of loans by the banks throughout the day continued on a large scale, but borrowers did not experience the same difficulty in renewals as on Monday. There was an increase in the volume of trading during the afternoon, and the sales for the day foot up 812,200 shares.

There was some irregularity to the early dealings, and liquidation continued on the higher prices caused by the buying for account of London. There were also several flurries in the market based upon unfounded reports concerning the action of the treasury department. The cabinet at Washington was in session during the day, and Wall street had a report that the monetary situation was under discussion. After the meeting adjourned Secretary Shaw stated that there was nothing to say regarding the money market. There was also a rumor early in the session that the secretary had announced his intention of depositing $25,000,000 government money in the banks of the west and south, and the rumor became specific enough to specify the Chicago banks in which deposits had been or would be made. A prompt denial came from Chicago. It was also regarded as a little significant that so far as known no bank had acted upon Secretary Shaw's hint that he was ready to relieve the situation upon the request of any national bank that could furnish proof that the mercantile or commercial interests were suffering from the results of the stringency prevailing in Wall street. The action of the comptroller of the currency in calling upon the national banks for a statement of condition at the close of business November 9 will furnish the opportunity for ascertaining the real condition of the money market all over the country.

The course of several of the specialties in the stock market indicated that the bull pools were not suffering any particular hardship. Railway Steel Springs was taken in hand and advanced from 58¾ to 61½, the highest price in the history of the corporation, and a very fair price for a 4 per cent industrial common stock. American Locomotive common and Allis-Chalmers common and preferred were also bid up sharply. Cast Iron Pipe scored a net gain of 1¾ per cent and American Car and Foundry an advance of 1½ per cent. The United States Steel issues were firm all day and closed ½@¾ per cent higher. Amalgamated Copper had the benefit of a very strong foreign market for the metal and an advance of an eighth of a cent a pound in domestic markets.

In the railroad list special strength was displayed by Reading, Union Pacific, St. Paul, Canadian Pacific and the Missouri, Kansas & Texas issues. London was a buyer of the latter and also of Union Pacific. The pool in Reading had no difficulty in rallying the stock from 133⅜ to 135½, and the close was strong at 137⅜. Brooklyn Rapid Transit was the strongest of the transactions and advanced from 70¾ to 73¾, closing at the top.

The final rally in the market had the benefit of a further decline in sterling exchange rates and the announcement of the receipts of $1,200,000 gold from Canada, which was evidently shipped to New York to take advantage of the high call loan rates. Conservative bankers and brokers, however, still maintain that the money situation has not yet righted itself, and were cautioning the public against buying securities on the rallies engineered by bull pools.

The local stock market remained dull and irregular, but the tendency was downward, and closing prices showed more losses and gains. Westinghouse Electric rallied to 85½, a gain of 1½, and United States Steel common closed at 26⅜, an advance of ¾ per cent. Luster Mining was a strong feature and rallied 1½ points to 3½. Small lots of Consolidated Ice changed hands at 5½ for the common and 38½ for the preferred, an advance in each instance. Everything else either closed lower or unchanged for the day. Pittsburgh Oil and Gas sold at 55 to 56, but just before the close was bid up to 57⅜. Manufacturers Light and Heat declined to 34½ and Ohio Fuel Supply declined to 37½. There were no transactions in or quotations on Philadelphia Company stocks. For the first time in several weeks there were no dealings in Crucible Steel common. The preferred closed steady and unchanged at 66¼. The Coal stocks were weak. Pittsburgh Coal preferred declined to and closed at 53½, and River Coal preferred declined ½ point to 23, closing offered at that price. Independent Brewing preferred was moderately active at 40¾ to 40⅞, but the other members of the group were neglected. Pittsburgh Brewing bonds declined ¼ to 113⅜, while Independent Brewing bonds closed unchanged at 107¼.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The call of the comptroller of the currency for a report of the condition of the national banks as of November 9, was not unexpected. The banks have been looking for the call for some time past. Taking all but four of the national banks of the city of Pittsburgh proper, it will be noticed in the subjoined comparison that there has been an increase of a little more than $500,000 in loans and discounts since the reports of August 25 last, and a decrease of a little more than $1,100,000 in total deposits. The figures for the four banks whose statements have not yet appeared will not materially change the showing as to net change in the two items. It may therefore be stated that the loans and discounts of the national banks of Pittsburgh are now at the maximum in their history, while the total deposits are probably not more than a million below the maximum reported last August. Following are the comparisons:

	Loans. Aug. 25, 1905.	Loans. Nov. 9, 1905.

The actual situation of the New York money market yesterday was considerably ameliorated as compared with Monday. The liquidation effected of course was a factor in the strengthening of the banking position. Large loans placed by foreign capitalists also played a part. Reports were current that placing of Canadian funds and the movement of gold to New York from Canadian points were factors at work in the money situation. The circulation of rumors also continued of ultimate intervention by the secretary of the treasury to ease the situation in case of any threat of dangerous consequences, although the reiterated intention of the secretary to confine any intended relief measures to the needs of regular business borrowers was again reported from Washington.

Besides all this there was a growth of a feeling that the situation did not call for an extensive building up of reserves by the banks at this time. It was considered that the deficit in the legal reserve requirement established on Saturday left the percentage of total reserves to deposit liabilities at 24.76 per cent, while the percentage of total reserves ever since the first of September, with the exception of the week ending October 21, and that ended October 8, has been below 25 per cent. The actual change in the condition of the banks, therefore, was not enough aside from the sentimental effect of the existence of an actual deficit in legal reserves. Speculative feeling was disposed to the view that the banks were not called upon at this time to go further than to repair the actual deficit.

The pressure upon the money market at this time is recognized as due entirely to the active business conditions, supplemented by the speculative demand based on confidence in the general business situation. These conditions explain the extraordinary expansion to which credits of the banks have been extended and these same conditions are looked to to maintain confidence in the great volume of outstanding credits. Nothing like distrust has been cited as the cause for any of the loan contractions which has been put into force but simply the limitation of resources to meet the extraordinary demands for credits. However, the demand upon New York bank reserves continued, the operations with the subtreasury since the last bank statement having withdrawn already $1,421,000 from the banks.

There was a further advance yesterday in that class of government bonds which would probably be in demand for use to secure additional government deposits. On call in New York the 2s and the old 4s advanced ½ and the 3s ½ per cent, while the new 4s declined ⅛ per cent.

One of the interesting features disclosed by a cursory examination of the statements of the local national banks is the change that has taken place in the holdings of investment securities. Since the 25th of last August the holdings of the Second National have decreased $571,220, and those of the Farmers Deposit National have decreased $470,126. Within the same period the Mellon National has increased its holdings of stocks, bonds and other securities by $432,912.

The deposits of the Mellon National made a large increase between calls and now foot up the largest total in its history, which is the largest total for any national bank in this end of the state. The total resources of the Mellon fall only slightly below $25,000,000.

Among the local curb transactions reported yesterday was the sale of 4 o'clock of 10,000 shares Ohio Tonopah at 29 cents a share, buyer 60 days.

In the Boston market yesterday North Butte made a new high record. It was a matter of comment that while brokers insisted upon unusually wide margins on purchases of the stock, and in some instances required the full purchase price to accompany buying orders, the demand was not affected. There was also a report that the earnings of the company for October approximated $300,000.

The gross earnings of Allegheny Valley for September increased $15,823 and net earnings increased $81,215. For the nine months ended with September gross earnings increased $799,-391 and net increased $720,453.

Scully, Painter & Beech this week put in a new private wire to Boston in order to meet the requirements of an increasing interest on the part of Pittsburgh traders in the Boston copper market.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Western Insurance company yesterday the following directors were elected: John S. Jackson, Edwin H. Stowe, Wm. H. Wolfe, Charles A. Painter, David P. Black, George W. J. Bissell, W. H. Nimick, H. S. A. Stewart, James H. Lockhart, J. J. Heinz, Frank Semple, John E. Hurford, John Woodwell.

Secretary W. W. Chaplin, of the Pittsburgh stock exchange, denies that any securities will be sold at auction for account of whom it may concern at the exchange on Friday. He says that no arrangements have been made with the exchange for any such sale.

The Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke company has secured the contracts for coal needed by the Cincinnati and St. Louis Illuminating Gas companies.

Gross earnings of Southern Railway for the first week in November increased $55,926. For the same week Louisville and Nashville increased $22,306.

The New York bond market was quite active in spots yesterday. Sales of Japanese issues foot up $1,485,000. The Japanese government has decided to immediately issue a new foreign loan of $250,000,000 at 4 per cent, which will be used partly for converting the external 6 per cent loan and partly for the redemption of the internal loans. Wabash debenture Bs sold to the extent of $806,000 and the price advanced from 73½ to 78½. Sales of United States Steel 5s foot up $234,000.

The Central District and Printing Telegraph company announces that 10,000 shares of treasury stock, with a par value of $1,000,000, is offered to stockholders at par ($100). The company is capitalized at $15,000,000 and $10,000,000 is outstanding. Stockholders of record November 20 will have a right to subscribe for the new stock on a basis of one share of new stock for every 10 shares of the old held. The right to subscribe expires January 18, 1906, and payment must be made on or before January 31, 1906. The certificates will be issued as soon as possible after February 1, 1906.

W. H. Whitfield Invests $42,500 in Fine Sites—John Goettman's $16,000 Purchase.

DOWNTOWN CORNER DEAL

Coyle Bros. were the agents in three Squirrel Hill deals of unusual interest, the total of which is $42,500. The purchaser of all three properties is William H. Whitfield, who has been for two years perhaps the foremost Squirrel hill builder. For Kennedy Crunerine Coyle Bros. sold to him 300x120 feet fronting in Hobart and Douglass streets, between Shady and Murray avenues. He secured from Robert Jenkins 300x120 feet facing on the south side of Hobart street, near Shady avenue, and from A. M. Neeper he purchased 200x120 feet on the north side of Hobart street, in the same square. The average cost of the sites was $50 a front foot. This does not include the assessment for paving, sewering and curbing, amounting to nearly $10 a front foot, which the buyer assumes.

Previously Mr. Whitfield had secured the property of the Coraopolis National bank, 225 feet in Douglass street; the O. O. Page lot, 225 feet in Hobart street, and the F. B. Mirick property, facing 75 feet in Hobart street and 50 feet in Douglass street. The price for these was somewhat less than he paid in his last deals. This gives him a total of 1,075 feet in Hobart and Douglass streets, between Murray and Shady avenues, all of which has a depth of 120 feet and practically means that he controls the square so far as making a desirable residence neighborhood is concerned. To further this object Mr. Whitfield will at once proceed to the improving of more of the lots, none of which will be less than 50 feet wide. Cellars have already been started for four center-hall brick houses, which will cost about $15,000 each, and a dozen or more of the remaining lots will be improved the same way in the spring. Mr. Whitfield's success in Squirrel hill dealing is evidenced by the fact that of the 14 houses he has built there within two years every one has been disposed of, the prices ranging from $10,500 to $21,000 each.

John Goettman Buys $16,000 Site.

Another deal on Squirrel hill that is pretty sure to result in a substantial improvement is the purchase by John Goettman of 123x200 feet in Wightman street, which belonged to W. J. Langenheim. The price was $16,000, and the deal is credited to James H. Thompson. The site faces on the west side of the street, between Darlington road and Bartlett street, and has been the only two other lots in that square, the A. H. Burchfield site and the lot of Attorney J. M. Shields. It is only one square from the costly residence which was erected last summer by the late Jacob Kaufmann. Mr. Goettman is contemplating the erection of a $20,000 house near the center of the plot.

Three other small deals for residence sites on the hill show how well the buying movement is established there this fall. Through the office of Coyle Bros. Henry A. Schrader has bought from John C. and W. H. Logan 30x120 feet in Hobart street, near Murray avenue, for $2,500, as a site for a residence to cost $8,000 or $10,000. The same brokers sold for A. P. and A. Z. Brown to Frank Pearson of the Commercial Sash and Door Company 50x150 feet on the south side of Irwin avenue, between Murray and Shady avenues, for $5,000. The purchaser, who assumes the street improvements, will build a $15,000 house on the site.

Harvey H. Smith has sold to an unknown purchaser 100x130 feet on the north side of Irwin avenue, between Barnesdale avenue and Beechwood boulevard, for a price approximating $75 a front foot. It is said this site will be improved with a handsome house.

Lit on the Wrong Corner.

Two morning papers yesterday published an account of an alleged sale of property at Smithfield street and Strawberry alley for $300,000, which was said to belong to the John Daub estate. The Daub property, 60x90 feet, referred to is at the southwest corner of Smithfield street and Seventh avenue, and has not been sold nor is any deal pending for it, according to one of the trustees of the estate. The rumor of such a sale probably originated from the fact that the Anglo-American Incandescent Gas Light Company, the reported spender of the $300,000, had closed for the purchase of the two-year lease on the first floor of the Daub building at 648 Smithfield street, corner of Seventh avenue, which is now occupied by the Herman Sorg cigar store. The Gas Light company is already the tenant of the upper floors of this building and the building in the rear on Seventh avenue. The Sorg lease runs two years from next April and is at the rate of $2,000 a year.

A deal which is pending for property in this neighborhood is that for the Ellen C. Speer holdings at Smithfield street and Liberty avenue. The property is irregular in shape. One lot facing in Smithfield street is 20x90 feet. The other four lots comprise a triangle, facing 87 feet in Liberty avenue and measuring 60 feet on each of the other sides. The plot contains about 3,500 square feet. It is reported that a price of $500,000 is put upon the property, but this considerably more than has ever been mentioned before. The five store buildings on the lot are ramshackle two-story structures, which are said to be rented for about $10,000 a year. Recently this property has been offered to several local investors, and it is reported that the present prospective buyer is a big restaurant concern in New York.

Commonwealth Competition Closed.

Five architects are eagerly awaiting the decision of the building committee of the Commonwealth Trust Company on five sets of plans and watercolor perspectives which were safely hidden in the private offices of the Commonwealth yesterday. The competition for the 16-story skyscraper which will be erected on the site of the Dalimeyer building next spring is closed, and the award in the competition will be announced in a few days, as the officials are anxious to get ahead with the work as rapidly as possible. The fact that two skyscrapers are to be erected adjoining each other in Fourth avenue next year assures one thing, a congestion of that narrow street that will be even harder to overcome than when the Arrott, Peoples and Keystone buildings were being erected three years ago, for the business on the avenue is much greater now than then.

The Lion Brewing Company has chosen Engineer V. Wyss Thalman to design the brewery which it proposes to build in Allegheny at a cost of $500,000.

Edward Brown, treasurer of the Allegheny market, is having plans prepared for a brick and stone residence which he will build at Perrysville avenue and Charles street, Allegheny, at a cost of about $15,000.

The board of education has secured the deed to the new high school site, the former Judge Magee property, in Forbes street, adjoining th Technical school, the price named in the deed being $200,000 for 9.006 acres. The plot fronts 447 feet in Forbes street and 444 feet in Boundary street.

More Business Leases Announced.

Avey & Irish have leased for Charles O'Brien to the Shaw-Cassidy Company, advertising writers, the second, third and fourth floors of the building at 539 Wood street for three years at $1,500 a year. The Shaw-Cassidy Company is now in the Farmers' bank building and will move to its new location April 1. In the present tenant, the Reno Shorthand school, having secured a large suite of rooms in the Wabash station building through the same brokers.

The Aronson-Friedman company has closed the lease to the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company of the five-story Rosenthal block at 905 Fifth avenue. The rate is $5,000 a year, dating from December 1.

It appears that Mr. G. Shull acted for the purchaser in the sale of the one-half acre of land belonging to the Schenley Farms Company, which was noted yesterday, the seller being represented by the Commonwealth Real Estate Company.

Squirrel hill: Keck, Heile & Daschbach sold to J. C. W. Greth a 10-room house on 30x100 feet in Linden avenue, near Beechwood boulevard, Twenty-second ward, for $7,000, for a home.

Lawrenceville: Edward McDonald sold to Mrs. Margaret A. Cahill an improved lot, 15x100 feet, on the west side of Forty-fourth street, Seventeenth ward, for $2,850.

Kirkpatrick street: S. Arnold & Co. sold for Dr. G. H. Vaux three frame houses on 38x66 feet in Kirkpatrick street for $5,000.

Coraopolis heights: The John R. Ewing Company, owner of the Union Realty Company, sold for Attorney W. L. McConagly to William C. Amos 7.75 acres on the new macadamized road, Coraopolis heights, for $5,000. The buyer will build a $15,000 summer residence on the site.

Adolph Goldberg, a Fifth avenue, McKeesport merchant, yesterday closed a deal with Louise Raden of the same city whereby Goldberg becomes the owner of a Fifth avenue property, near Huey street, for $18,000, or about 22½ cents a foot front. The lot fronts 25 feet on Fifth avenue and has a depth of 100 feet. The property is occupied by a two-story frame and brick building which is used for store and dwelling purposes. The new owner had plans for the improvement of the property with a large business block.

Adam Hoffman, manager of the real estate department of the Manchester Savings Bank and Trust Company, has sold for G. U. Gerwig, cashier of the Bank for Secured Savings, his property at 1739 Beaver avenue, Allegheny, on which is a three-story brick warehouse, for $5,850. The purchaser, David Hirsch, has bought for investment.

New Buildings Are Assured.

The following building permits were issued in Allegheny yesterday: Two-story brick school house, Hamilton street, for Church of the Holy Name, $30,000; two-story dwelling, Winthrop and Cambridge streets, Barton Grubbs, $5,000; two-story brick dwelling, Ellwood avenue, F. R. Bothwell, $3,600; two-story frame dwelling, Euclid avenue, William Montgomery, $3,000.

Building permits were issued in Pittsburgh yesterday to R. K. Cramer for 12 two-story brick dwellings in Howard street, Thirteenth ward, to cost $10,800; A. Pew, two-story brick veneered store and dwelling in Frankstown avenue, Thirty-seventh ward, to cost $5,000; E. F. Guthrie, two two-story brick dwellings in Sheridan avenue, Nineteenth ward, to cost $22,000; Joseph Wilkins, three two-story frame dwelling in the rear of Cypress street, Twentieth ward, to cost $8,200, and the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, one-story brick pump house in South Smithfield street, Thirtieth ward, to cost $1,500.

Visible Supply of Grain.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Special cable and telegraphic communications received by Bradstreets show the following changes in available supplies as compared with last report: Wheat—United States and Canada, east of the Rockies, increased, 2,480,000 bushels. Afloat for and in Europe, decreased, 1,400,000. Total supply decreased, 1,080,000 bushels. Corn—United States and Canada, east of the Rockies, increased, 840,000 bushels. Oats—United States and Canada, east of the Rockies, increased, 167,000 bushels. The leading increases reported this week are 387,000 bushels in Manitoba, 144,000 bushels at the Chicago private elevators, 125,000 bushels at Rochester, 75,000 bushels at the Minneapolis private elevators, 65,000 bushels at Cleveland, and 54,000 bushels at Portland, Me. The leading decreases are 150,000 bushels at the Milwaukee private elevators, 125,000 bushels at Omaha, and 114,000 bushels at Louisville.

THANKSGIVING TURKEY PLENTIFUL AND CHEAP

Supply Is Large This Year and No Advance in Price Is Expected.

There is a possibility of lovers of turkey for Thanksgiving dinner being able to buy their favorite fowl this year at a much lower price than heretofore. There has been no change in the price of turkeys for several weeks. Of course, there is no telling what will transpire between now and the 30th of the month, but the general outlook this year favors the buyer to a great extent. The supply is very good and each day brings in fresh arrivals. A large number of shipments are made from down the river by boat. Chickens are also cheap this year and there is a large supply of dressed poultry.

Potatoes and apples continue to command good prices, with the supply rather weak for extra fine stock. Southern sweet potatoes remain about the same, with little change predicted.

There has been no change in the flour or coffee market for several days, and sugar is also remaining about the same. A drop in price is looked for with lima beans, and the predicted famine is thought to have passed.

The egg market continues to be a bone of contention among produce men, but the prices are as quoted. Strictly fresh nearby eggs are commanding a very good price.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts yesterday were: Pennsylvania lines, 14½ cars corn, 32 cars hay, 21½ cars oats, 7 cars feed and 1 car rye. Baltimore & Ohio, 5 cars corn, 9 cars hay and 3 cars oats. Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 16 cars hay and 1 car corn.

The market was easier yesterday, as receipts were heavier, but this condition is not expected to exist long, as cars are scarce and there is a good demand in the east. Clover and mixed hay are lower in price. Straw continues scarce.

The Wool Market.

BOSTON, Nov. 14.—The wool market is generally dull but firm. Territory wools have moved moderately with neeces quiet. California and Texas short wools have met with a fair demand. Contracting for the 1906 slip is quiet, growers' views being generally too high for eastern operators. In pulled wools, supers and staple wools are steadily sought, but supplies are light. Foreign grades are firm. The Drygoods Market.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The drygoods market today was active and although buyers in many instances were not willing to place orders for very late delivery, yet the strong situation with reference to deliveries made many anxious to secure goods to cover the requirements. The carpet sale continues a feature with large attendance and active buying.

POURING IN WESTERN CASH.

OMAHA, NEB., Nov. 14.—Over a million dollars has been sent to New York by Omaha banks to be invested in call loans. One institution alone sent $250,000. The reserve in Omaha banks has greatly increased in volume recently, and is being sent east for profitable investment.

One banker said that this is the first instance where western banks have been material factors in supplying the east with money, the conditions heretofore having been just the reverse. Other cities, he said, were also loaning large amounts of money in the east.

WHEAT MARKET GAINS LOSSES OF MONDAY

Cold and Wet Weather in Argentina Responsible for the Improvement.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—The wheat market today showed a complete reversal of feeling from yesterday. It was bullish throughout the entire session today, and 24 hours ago the sentiment was in favor of a decline. Cold, wet weather in Argentina was one of the chief factors contributing to the strong market today. At the close prices were practically at the highest point of the day, with the May option up ⅝@¾c. Corn and oats were each up ⅝c. Provisions were 5 to 10c lower.

Initial quotations in the wheat market showed fair gains, the May option being up 1⅜@⅝ to ⅞c at 83¼ to 83½@83¾c. The market at the opening was influenced mainly by the unexpected strength at Liverpool, the weakness of yesterday at Chicago having apparently little effect on the English market. According to a foreign statistician the advance at Liverpool was the result of reports from Argentina to the effect that much damage had been wrought to the wheat crops in the northern districts by rains followed by frost. There was, accordingly, less uneasiness here over the money situation in New York. This lack of anxiety was generally attributed to the fact that the majority of the weak holders had disposed of their lines in the general liquidation of the last few days. As the session advanced reports of improved buying of foreign demand gave impetus to the upward tendency of prices. At New York 29 boatloads were reported taken for exports while a similar amount was said to have been shipped from Duluth to Great Britain. Strength of cash wheat at Minneapolis resulting from an urgent demand from millers was a further incentive to the purchase of options. Another bullish influence was the comparatively small increase in the world's visible supply. As shown by Bradstreet's available stocks increase was only about 1,090,000 bushels for the week compared with an increase of 8,500,000 bushels for the corresponding week of last year.

The liberal primary movements in the United States was apparently ignored. Throughout the day shorts and commission houses were active bidders. Offerings at times were light at 83⅝@83¾c. May reached the highest point of the day. Final quotations were at 83¾c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 581,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 1,430,000 bushels, compared with 904,000 bushels one year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 1,587 cars against 752 cars last year.

The corn market ruled firm throughout the day. A feature of trading was the persistent buying by a prominent commission house that for the last few days has been one of the leading sellers. Shorts also were active buyers. A bullish factor was a message from Kansas declaring that feeders were advancing their bids for corn almost daily. Export demand showed more animation and this increased the bullish sentiment. The market closed strong, final quotations being almost at the highest point of the day. May opened ⅛ to ¼c higher and closed at 45¾c. Local receipts were 299 cars, with five of contract grade.

The volume of trading in oats was small, but the market held firm in sympathy with the strength of wheat and corn. Small local receipts estimated for tomorrow had a bullish influence. Fair export demand was also a factor. May opened unchanged to ⅛c higher at 32¾@32¾c, advanced to 33⅛@33⅜c and closed at 33⅛c. Local receipts were 272 cars.

Provisions were weak as a result of continued selling of lard by local packers. Shorts were the chief buyers. A decline of 10c in the price of live hogs had a depressing effect on the price of all other products. At the close May pork was down 10c at $12 67½, lard was off 5c at $6 97½, ribs were 5@7½c lower at $6 72½. Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 158 cars; corn, 210 cars; oats, 105 cars; hogs, 42,000 head.
